HABEAS CORPUS.—A Baltimore dispatch says Judge Giles, in the United States District Court recently, had up the important habeas corpus case of Ralph Abercrombie, who is held by General Wooley, charged with being a spy and with desertion to the enemy: also with giving testimony to a rebel court martial in Richmond, on which testimony Capt. Deaton, of the United States army, was wrongfully convicted and executed.

Judge Giles decided in favor of the military autority, remanding him back to custody for military trial, as he belonged to the United States service, and he could not set aside the habeas corpus.

Abercrombie will soon be tried by Court martial. He was a Lieutenant in the old U. S. army.

SOMETHING PERHAPS MORE THAN A MISTAKE.—It seems that ex-Gov. Isham G. Harris of Tennessee has made a blunder, or something worse, in stating that recently he had an interview with the Emperor and Empress of Mexico at the imperial palace—"the far-famed halls of the Montezumas." The man he saw at the palace, according to his own statement, was obliged to employ a lady as an interpreter; but a note from William A. Buffum, formerly Consul of the United States at Trieste, who knew the Emperor abroad, establishes the fact that Maximilian speaks English, as he does the other modern languages, perfectly well, and could not, therefore, have required an interpreter.

A GREAT RAILROAD COMPANY.—The Reading (Pa.) Railroad Company, it is stated, contemplate placing four tracks on their road—two for passengers and two for freight. They have now three tracks over a good portion of the road. They have recently made valuable purchases of property at Bridgeport, Conshobocken, Pottstown and other way stations, with the intention of erecting large passenger and freight depots. Very heavy purchases of real estate have been made in Reading, and the erection of very extensive shops is now in progress and in part completed. When all the shops are completed, they will extend a mile in length.

— A parrot in a confectionery store at Waterbury, Conn., has been taught to say "pretty creature" to each lady who enters the store. The result is, that the store is crowded all day—to see the parrot, of course, not to listen to its flattery.

VINELAND
FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.
In a mild and healthful climate. Thirty miles south of Philadelphia by Railroad, in New Jersey, on the same line of latitude as Baltimore, Md.
The soil is rich and productive, varying from a clay to a sandy loam, suitable for Wheat, Grass Corn, Tobacco, Fruits and Vegetables. This is a great fruit country. Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c, produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand people within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been established. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upwards, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.
Fruits and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other healthy north of Norfolk, Va. Improved places for sale.
Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Blacksmiths and the like; and Steam Power, with room, can be rented.
For persons who desire mild winters, a health ful climate, and a good home in a country beautifully improved, abounding in fruits, and enjoying all other social privileges, in the heart of civilization, it is worth a visit.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JANUARY 1, 1866.

☞ At Clarksville, Tennessee, a row occurred on Christmas Day between some drunken negro soldiers and citizens. A policeman interfered, and struck a negro soldier with his club. The negro resented the blow, using his bayonet. A crowd gathered, and the notorious Dick Carndy drew a revolver and fired two shots at the soldiers, who then fired into the crowd. Two white men were seriously wounded, and one soldier slightly. Major Bond, the agent of the Freedmen's Bureau, promptly quelled the disturbance, sending the soldiers to the fort, but they soon returned in large force, and it threatened to be a general affair; but as Carndy had escaped out of town, quiet was soon restored, and affairs have remained peaceful since. No fears are entertained of another difficulty.

FOREIGN ITEMS.—The London Times of Dec. 13 devotes seven columns to affairs in Jamaica, and the public interest and excitement in regard to the matter does not seem to have abated in any degree. The "British and Foreign Anti-Slavery Society, Samuel Gurney, M. P., in the chair, held a crowded meeting in Exeter Hall on the evening of the 12th, to consider the circumstances connected with the late massacre in Jamaica." The resolutions expressed the opinion that the outrages of the negroes, which were deplored and condemned, were nevertheless the immediate consequence of the grossest provocation, and that "the means adopted to restore order in the disturbed district were characterized by a severity totally unjustifiable, most revolting to humanity, and calculated to bring the national character into disrepute throughout the civilized world." The Rev. Newman Hall, Mr. W. Cunningham, the Rev. W. Arthur, and other well known gentlemen participated in the discussion.

The Times compares the surprise occasioned by the recent Fenian developments to the effect of a clap of thunder out of a clear sky, and remarks that although the material condition of Ireland is not equal to that of England, yet its prosperity is such that Fenianism could not now have got a hold on the people except for the singular and exceptional operation of American influence and example.

ASCONDING RAILROAD CONTRACTORS. B. F. Sage and C. D. Eaton, contractors with the Cleveland and Toledo Company for the new railroad line from Elyria to Oberlin, absconded on the 15th inst., with $10,000, the greater part of which they received that day from the company, to pay off the laborers under their charge. On investigation it was found that the wives of the contractors had left a day or two previous for New York, and the whole transaction assumed the form of a well considered swindle. There were due the laborers the wages for six weeks' work, and it is estimated that 2000 people suffer in consequence. The total amount of indebtedness of the absconding parties was about $20,000. They were natives of the South, and it is thought they have gone to Georgia.

☞ The War Department computes the number of deaths in the Union armies since the commencement of the war at 250,000, and of the Southern soldiers at least 225,000, making at least 525,000 lives that have been lost, a part of the costly price that has been paid for the defence of the nation's life. At Gettysburg 23,000 Union soldiers were killed, wounded or taken prisoners—our greatest loss during one campaign. Gen. Grant's losses, from the time he crossed the Rapidan until Lee's surrender, were about 20,000. Great as were our losses, they were far below those incurred in European wars, owing to our superior medical and sanitary arrangements, and the care of the Government for its troops.

PLUCK OF YOUNG AMERICA.—A few days since, while two boys were skating on Saco river, about two miles above Moderation, one of them, a lad about 13 years old, getting near a hole where the ice was thin, broke through. His companion started for the nearest house, which was distant full half a mile, to get assistance, and on returning a good half hour afterward with the necessary help, they found the little chap swimming about, "to keep warm," as he expressed it. He was soon extricated from his dangerous position, the only damage being a slight cold.

— The case of Edward W. Green, the Malden murderer, now under sentence of death by the Court, was brought before the Executive Council by Gov. Andrew on Friday. Gov. A. is said to favor a commutation of the sentence.

— Antonio Curreo was tried in New York on Saturday, for keeping a gambling house for children. It was shown that children from nine to fifteen years of age frequented the place to play billiards for money. Curreo was fined $50 and sent to the Penitentiary for two months.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Edward West of New Hampshire, private Co. C, 40th Mass., Vols., is officially reported as having been killed in battle at Drury's Bluff, Va., May 17, 1864.

—— An elm tree in Wolfborough, set by Major Dudley Hardy in 1799, then the size of a hoe handle, is now 16 feet in circumference.

—— The following are some of the dividends paid by corporations in this State the past year: Eastern Railroad 7 per cent., Concord and Portsmouth 7 per cent., Cocheco Mills $60 per share, Manchester Print Works 16 per cent., Nashua 35 per cent., Salmon Falls 10 per cent., Stark 20 per cent., Newmarket 15 per cent., Great Falls 5 per cent., Cheshire R. R. bonds 3 per cent.

THE SABBATH QUESTION IN LONDON. It is said that many of the laborers' associations of London object to opening the public institutions on Sunday, on the ground that the employers will use the fact as an argument against allowing them holidays, or less hours of labor. At a meeting in St. Martin's Hall, London, Dec. 7th, Mr. Hughes, M. P., although not a professed Sabbatarian, expressed the opinion that the working classes did not desire that the British Museum or the National Gallery should be opened to them on Sunday. They rather wished to have them opened certain evenings in the week. The Sabbath they desired for a day of rest. This feeling is represented to be on the increase.

☞ The London Times accepts, without reserve, every assurance of the continued friendship between France and the United States, and pays the following compliment to the American people as a nation:

No protestations are needed to convince the world of the peaceful designs of the American people. The republic had armies in the field numbering their hundreds of thousands, which, after encountering a protracted and stubborn resistance, found themselves suddenly in possession of complete victory. In the moment of their success, flushed with the triumph they had achieved and intoxicated with glory, they have not demanded to be led against new enemies; they have not murmured at a sudden dismissal. Armies have been quietly disbanded, and hundreds of thousands of volunteers have gone homewards as men turn to their accustomed work. These are facts more eloquent than any speeches which can be delivered. The last triumph of the American nation is its greatest, for it is a triumph in which rulers can claim no share, and for which generals can ask no credit. It is a triumph of the citizens themselves, who went to the rescue of their country when its unity appeared in danger, and now betake themselves to their fields and homesteads when the danger is past.

— An attempt was recently made to drown the Provost Marrhal General of Ohio, by a deserter who had been tried through his instrumentality.

— The Entomologist, a work of value to farmers, is published at Philadelphia for free circulation. Send address and 12 cents to pay postage, to E. T. Gresson, 518 South 13th street, Philadelphia.

— The Charleston News is informed by a gentleman from the Southwest, that he has made an arrangement at the North for the cultivation of 1000 acres of cotton land by fifty Swedish laborers. He says that his plan is largely adopted in Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi and Arkansas.

— That hybrid ex-rebel, Brigadier General and Captain, Raphael Semmes, is represented by Washington letters to be as defiant as ever, and demanding an immediate trial. His hair is dark, but his long moustache and imperial are white. He wears a suit of Confederate gray.

— One day last week John Morrison, a farmer, being obliged to cross the river about one mile from St. Louis, and wishing to avoid paying toll, he drove his two horse team across the ice and broke through. He was accompanied by his wife and both were drowned.

— Late in the month of November, Mr. Serrill, a well known broker, deposited in the First National Bank, Philadelphia, bonds to the amount of $39,000. On Tuesday application being made for them, it was ascertained that they had been called for and removed, it is supposed, by a person sometimes acting for Mr. Serrill, and who was not to be found.

— It is stated that the man Winder, now in Libby prison, for cruelties to our soldiers while in rebel prisons, is not the right man. The Confederate fiend who is so much wanted, is W. S. Winder, the real son of Hog Winder, who left Washington for Canada, making successful his escape on the very afternoon that his relative, now in custody, was imprisoned.

— In the case of the pirate Georgia, demanded by the United States Government, and heard before the Toronto Assizes, Mr. McDonald, the Confederate agent, makes an affidavit that the vessel was the property of the rebel government, and was designed for the raid on Johnson's Island, and that the sale to Dennison, the present possessor, was a mere blind. Consul Thornton hopes to recover her for the United States Government.

For the Chronicle.

THE NEW YEAR.

On the threshold of the year,
Stand we with a courage high,
Looking forward without fear—
Viewing weal with faith's calm eye!

Months of darkness, years of pain,
In the buried past we've known;
We will not exhume grief's train,
In Time's grave-yard thickly strown;

But press onward to the day:
Night behind, but light before,
And with homage will we say—
"Thank the Lord for what's in store!"

Thank Him for Astraean peace;
Thank Him for sweet plenty's reign;
Thank Him that the bitter less
Of War's cup do not remain.

Thank Him for our legions brave,
Who for Right their lives laid down;—
Who beyond the gloomy grave,
Wear the victor's star-gemm'd crown!

Thank Him for the thousands, who Bore as bravely Truth's stout shield—
Those that to Man's rescue flew,
And have come from strife's red field.

Thank Him that true Freedom's sun
Lights the land in every part;
God this glorious triumph won—
Praise Him, every grateful heart!

Thus with cheer we will resume
Life's advance—Love's guerdon ours—
Praying that our path may bloom
With fruition's fairest flowers!

☞ The people in and around Worcester have been intensely excited at the sudden and mysterious decease of Artemus Ward and his wife, who were found dead in their house at an early hour Friday morning. From the fact that the two deceased had lived unhappily together, there have been current reports that Mr. Ward was a victim of murder by poison, and that his wife committed the crime and sought to escape the disgrace of a trial for murder by distroying her own life. The physicians, however, who were called to examine the bodies, are inclined to believe that the gas from a defective coal stove in the house which they occupied was the immediate and only cause of death.

A post mortem examination was held Saturday morning on the bodies of Ward and wife, at which it was decided that they came to their deaths by inhaling coal gas.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Col. Brown, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen, having received information that it is contemplated by many citizens of Virginia to turn out of doors on the 1st proximo all helpless and infirm freedmen, has called the attention of Superintendents to previous instructions on the subject. The late owners will be required to provide for their former slaves who are helpless and dependent upon them for support, until the Overseers of the Poor of the counties to which they belong shall have made arrangements for their care and support. Gen. Howard approves the order, and states that any citizen who attempts to turn out of doors the helpless and infirm, will be immediately reported by name, that his case may be laid before the President for action.

Gen. Thomas, in a late dispatch to Gen. Howard from Nashville, warmly commends the official services of the Superintendents of Freedmen in his department.

ITEMS FROM WASHINGTON.—Secretary McCulloch's reply to Mr. Sumner's resolution of inquiry, as to whether persons are permitted to hold office in the South without having taken the test oath, contains his objections to that oath, which he says should be immediately repealed, to Congress. The radical Republicans are very indignant at the tone of the Secretary's letter.

The proposed visit of Secretary Seward to the Gulf of Mexico has caused quite an excitement in diplomatic circles, although the Secretary declares that he only goes to recruit his health, and that he will be back again by the first of February.

The trial of Gee, for the maltreatment of Union prisoners, which was begun at Raleigh, has been removed to Saulsbury. A. D. Richardson and J. H. Brown, correspondents of the Tribune, and W. E. Davis, correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, are summoned by the Government as witnesses.

The President is so well satisfied with the condition of the South, and our foreign relations, that he has determined upon a further reduction of the army.

The Pension Bureau has ordered the reopening of an office in Richmond, and has appointed an agent thereto.

Friday the General Land Office forwarded to Illinois patents for 152,000 acres of land.

— All persons who sell Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus are authorized to give their customers the privilege of using one half the paper, and if not perfectly satisfactory, to return the balance and get the amount paid for the whole. It is the best in the world. It is a great deal better than soda to use with cream tartar. Try it. Most of the Grocers and Druggists keep it. 29

— Joseph Longfellow of Concord township, Champaign county, Ohio, died on the 11th ult., at the age of one hundred and eleven years.

— William C. Ten. Broeck of Portland, a young lawyer, was attacked with a throat affection on Wednesday evening and died on Thursday morning. He was a brother-in-law of Ex-Governor Baker of New Hampshire.

☞ The January thaw is a "capital institution" for producing Cold, Coughs, and kindred ailments—much worse than severe cold weather, and we advise our readers, particularly those predisposed to any pulmonary weakness, to see to it they are well shod, and allow no change of clothing. If any one is so unfortunate as to contract a Cold, Hoarseness, or other pulmonary disorder, we know of nothing so efficient as Coe's Cough Balsam. Our advice is, take little and often.

To those who have been living on the fat of the land through the holidays, and have got their stomachs out of order, we would prescribe Coe's Dyspepsia Cure; it has cured some very bad cases of Dyspepsia. jl-1w

Lyon's Periodical Drops!

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES.

These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any Pills, Powders or Nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and counseled by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know aught of them, as the surest, safest and most infallible preparation in the world. for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when and why they should not, accompany each bottle. Being not producing effects contrary to the chosen laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of JOHN L. LYON, without which none are genuine. Price $1.00.

Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 195 Chapel Street, New Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally, or by mail, (enclosing stamp,) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses. Price $1.50 per bottle.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liverspot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either; and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. DR. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

Prepared by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists; price $2 per bottle. Call for ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—These plasters have the compactness of kid leather and the flexibility of a silk glove. They have cured varicose veins and external aneurisms. For all affections of the chest, weight about the diaphragm or upper portion of the bowels, in colds and coughs, for injuries of the back, for all strains or bruises, for a weak back, for nervous pains of the bowels, and other nervous affections and cramps, for heart affections,—in all these cases they have to be used to be properly appreciated.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Louisville, Louisville, Kentucky, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s: but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours, very truly,

☞ We give our readers, or rather our patrons (for the two are by no means synonymous—as many people steal their reading,) we say, we give our "patrons," cordially, the compliments and greeting of the season. Having Chronicled most of the important events and interesting occurrences of the dead year, as we passed along, we don't know that we have anything special to offer on the general footing up. "The past is past—not God himself hath power o'er it." Let us therefore learn by it, how to improve the present, which is all we are sure of; and then the future will take care of itself.

For our country and the world, the year has been an important one—as indeed, are not all the years important? for what constitutes a country or the world, save the changes and influences of passing Time? For the city, it has been a busy one—full of prosperity, though not unmixed with adversity; for while industry has thriven, and considerable enterprise been developed, there have been serious losses and interruptions in commerce and manufactures; fires have left marks of devastation, and we have lost some of our best citizens by sea and land.

For ourselves, we have only to renew our sincere acknowledgements for continued and ever-increasing patronage and encouragement; and to promise to do as we have heretofore—as well as we can under the circumstances in which we may be placed. We design, at as early a day as we can perfect arrangements therefor, to greatly enlarge our Weekly paper, and to make other improvements in both that and the Daily; which changes we intended to make with the new year, but could not make things work to suit us in season.

☞ We understand that the lot and ruins of Congress Block, have been sold to parties in this city, for $10,000—and the new building which will be erected, it is reported will comprise, among other things, a Masonic Hall, which will no doubt be fireproof. The new block ought to be extended so as to reach to Fleet street; and we hear that the three owners of the old Belle Tavern building, are ready to enter into an arrangement which shall leave them, in exchange for their present property, each a new store (of a single floor,) in a new structure. We should think some combined arrangement of the sort might be made, with advantage to all concerned; and we hope it may be done.

☞ We are pleased to present a fine New Year's Poem to our readers this morning—from the pen of an old and valued contributor to the New England press generally.

☞ The snow storm of Saurday was quite extensive in its area. At Washington three or four inches had fallen at 11 o'clock in the forenoon. At New York the storm was also quite heavy, but here at the eastward but little snow had fallen up to a late hour.

☞ From the large number of obituaries of "big pigs" we see in our exchanges, we judge there are none but small ones left alive.

☞ Col. James Duncan Graham, of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, died suddenly on Thursday noon, at his residence, No. 8, Pemberton square, Boston, of heart disease. He was a graduate of West Point, and entered the army as Lieutenant of Artillery on the 17th of July, 1818. He was brother-in-law of Gen. Meade, and father of the lady recently married in this city to Col. John H. George of Concord. The deceased was a Virginian.

A SINGULAR CASE.—On Christmas day the Rev. Theodore L. Cuyler of New York married a couple, the bridegroom being a returned volunteer soldier, who had lain five hours in a coffin in a deadhouse attached to one of our military hospitals, where he had been placed by order of the surgeon, who supposed him dead. Signs of animation were discovered before it was too late, and the soldier was restored to health, and has taken a wife to himself, to make happy his future days.

— Gerrit Smith has commenced his libel suit against the Chicago Tribune, laying his damages at $50,000.

— The Bangor Whig tells of a delicate surgical operation which was performed on a boy in Monroe, recently; opening the wind pipe and removing a beech-nut which had lodged in the passage.

— A joint stock company has gone into operation at Waterbury, Conn., for the manufacture of "building blocks," so called, designed to take the place of bricks for building houses. In Danbury they have some elegant buildings of the new material—the composition of which we do not know.

— A custom house officer at Calais, Me., lately asked and got a ride from a friend, who soon found his horse, harness, sleigh and robes, together with a bag of tea, seized for violation of the revenue laws, by the man he had been so obliging as to accommodate with a ride.

☞ The Boston Commercial Bulletin, the handsomest and best paper of its class in the country, is to be enlarged with the first issue of the new year, but the price will not be increased.

☞ From Beadle & Co., publishers, New York, we have the "Dime Year Book and Almanac," containing much useful and interesting matter; also, a copy of General Grant's report, in convenient style for preservation.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement in twenty dungeons in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, so much that is more readable, account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Intelligent, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment; will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now improved and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this celebrated drug ever offered to the public. Infest taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a multitude of affections." It is a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

From the Portsmouth Journal

FORTY YEARS ASSENT.—A week or two since Mrs. Thomas Pickering of Greenland, whose residence is only five miles from Portsmouth, accompanied her son in his carriage to Portsmouth. Her last previous visit was made in 1825, when the Stone Church was being erected. She recognised several other localities with which she was familiar in former days, when more than half a century ago she used to make long visits at the residence of J. M. Sewell. She missed the old court house, the hay scales, and some other old land marks, and found such an array of new structures that she scarcely knew the place. There have been changes too, not so visible to her, within the doors. Scarce a house she passed on her last previous visit between her home and Market Square, has now the heads of families then living in them.

Mrs. P. has enjoyed good health, and in her own team might have visited Portsmouth every week; nor has she lacked solicitations from her husband and family. Love of home and family cares are too apt to shut out many from the world—and in time create an uncomfortable distaste for going abroad. Such is her case.

LEFT THE OCEAN.—We last week had a call from Capt. HALE KNIGHT, who for about twenty years has been connected with the regular Packet Ship New World, from New York, and has crossed the Atlantic about a hundred times. He has now retired from ocean life and taken up his residence in the home of his fathers in Vermont. With him was his son Charles, a bright lad of six years, who told us that he had crossed the Atlantic twelve times. His last voyage he did not like very well, and he did at wish to go again. Probably no lad of his age can compete with him in ocean life.

POLITICAL.—A paragraph in the last Journal referring to the coming Conventions and the Candidates for nominations, did not refer to the Register of Deeds. The present Register holds by appointment to fill a vacancy, and is a candidate for nomination. The town of Rye, where the only honor or emoluments Republicans ever have is the privilege of attending Conventions, presents her claims in the person of a young man, G. H. Jenness, a good writer and capable man, as a candidate for Register.

Portsmouth, which pays one-third of the County expenses, will claim the Commissioner to be nominated, but location and personal claims ought to give way to the interest of the tax payers of Rockingham county, and only the best qualified men should receive the nomination.

ROCKINGHAM.

PAYMASTERS.—Caleb J. Emery, Paymaster U. S. Navy, who has been stationed at the Navy Yard for a number of years, and now occupies in connection with the office of Paymaster that of Navy Agent, has been ordered to sea, as Fleet Paymaster of the Honkong fleet. He will be succeeded by Paymaster Gilman of Augusta, Maine. Mr. Emery will leave a host of friends behind, which have accumulated during his stay here, by his urbanity and courtesy to those with whom he has come in contact. The change is to take place Jan. 1st, 1866.

Mr. Joy's school will give a Concert at the Temple on Wednesday evening, 10th January. Mr. J.'s concerts have been so popular heretofore that it is only necessary to call attention to insure a good attendance. More particulars will be given in our paper next week.

A PLEASANT TRIP.—The officers and members of S. F. E. Sagamore, sat down to an Oyster supper at their Hall, on Thursday evening, given by Mr. H. L. Garrett on the occasion of the resignation of his position as Engineer of the machine. The Company regret much to part with Mr. G., with whom their association for the past year has been so pleasant.

THE BOSTON RECORDER.—This standard religious paper is the oldest of its class in the world, completing with this week its fifteenth year. On January 21 it will issue a "jubilee quarterly," and from that time will enlarge its size and appear in new type. It is a paper of much stability of character, and of no slight literary merit, and we are glad to learn that it is more prosperous than ever before.

Messrs. Ticknor & Fields, publish the prospectus of a new weekly paper, the first number of which will appear on the first week of the new year. The title chosen is "Every Saturday." The plan is to republish choice articles from foreign newspapers and periodicals on various literary, political and scientific subjects. We need not vouch for the excellence of its selections when we say it is to be edited by Thomas Bailey Aldrich, the favorite poet. These publishers always aim at the best and never break a promise made in their prospectus. Their quarterly, the North American Review, and their two monthlies, the Atlantic and Our Young Folks, are a sufficient guaranty of what the new weekly will be.

THE LADY'S FRIEND.—A Monthly Magazine of Literature and Fashion, published by Deacon & Peterson, of 319 Walnut Street, Philadelphia, is issued for January. It contains a fine engraving of "The Forest Gleaner," elegant Fashion Plate, Hand Banner Screen in Chenille on Velvet, Patterns of various kinds, Skating costumes, and the usual variety of reading matter. A new volume commences with January. Subscription price $2.50.

NEW LOCOMOTIVE.—The Eastern Railroad, which under its present efficient and judicious management, has secured the unqualified approbation of the travelling public, as its large and increasing travel amply testifies, has just added a new and powerful locomotive, called the "Merrimac," and built by the Taunton Locomotive Company in their rolling stock.

Ship Kate Prince, (of Portsmouth,) Libby, Calcutta, July 5, Sand Heads 11th, ar at Boston 26th. Had a very heavy monsoon down the Bay of Bengal, and was 46 days to the Equator.—Passed Cape of Good Hope Oct. 12, and had a long continuance of westerly gales of that point. Touched at St. Helena Oct. 30, and sailed Oct. 31. Crossed the Equator Nov. 20, in lon 31 W, and had light winds and fine weather until we arrived off South Shoal, Nantucket, since which time have had very cold and stormy weather.—Was signalized off Cape Cod Dec. 19, and has had very heavy and bad weather in the bay. Had sails split and anchored off Marblehead Sunday forenoon, with six men disabled during the severe cold weather. Men from that port came off and assisted in furling the sails free of charge, to whom Capt Libby renders his thanks. Passengers from Calcutta.—Mrs. E. G. Pritchard, of Newburyport; Mrs. H. Libby, 2 children and a female servant.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S

PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now for the first time given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

Life-giving Pills!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A Very Fountain of Youth,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever

AN ETERNAL SPRING!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it thus.

These Famous Remedies

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the propitious opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their silent magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

For Cutaneous Disorders

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen. I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

REMARKABLE STATEMENTS.—At the late New England dinner in New York, Dr. Bellows made some statements which are particularly worthy of note. He said:

"No less than thirteen millions of money passed through his hands for the relief of the widows and orphans of the brave men who fought these battles in the late struggle. He would state a circumstance which would scarcely be believed unless it came from authority, that no less than ninety per cent. of the army who fought throughout the war were purely American. He did not think his friend, the President of the St. Patrick Society, would be obliged to him for that statement, but it was, nevertheless, the truth, and if his worthy friend was chagrined with the statement, he would say to him, it is so; but let the London Times put that fact in its pipe and smoke it. More than that, more than ninety per cent. of the claims of wounded soldiers and soldiers' widows and orphans came from those of foreign birth. He did not say this to reflect upon the gallantry and loyalty and bravery of the Irish and German and other peoples who had so bravely fought for the Union and the country they had adopted. He merely did it at this time—at the close of the great events through which they had passed—to vindicate the character and patriotism of the native element, and to disabuse those powers abroad who imagined or wished to please themselves or their subjects with the idea that the great American struggle and the victory which closed it was achieved by the foreign element in the country. This was not so. With all thanks and gratitude so the Irish, German and other elements that entered into the struggle, he was bound to make this declaration at the present time."

In these statements will be found a sufficient reply to the English journals which have had the audacity to assert that our war for the Union was fought by foreigners hired for the purpose. The proportion of adopted citizens in our army was perhaps as great as we could have expected, for it was not to be expected that the head of an Irish or German just arrived, would leave his wife and children who depended on his daily labor, and enrol himself as a soldier to fight for institutions the blessings of which he had scarce had time to experience, and in behalf of which he could therefore be expected to feel no great enthusiasm. But the great truth that the Union was defended and the great rebellion put down by men born and brought up under our institutions remains an established fact, honorable to them and to the country for which so many of them nobly laid down their lives.

The other point—that small as was the proportion of men of foreign birth who went as volunteers into the service, ninety in a hundred claims for relief made from wounded soldiers and the widows and orphan children of soldiers have come from persons of foreign birth—is, perhaps, even more remarkable. It should be observed, as in part account for this, that the emigrant in this country is generally a poor man, and has no relatives who might contribute to his support or give him occupation—but even making that allowance, the fact stated by Dr. Bellows demonstrates the superiority of our institutions over the monarchies of the old world in rearing up a self-reliant race of men, full of resources, unwilling to depend on charity, and ingenious in devising the means of dispensing with its aid.—Eve. Post.

— A man named John Jones, living at Atlanta, Ga., sends to the Wyandotte (Kansas) Gazette, the small sum of $50,000, in Confederate bank notes, and for them asks the editor to send his paper a month.

— The Gazette des Hopitaux points out a method of curing coryza (cold in the head) with rapidity. It consists in inhaling the tincture of iodine, a phial of which is to be held in the hand and placed under the nose. The warmth of the hand causes the vaporization of the tincture. The inhalations are to be made every three minutes, and soon all symptoms of the malady will disappear.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 2, 1866.

LOUISIANA.—The law passed by the Louisiana Legislature for the government of the freedmen reduces them almost to a state of slavery again. To talk of "freedom" with such a law on the statute book is only a mockery. There is no liberty to make contracts for six months, or for three, or to make none, but the laborer is bound by law to make a contract of some sort during the first ten days of January for the whole year. He may not be offered a dollar a month for his labor—he is bound by this law to take the best offer he can get during those ten days. The planters may make what agreement they choose as to price; they have only to hold out ten days and the laborers must either assent to their terms or take the consequences of violating the law. The freedmen must hire by families when they exist, and the contract with the head of the family is binding on all the members. Only one half of the wages is to be paid as fast as earned, and if the laborer leaves before his contract is expired he forfeits all that is due him.

[Congress will surely apply "appropriate legislation" to this case and all similar cases, by a general law securing to the working man his right to labor, and his right to demand and receive payment therefor.]

EMIGRATION SOUTHWARD.—According to the New York Commercial, not only is emigration South ceasing, but many who have gone South are returning. This is especially the case in Tennessee. In many localities the native population has served notices on the new comers to quit, while many who, at the close of the war, proceeded from the Western States for business and other purposes, are now disposing of their effects preparatory to going back again.

Such facts, stated in the very "conservative" Commercial, go to show that the "old leaven" of slavocracy, and the contempt of the working men, has not yet been thoroughly purged out of the South West.

VIRGINIA.—The New York Herald says:

"Senator Williams of Oregon, who is a member of the joint Congressional Committee to investigate the claims of the Representatives of the Southern States to admission, has recently spent a few days in Virginia on a tour of inspection of the condition and sentiments of the people of that State, and has come to the conclusion, our Richmond correspondent states, that Virginia loyalty, as represented in its Legislature and the social circles of its capital city, is an absolute myth. He says the people still cling as fondly as ever to the exploded fallacies of the Southern Confederacy, and entertain a strong hostility to the national Congress, though they profess great personal respect for President Johnson, owing to the leniency with which he has dealt with them.

☞ In New Orleans, it is said three policemen were severely wounded on Christmas day by a gang of excited negroes, some of whom were arrested, and most of whom were armed.

In Western Texas the planters, farmers and freedmen are making contracts for next year, which are satisfactory to all parties. In Central Texas the prospects are not so good, and the planters in sugar and cotton in the Brazos, Colorado, Correy and other streams near the coast are discouraged. Gen. Gregory is making a tour, addressing the freedmen, with a view to persuade them to make contracts with the planters for labor for the ensuing year.

☞ Perley states that the Alexandria Christmas rioters will be tried by a Military Commission. It is, however, well known that on the following morning nearly all of the whites arrested were released, and that they, with other white rioters, have left Alexandria for other places. The blacks who had dared to defend themselves, were all retained for trial and punishment, but it is to be hoped that the military authorities will see that the real offenders be apprehended.

☞ Steamer Constitution, Capt. Greenman, left Savannah for New York on the 23d, with 54 passengers and 700 bales cotton. She struck off the southern point of Lookout Shoals Tuesday morning at 4 o'clock, where she remained forty-eight hours and then broke up. The captain, with twelve of the crew and one passenger, W. P. Long, of Brooklyn, N. Y., saved themselves on cotton bales. Forty persons on board the ill-fated steamer perished. The Constitution was of 1000 tons burthen, and valued at $150,000.

☞ In New York, Saturday, a burglar entered the cabin of the schooner John Boynton, lying at anchor in the East River, when the captain was sleeping. The captain awoke, when the burglar put a pistol to his head, and threatened to blow out his brains if he made a noise. The captain cried for assistance. The chief mate, Robert Mitchell, came in with a hatchet, when the burglar shot him dead and escaped.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Mrs. Jennie Varney is now living in Ossipee, N. H., one hundred and two years old. Her mother lived to be one hundred and four.

—— The Manchester Mirror says a wealthy lady who resides in New Jersey has just purchased $100,000 of our State Bonds.

—— A man in Unity, recently separated from his wife because she used a pound of tea a week. He said he had talked to her with all the eloquence of a Cicero, but without avail.

GREAT SPIRITUAL DEVELOPMENT.—Some time ago the Chicago papers had whole columns upon the subject of procuring water from Artesian wells in the vicinity of that city, through the agency of spiritual manifestations. In the Oxford, Me., Democrat of a late date, there is an interesting article from Mr. Whitehead, a citizen of South Paris, giving the particulars of the case. Mr. Whitehead, with Mrs. Jordan Jordan, his sister-in-law, and one or two other persons, had a communication from spirits, declaring that in a certain locality, and at a certain depth, there was a large supply of water.

Upon the spot they prospected further, and at one of these visits one of their number was seized with the usual excitement of a trance, and as soon as his strength was sufficiently restored, he immediately pointed out a locality, indicating by signs that there was a subterranean river of 40 feet depth about 700 feet below. The trance medium also moved in another direction, and suddenly stopped and marked, by stones, another locality.

This party was so impressed with what they had witnessed that the matter was urged upon some capitalists, who formed a company to sink a well. They bored to a great depth, and in a crevice of rock broke the augur. Nothing discouraged, they tried again, and at the depth of 750 feet struck a river 42 feet deep, from which came water in immense force. By the instrumentality of this power, they bored another well and found a still larger supply. The water has a mineral quality that the spirits say will correct many diseases of that region.

Another curious feature of the proceeding is that at different depths they found oil, but only in small quantities. The spirits told them that it was not given them to get oil in large quantities, as they would then abandon the search for water.

R. H. EDDY, ESQ., OF BOSTON, has well earned the title of the "honest and upright Patent Solicitor," now universally given him. Possessing more years of experience in his profession, and having procured more patents than any other solicitor now living, he is preeminently qualified to aid those who may desire to obtain patents, or to be advised in respect to the laws in this behalf. His powers of analysis of mechanism, and his quick perception of its novel characteristics are such, that on the claims of specifications prepared by him, there is little or no chance for an infringer to evade the patents. For thirty years or more, he has devoted his entire time and energies to perfect himself in this department, and there is no man equally competent to give advice to inventors touching the validity of claims and the patentability of inventions. In prosecuting claims denied upon imperfectly prepared specifications, he has been particularly successful, a large part of his practice being appeals in cases where patents have been refused two and three times in consequence of inexperience and incompetency in preparing papers. We confidently recommend Mr. Eddy to all who are in want of any information on the subject, and can assure them that implicit reliance may be placed in any statements he may make.

☞ In New York city, on Saturday morning, a communication was handed in to the Board of Aldermen from B. B. Bradford, late public Administrator, stating that his annual report for 1865 would show a deficit of $40,000 in that office, and confessing that this amount had been improperly used by him while holding office, and was lost in stock speculations on Wall street. He says no one but himself knew that he had become improperly possessed of the funds, or derived in any manner any advantage from the embezzlements. He says that he has assigned all his effects, together with the property of his wife, to a trustee, to pay first his bondsmen and then to pay the city toward liquidating the deficiency. Everybody (except thieves) should rejoice at this man's failure.

☞ There was a fire at Providence, R. I., early Sunday morning, in Matthewson & Allen's block on Broad, Dorrance, Eddy and Middle streets, occupied chiefly by manufacturing jewelers. The third and fourth stories of the west end were badly burnt, and the water from the engines did much damage in nearly all of the shops. The total loss may reach $50,000 or $60,000. Generally insured. 125 employees will be temporarily thrown out of employment.

☞ The Tribune Almanac for 1866, (sold for only 20 cts.,) is just published in New York, and for sale at the book and periodical stores. It contains a great amount of valuable information.

THE HERALD OF HEALTH for 1866, No. 1, Vol. 7, is just received from the publishers: earnest and prompt.

THE AMERICAN AGRICULURIST for January 1866, a very fine number, is just published.

— Young Ketchum, the New York forger, was sentenced on Saturday to imprisonment during four years and a half.

— On Christmas Day, at Montpelier, Vt., Rev. W. H. Lord was surprised with a five thousand dollar insurance on his life, for the benefit of his family,—the gift of friends in his church and congregation.

— The Providence Bulletin says that the hog cholera is quite prevalent in various parts of Rhode Island. Two men of North Providence have lost two thousand dollars worth of hogs by the disease within a short time.

— A Baltimore dispatch says that Hon. Henry Winter Davis died there at half-past two o'clock on Saturday afternoon, aged 49. He represented a Maryland District in the House of Representatives in the Thirty-fourth, Thirty-fifth, Thirty-sixth and Thirty-eighth Congresses, serving during his first three terms as a member of the Committee of Ways and Means, and in the years 1863 and 1864 as chairman of the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

— There is no soap that will begin to compare with the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap, and probably no other manufacturer begins to expend one-half as much money to make it worthy of the community, and the maker is richly deserving the patronage bestowed on him. It is a God-send to the world, and all who use it will agree with us that what we say is true. 32

☞ In Boston on Sunday afternoon, one Lewis F. Simmons attempted to kill himself and his wife, by cutting their throats with a razor, at the Blackstone House. The woman will probably die, but the man may recover.

— In New York, the jury failed to agree on a verdict in the Strong divorce case, after 45 hours deliberation, and were discharged Sunday morning.

IT IS COUNTERFEITED.

Be sure and see that the name of J. & R. DUNSTER, London, is on the bottle, and you will then obtain the best London Dock Gin to be had.

COTTON PLANTATIONS FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region, South West, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent. on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the South under Northern auspices.

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality; send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents,

78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the validity or utility of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in due form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART

☞ During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s: but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. ☞ The Middle Street Church was over-full, on Sunday afternoon, at the Funeral Services of Mr. Thomas Norton. Rev. Mr. Lane, the pastor, officiated; and his remarks were singularly beautiful, appropriate and fitting to this occasion. After the manner of the masonic ritual—both being members of the same Lodge and the same Church—the speaker paid deserved high tribute to the many excellencies of the deceased, and would "throw a vel over his faults, whatever they may have been." The singing by the new quartet choir of the church was fine; but their rendering of words was not good, even in chanting or solo.

A very long procession attended the body to the South Cemetery—the Free Masons, with the Cornet Band, conducting the services, and the Mechanic Association performing escort duty. It was one of the most imposing ceremonials we have had for a long time, and withal one of the most real manifestations of sympathy and grief on all hands, we are sure.

☞ A certain Club, which we desire should henceforth be nameless in these columns, having vacated our premises as ordered and desired, at the close of the old year—we have no need to reply to any misstatements in their anonymous Card in the Journal of two weeks since. While there seems to have been considerable difference of opinion between us, as to what constitutes good behaviour; there appears to be one thing at least on which we can agree—and that is, that neither is a desirable neighbor for the other. Among our congratulations for the New Year, is that we are well rid of this noisy and dirty Club; and we have no doubt they are equally well pleased, in a new and probably more congenial location elsewhere—and wherever they are, we wish them all happiness and no harm.

☞ Several of our friends and subscribers on LaFayette Road complain that by our strange mistake in locating the farms of Messrs. Main & Winchester in Rye, we also necessarily placed beyond the bounds of Portsmouth, the lands and residences which lie between them and the city. We assure all concerned that we have no desire to get rid of any of them,—and especially the friends named—but on the contrary, wish we had more like them; and the temporary misconception of town lines, was probably caused by the fact that we usually ride the new Sagamore road, on which you pass the P. and R. division stone much nearer the city proper than the line runs on the old road—the bounds on Lafayette being a mile or more beyond Messrs. M. & W.'s estates.

☞ Messrs. Emery, Bodge and Bennett, Jewellers, closed their stores on Monday at 1 o'clock, in honor of Emancipation Day and New Year. There was not a general closing in that business, nor so far as we know in any other. The bells were rung at noon, and flags displayed; and some of the Schools were dismissed.

☞ Among the pleasant compliments of the season, the scholars at our High School, as usual, testified their respect and love for their teachers, by a New Year's token—presenting Miss Morgan a nice travelling bag, a beautiful pair of gold sleeve button, and a handsome slipper watch-case; Mr. A. M. Payson a similar watch-case, and an elegans silver berry dish; and Mr. Lewis E. Smith, a rich silver butter-dish and silver spoon-holder.

POLYORAMA OF THE WAR.—This beautiful and interesting Painting will be exhibited at the Temple on Friday and Saturday evenings of this week. The Lowell Courier in speaking of the exhibition, says:—

"Great Success.—The attendance at Huntington Hall, last evening, was the largest ever known in Lowell, at an exhibition of the character of that which was presented. The Great Washington Polyorama of the War, notwithstanding bad weather, drew out an immense audience, which would not have been the case had it not been really what it claims to be, the best representation of the principal events of the rebellion ever painted. It is deserving patronage wherever it may be exhibited, and will not fail to satisfy those who have any taste for works of this kind. Being a complete history of the rebellion, (so far as a history of the bloody contest can be put upon canvass,) beginning with the bombardment of Sumter, and ending with the assassination of Lincoln, and his final burial-place at Oak Ridge Cemetery, the incidents presented, constantly stirring and truthful, form a model work of art. Many of our citizens who could not see it yesterday, have missed a valuable entertainment. It is exhibited again this evening."

☞ From the London, England, daily papers we learn that the Alleghanians are at Great St. James Hall. They had been presented to His Royal Highness the Prince and Princess of Wales, at Windsor Castle, Dec. 7th. Mr. D. G. Waldron of this city, their agent, through the American Minister gained audience on Wednesday, and presented his troupe on the following day to the royal family. At Edinburgh, Scotland, the company were very successful in their concerts.

☞ A Bangor dispatch says a fatal accident occurred at North Newport in that county, recently. Dea. Joseph Stewart, a young man, had his foot caught in a chain attached to a runaway horse and was dragged a mile and a half over frozen ground and several fences. He died in six hours.

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supersede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has for centuries been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all these popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of afflictions.'" In a standard work of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

PRICE OF BUILDING MATERIALS.—A cotemporary says:

"Many of our most experienced master mechanics doubt whether building materials will be cheaper for the next few years than they now are."

Whatever their doubts on the subject, we think few of them would contract for lumber, bricks or nails, to be delivered two years hence, at three-fourths of the present rates for those articles. There will be an immense amount of lumber got out for the market within the next twelve months, and though large quantities may be used, the price must come down.—Traveller.

— A lady was asked the other day why she chose to live a single life. She naively replied: "Because I'm not able to support a husband." Sharp!

— Artemas Ward (saloon keeper, not the showman,) and wife were found dead on Friday morning last, at their house in Worcester, Mass., supposed to be poisoned. They lived unhappily.

— John Naylor, of Hilgay, died October 30, supposed to be 110 by his eldest son, who is 69, but would seem to have been 117 from a baptismal register at Wolney, England. Naylor retained his faculties until about six weeks before his death.

— The Richmond Times says that many of the Swedes and Germans who recently arrived there from the North, are about to "pull up stakes" and leave. They say they cannot stand the fare—"bacon, cabbage and corn dodgers." They propose settling in the West.

— A Washington dispatch states that the Ohio State Board of Agriculture, the Ohio State Pomological Society and the Illinois State Horticultural Society, without a dissenting vote, have requested the removal of the present Commissioner of Agriculture, on the ground of incompetency.

— "The cattle disease," says a letter from the Hague, "still prevails in Holland. Hopes were entertained that with the winter season it would lose some of its virulence, but they have been disappointed. Ever since the animals quitted their pasture lands for the stalls, the number of deaths have increased."

— In 1851 there were in London 1097 churches, with sittings for 698,549 persons. In 1865 there are 1316 churches, with sittings for 917,895 persons, an increase of 219 churches and 219,356 sittings. In 1861 the population of London was 2,362,236. In 1865 it is estimated by the Registrar General to be 3,015,494, an increase of 653,258 persons.

— We see it stated that the famous New York Seventh Regiment is about to give a grand ball, which will surpass anything of the kind ever occurring in that city. They propose to expend $70,000, and 3000 tickets will be sold at $20 each. The occasion for this affair is a "reception" of members who have been officers of the army during the war. Delmonico is to furnish supper at a cost of $50,000.

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen. I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUER,

Merchant, Curacoa, S. A,

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

PHILOSOPHY OF A VIRGINIA POLITICIAN.—"We're all demagogues, sir, when we run for office. I'm a demagogue; I've represented my county twice, and I used to fairly hug people when I wanted their votes. Best way in the world to 'lectioneer, sir, is to get as fine a hoss as you can find, borrow him if you can't afford to buy, dress up in a flashing rig, wear gold spurs and carry a gold watch, and treat every man you meet. Hugged a fellow one day at a tavern, that I never spoke to before. 'Look a'here, mister,' says he; 'you never hugged me before.' 'Well,' says I, 'what of that? I never wanted your vote before, did I?' And, besides, doesn't Hancock (the opposing candidate) hug 'em? and wouldn't you rather be hugged by a gentleman that rides a good hoss or wears gold spurs, than by a poor devil, with his shirt-tail sticking out of the holes in his breeches?"

'Well,' says he, 'but they tell me you're a 'ristocrat.'

'And what if I am?' says I; 'ain't we all aristocrats? Ain't you an aristocrat? Ain't we all free and independent American citizens?—and if that ain't aristocracy, I'd like to know what is.'

'Well,' says he, 'old hoss, reckon you're the right stripe; going to treat, ain't you? 'Bout this aristocracy, I'll jess tell you what's my principles. I don't want nobody to 'ristocrat it over me, but I 'ristocrat it over everybody 't'll let me.'"

A NEW WAY OF GOING TO THE GRAVE. On the occasion of a marriage of a young lady in one of the suburban cities of Boston, recently, Mrs. O'Blarney, who had been a confidential washerwoman in the family for "many moons," was honored with an invitation. She was on hand in season, dressed in gorgeous array, and was assigned to an honorable seat in the parlor, whereof she seemed determined to maintain the dignity regardless of expense. While the guests were assembling, a young lady who was looking up her acquaintances in the party, came face to face with Mrs. O'Blarney, whom she knew professionally, and expressing considerable astonishment, asked "How did you come here?" Mrs. O'Blarney straightened up a peg, and answered with so much emphasis that the whole company heard: "As I shall go to the grave—on me two feet!"—Herald.

— Foreign papers state that the Viceroy of Egypt has given to the American mission at Cairo a block of houses worth 200,000 francs. He has also given the missionaries free passes for the railways, and has decided that religious journals and books shall not be subject to any tax.

— John McCulloch, who embezzled two clocks, did not obtain them on tick, was narrowly watched, and wound up by paying fifteen dollars. The fine was small as the pieces were second-hand.—Boston Post.

VINELAND
FARM AND FRUIT LANDS,
In a mild and healthful climate. Thirty miles south of Philadelphia by Railroad, in New Jersey, on the same line of latitude as Baltimore, Md. The soil is rich and productive, varying from a clay to a sandy loam, suitable for Wheat, Grass Corn, Tobacco, Fruits and Vegetables. This is a great fruit country. Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c., produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five fold in population within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.
Fruits and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other locality north of Norfolk, Va. Improved places for sale.
Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Foundries, Stores and the like; and Steam Power, with room, can be rented.
For persons who desire mild winters, healthful climate, and a good soil, in a country beautifully improved, abounding in fruits, and possessing the social advantages in the heart of civilization, it is worthy of a visit.
Letters answered, and the Vineland Rural, a paper giving full information, and containing Reports of Solon Robinson, sent to applicants.
Address CHAS. K. LANDIS, Vineland P. O., Landis Township, New Jersey.
From Report of Solon Robinson, Agricultural Editor of The Tribune: It is one of the most extensive fruit-growing enterprises in America, and a desirable condition for pleasant farming that we know of this side of the Western Prairies. n1—dawów

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 3, 1866.

DISCORD AND JUSTICE.—The Manchester Union is sorry to hear (in the midst of general support of the President's reconstruction policy) "a note of discord from Uncle Toby,"—and deems it dreadful that ministers of religion should be among the first to stir up strife, and the last to allay it. Now let us see what the discord amounts to. It is all contained in the following words, which the Union fairly copies:

If the President fails to do justice in the premises, the course of events following will crush him; and if Congress fails to do its duty, by cringing to Executive or Military dictation, it will be with them ground to powder. The upper millstone of the free and loyal people, and the nether millstone of the old rebel aristocracy, will pulverize it into such dust as Moses made of the Golden Calf, and the Nation will be compelled to drink again of the poisoned waters.

If it be discord for a voter to demand justice from a president for whom he voted, and from a Congress that professedly represents mainly his own views,—so be it—and farewell harmony! If it be discord to predict defeat, disaster and disgrace as consequent of injustice,—then welcome discord. We have not lost our confidence in the President or in Congress, that they will do justice, as might have been seen by the readers of the Union, if the editor of that paper had copied from our comment, the only (closing) line which they saw fit to omit, viz. "We hope for better things!" We still hope for them, and think we have good ground for the hope! But when we see the copperheads and the rebels taking courage to renew their treason, from the lenity or "magnanimity" of the President, we ought to lift up a warning voice. And when it is urged that Congress should be the mere register of Executive or Military Decrees, we ask, Is this Democracy? Is it republicanism? or is it man-worship?

We have no pet scheme of reconstruction, and have neither proposed nor opposed any. But we believe that Congress can and will pass such laws as may secure something like justice to all the loyal people of the South, and defend them from the tyranny of their old oppressors: and we expect the President to approve them. If, however, they fail to do justice in the premises, we know the Nation must suffer; the authors of the injustice ought to suffer most; and we are quite willing they should.

As to the dreadful sin of the ministry in stirring up strife—if this sin consisted in denouncing slavery as an evil, an outrage and a curse, and predicting its downfall, then Uncle Toby is verily guilty,—for from the pulpit and the press, on the platform and by the fireside, he denounced it, when he had no political party and no religious sect (but the Quakers and Moravians) on his side of the question,—and more than twenty years ago in a public discourse at the Temple in this city, declared his expectation that Liberty would be proclaimed throughout the land to all the inhabitants thereof, and he would live to hear it.

He rejoices to-day, that he has heard it: and now he wishes and expects to have this Proclamation built into a Living Fact,—by the joint action of the President, Congress, and U. S. Court, if they do their duty,—and by the Great Jehovah and the American people, if the President and Congress and Court do not!

We do not pin our faith on the sleeve of any man or any party,—on a President or a Congress. We have our own ideas of Right and Justice—and when they are violated we petition, or protest, or warn, as the case may be. Having passed through a bloody war, which was waged against the United States by the Dagon of Slavery, in which war Dagon lost his head and hands, we are by no means disposed now, to see the Stomp of Dagon set in his place again and worshipped—and if both Congress and the President should worship him, we shall not.

If Congress and the President shall see fit to cast themselves, and their promises and professions of freedom, into the power of the confederated rebels and traitors, these swine would trample them under their feet, and turn again to rend the Nation. But we repeat, we hope for better things, viz. Justice and Equity.

☞ In Boston, on Saturday afternoon, Richard Owens, a landscape painter in the employ of Charles H. Bruce & Co., window shade manufacturers, shot himself through the head with a pistol, and died almost instantly, in the front shop of that establishment. Owens came to the city a little over a month ago, in a destitute condition, without friends or money, and after wandering about for a few days in search of work, was employed by Mr. Bruce, who on witnessing some specimens of his work, immediately discovered that he was an artist of no mean ability. His habits during the four weeks that he has been in Mr. Bruce's establishment, while not exactly dissipated, have indicated a restless, uneasy, wandering disposition; and though never actually drunk, he has often indulged freely in intoxicating liquors. He related some strange stories of his life, said that he was born in Zanesville, Ohio, had been a guerrilla of Moseby's gang, and was connected with Booth in the murder of President Lincoln.

MAYOR'S ADDRESS.

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
PORTSMOUTH, JANUARY 2d, 1866.

Gentlemen of the City Council:—

We are assembled to-day to organize the City Government for the current municipal year. These duties and responsibilities are now solemnly resting upon us. It is confidently hoped that, being aided by Divine Providence, we shall, each and all, bring to the discharge of them our best faculties and efforts, without favor, prejudice or partiality, and with the single desire to the improvement, prosperity and best interest of the city.

I am not unmindful of the honor of a re-election to the office which I have held the past year. This renewal of the confidence of my fellow citizens calls for increased efforts on my part, to meet all reasonable expectations. It is also a source of gratification to find myself surrounded by so many members of the last City Council, and especially of the Board of Aldermen, whose experience will render their services more valuable. As there are but few changes in the City Council by the last election, it will not be important for me to address you upon the requirements of the community so minutely as would under other circumstances, seem to be necessary.

Your official experience during the past year has made you quite familiar with the wants of the citizens, and I am confident that I shall continue to have the same kind co-operation on your part that I have received during the past year. There are many subjects and objects which will claim and require your careful and candid consideration, preparatory to making the annual appropriations for the present year.

Some of these I purpose briefly to bring to your notice; but before doing so, I will say a few words to you upon the condition of the country.

A year ago to-day we were apparently in the midst of a great rebellion. War—bitter, cruel, unrelenting—was our great business, and had been for nearly four years; and although not absolutely discouraged, the end looked fearfully distant. Every day told of disappointment or of unsatisfying success. Every day brought sad tidings of our slain—of our imprisoned sons—of our starved heroes. We had not forgotten to look to the Almighty, but it took us a long time to look to Him aright. In our extremity we had cried, "O, God, give us the victory; sustain this nation of thine own planting, nourishing and strengthening, and let us not be blotted from off the face of the earth." We raised our armies to save the Union; the strife could not end short of universal liberty. When we at last fully realized this position, and put ourselves in harmony with the Great Jehovah, He wheeled our armies into line, made our boys in blue the Lord's battalions, and the work of rebel annihilation was then brief. How complete was our success! The rebels on land, and the pirates at sea, were alike overwhelmed, and to crown the whole and wipe out the last vestige of rebellion, the great traitor chief was himself captured, and is to-day a prisoner, awaiting trial for that foulest of all known crimes, Treason. May his trial be speedy and his punishment sure. To-day we are at peace at home and abroad. The cry of battle is hushed. The men who a year ago were fighting soldiers are to-day peaceful citizens, pursuing their wonted avocations in our midst, and resuming their places in the family, the church, and society. How gladly do we welcome them home! Their work has been a mighty one, and if they do return scarred and wounded and maimed, they come back in honor. They are our jewels, entitled to the first place in our hearts.

But where are the rest? Not all that host of heroes going out from us so bravely and cheerfully to fight our battles, return to be honored and loved. No! How many of the bravest and best will never more return! How many of those who seemed the strongest fell the earliest! Their work on earth is ended. Their reward in Heaven is begun. And you, fathers and friends, who mourn your slain in this great struggle, to whom your loved ones fell in the glorious cause, and all their noble deeds and heroic acts, will you not remember them forever? The struggle, too, has cost us a pile of treasure. $3,000,000,000 is the country's indebtedness in four years. If we had imagined, when the war began, that 325,000 men were to be slain, and more to be crippled, the vast a debt to be entailed upon us, who would not have been appalled? Who could have contemplated such a result, and have courage to go forward? Yet, gentlemen, now that these consequences and results are known to you, you accept them, and are ready, I have no doubt, to conform your action in all matters to them.

Having spoken thus briefly of our national affairs, I would call your attention in the first place to the CITY FINANCES.

The financial condition of our City is one of the most important subjects to which your attention will be called. The amount of floating debt to the sum of thirty-four thousand dollars at the commencement of the year, was promptly provided for, and the credit of the City fully sustained. The following is the financial condition of the City at the present time:

CITY DEBT.

Bonds maturing from 1866 to 1884.....$334,400.00

ASSETS.

Amount of State Notes and Interest.....	34,300 00
Am't due from U. S. for bounties, 1862..	30,668.00
Am't " " State for State Aid.....	46,000.00
Am't " in Taxes (uncollected).....	17,000.00
Balance of amount deposited in Rockingham National Bank to the amount of.....	29,552.00
	115,420 00
Balance of indebtedness, '65.....	218,980.00

COMMITTEES.

It has not been customary heretofore for all committees who were entrusted with the expenditure of money, to make detailed reports, accompanied by the vouchers, to the Board of Aldermen, or Council. Committees charged with the expenditure of the funds of the City should be required to render regular accounts current of their receipts and disbursements, and have the vouchers filed in the City Clerk's Office for future reference.

CITY TREASURER AND COLLECTOR OF TAXES.

On the 20th of July last, the Great Ruler of Events was pleased to remove by death the venerable Treasurer and Collector of Taxes, Robert Lefavor, Esq., who had long been connected with the City Government, and had gained by his uniform kindness and obliging mode of business, the love and esteem of all who knew him.

Since that time the duties of Collector and Treasurer have been discharged by Mr. Shannon in an accurate and efficient manner, and to the entire satisfaction of every one.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

The management of our Public Schools is so independent of the action of the City Council that I need hardly refer to them. Yet they constitute one of the most interesting and important objects for which you will be called upon to provide liberally. The importance of our schools cannot be over-estimated. While the people are willing to be taxed to a liberal extent for this purpose, they naturally and properly expect a beneficial result in proportion to what they expend. Even those who have no children to be educated, cheerfully pay their proportion of the expense, so long as they are satisfied that the school money is judiciously and profitably expended. So long as this expenditure is all incurred under the direction of the several School Committees, it is no part of our duties as City Council to ascertain if this large appropriation is judiciously and economically applied; and further than making the necessary appropriation, the City Council have no control over it.

If parents and citizens do not rest satisfied with the impression that all our schools are in a very satisfactory condition, and think there is danger that Military Drill and Dramatic Exhibition will occupy the time and thoughts of teachers and pupils to the neglect of thorough instruction in all those most important branches of a complete education, then it is for them to consider and correct the evil. In connection with this subject I would suggest that you confer with the several School Committees before making this appropriation, with a view to ascertain if it may not be reduced without detriment to the schools.

The extended reports of the several School Committees, containing the transactions of the past year, and setting forth the wants of the present, will soon be laid before you.

ALMS HOUSE.

The general health of the inmates has been good during the year. The expenditures of this establishment have been large, and must continue to be so until the extreme high price of provisions shall have been reduced. The Matron of the House, has discharged her responsible duties with great care and fidelity, and is entitled to the confidence and respect of the citizens of Portsmouth.

The City Farm has been somewhat improved during the year. The buildings have been kept in good repair, and the crops raised about the same as usual.

The House of Correction requires to be rebuilt, and in such a manner that there will be no possible doubt of the safety of the inmates against fire. The awful death of three of the inmates by being burned a few days since, calls upon you for prompt action, and careful attention in every particular pertaining to the safety and care of the unfortunate inmates.

The nett income of the City Farm the past year, was $5234,15, which is $1137,97 less than for the previous year. This reduction is to be accounted for by the fall in the price of hay, and in the failure of the apple crop.

FIRE DEPARTMENT.

The Fire Department, to whose heroic exertions we are indebted for the preservation of much valuable property every year, is believed to be in better condition than at any time, since its organization. The great change which has been made by the purchase of two Steam Fire Engines meets the approval of every intelligent person, and has greatly increased the efficiency of this department. I would call upon you to consider the expediency of purchasing one more hand Steam Fire Engine, as we are sometimes dependent upon one, the other being occasionally under repair for a few days.

There have been purchased during the year, two Hose Carriages, and one thousand feet of leather leading hose. The Department has been reduced by one company, "No. 6" having disbanded. The hand engines No. 2 and 4, have been sold. I am informed by the Chief Engineer that one thousand feet leading hose will be required the present year, and also a Water Tank to supply the boiler of the Steamer No. "1" with fresh water, when drafting salt water from the river. The reservoir on Market Square requires a larger inlet than the present one. I would recommend that one or more reservoirs, with ample inlets, be built the current year. It seems apparent that reservoirs should be constructed from year to year, until those portions of the city distant from the river, shall be properly provided for.

Your attention is called to the poor reliance we have for a supply of water in cases of fire in the outlying portions of the City. The very limited supply of water furnished by the Portsmouth Aqueduct Company, is often paralyzing to the best efforts of the Fire Department. If a sufficient supply of water could have been obtained readily at the rate cent fire on Congress street, no doubt twenty thousand dollars's worth of property would have been saved. If our Fire Department is to be called upon to draw water from the river to replenish the reservoirs, you are expected to provide for the exigency.

POLICE DEPARTMENT.

The Police Department has been reorganized the past year. The Marshal and Assistant Marshals devote their whole time to the service of the City, and receive but a fair equivalent for such services. Special Police are paid for actual service performed. This Department requires active, impartial and efficient men, who possess firmness and determination, and who unite with a conscientious regard for duty a capacity and experience equal to its discharge. Their duties are such as like this are arduous and perplexing. Life and property must be made secure. Crime must be punished and the laws executed. That the Police Department has maintained general good order during the past year, cannot be doubted. If the security of the citizens and the maintenance of law in the community is eminently upon the shoulders of the firmness and efficiency of the day police, there is equal necessity for the employment of competent and trustworthy men upon the Night Watch. We should employ the best men that can be procured for this service, and favor paying them such wages as will prove a fair compensation for labor, and which will command all their time. The man who is employed during the day is not suitable to guard the city by night. It seems apparent from past experience that the day police and watchmen should be more perfectly united under one head. They should act in complete harmony with each other. Their duties being similar, when one force retires from duty, the other should assume it. I trust such changes will be made as will add to the efficiency of this Department.

STREETS.

The appropriation for streets the past year, was one thousand dollars larger than it was for the previous year, and by securing the services of our former efficient Street Commissioner, Ebenezer Haines, it has been used to the best possible advantage, but although unusually large, it was not sufficient for all the demands upon this Department. State street below Pleasant, and Market street between Hanover and Deer, as all are aware, are in a very bad condition, and have long needed repairs. There are other streets that should be attended to this season if our finances will admit, among which are Vaughan and North streets. These principal thoroughfares ought to be repaired this coming season.

ROADS AND BRIDGES.

Those of our citizens who reside in distant parts of the City, cannot expect to enjoy the privilege of side-walks and like improvements. It is therefore but reasonable that the more remote streets and roads in our City should be put in good condition and kept in good repair. The Surveyors of Highways the past year, have, I believe, performed the responsible duties required of them in a very satisfactory manner. Whether it will be necessary to increase the appropriation for roads and bridges the present year, sufficient to rebuild the North Bridge, will be for you to determine.

SEWERS.

I would call your attention to the importance of constructing durable sewers in the principal streets. We are very deficient in these valuable outlets for the sewage and filth of the streets. They are required not only as a matter of convenience, but also and especially for the health of the inhabitants of the City. The work can be performed by degrees by using each year, a portion of the appropriation for streets. Vaughan Street during the past winter and spring, must have convinced every one that it is impracticable for the large flow of water in that vicinity to be carried away upon the surface of the ground.

REVISING THE ORDINANCES.

The work of revising and consolidating the Ordinances and publishing the same with the special laws relating to the management of the City, as ordered by the City Council, has been completed. Much time has been spent and great care taken in re-framing and correcting the Ordinances, so that they may conform to the language and spirit of the Statutes. The neat and convenient arrangement of the Laws and Ordinances in one volume, will commend itself to the favor of those having occasion to search for such information as they contain, and prove a ready reference in the deliberations of the City Council.

CONCLUSION.

Gentlemen of the City Council—I have refrained from suggesting any important changes or undertakings which would demand a great outlay of money. Other matters requiring your action may arise, which are now unexpected, but I rely upon your desire to act always for the good of the City, and with the promptness which the importance of the occasion may demand.

In conclusion, permit me to assure you of my cheerful and hearty co-operation in any measure which shall have for its object the general and permanent welfare of our City.

MR. BREWSTER'S ADDRESS,

Gentlemen of the Common Council:—

I thank you for the honor you have just now conferred upon me. I should enter upon the duties of presiding officer of this Board with great reluctance did I not confidently trust in your kind forbearance and consideration to overlook whatever errors may be committed; and likewise in your free counsel and advice in all matters pertaining to our branch of the City Government.—These I earnestly bespeak; and it shall be my endeavor to discharge my duties to the acceptance of yourselves, the public, and my own conscience.

Permit me at this time to suggest to you what an experience of three years in the Council has led me to conceive to be two of the most important duties of a Common Councilman. Your own good sense will assent. They are punctuality and promptness. If our meetings are called at half past seven, let us be present at twenty-five minutes past. Much time, valuable to some members at least, has frequently been wasted while waiting for a quorum. The inevitable result is the falling off of attendance, and the lagging of business. If any duty is assigned to a committee or a member, let it be despatched as early and as quickly as the interests of the City will warrant. Let all reports of committees be ready, if possible, at the time fixed. You will bear in mind your solemn oath of office to perform your duties to the best of your ability. Is not attendance upon every meeting of the Board among the first of these?

For the first time since the close of the war, this Council assembles at its organization with the expectation of a peaceful year. Bounty and recruiting ordinances, and such matters were questions of life and bloodshed, have become things that were, and it is now our pleasing duty to prepare for a full restoration of the peaceful state we were of old wont to enjoy. Our business will rather more incline to City improvements than while we were called upon to exhaust our means in paying bounties. We can well congratulate each other that in this respect we enter the municipal year under favorable auspices.

I trust I shall not enter too largely upon the province of his Honor the Mayor, in making a few suggestions as to the prospective business of this Board.

The last Board of Common Council has referred to you the important subject of a new City Hall. Unless some measures are taken through individual enterprise, to supply the great want in this respect, it should be your duty to give the matter a full and fair consideration. Since Jefferson Hall, phœnix-like, passed away in giving place to the Museum present proposed, all public amusement assemblies, there is no suitable place for a public gathering which is large enough to contain the multitudes which used to throng it.

Should such an edifice be built, it would be well to take a plan entirely dissimilar in its external appearance from that now containing the Museum and Opera House, with its front on Market Square. Imposing! for certainly it is a great imposition on the good taste of the public. If the City Government is to continue to make this its head-quarters, the credit of the city seems to demand that its outside adornment should be made to equal the elegance and good taste displayed in the interior.

There is one other subject which should commend itself to your notice. Since the introduction of steam fire engines there has been a great deficiency in the supply of water for their use. The inadequacy of the Aqueduct has led to great inconvenience, and at a critical moment might be the cause of vast destruction of property, notwithstanding the presence of these invaluable engines. To supply this lack of water a plan has been proposed which is worthy of consideration. The two mill ponds on either side of us are never-failing water sources. By the construction of large reservoirs in different sections of the City, having proper connection with either mill pond or with the river, by means of conduits large enough to pour in a stream of water sufficient for all the engines in the City, we should have an unfailing supply. If the scheme is practicable, would it not be worth to make use of the great natural advantage at our disposal? Some means for procuring an additional supply of water for fires should be speedily devised.

One of our most important duties is in connection with the appropriation of the City's money. Too much care cannot be exercised in studying that economy which is not parsimony, and that liberality which is not prodigality. Our view of all matters urged upon our consideration should be a broad one, comprehending the effect of our action upon every one of our citizens,—the poorest as well as the richest.

In the peculiar relation of the two branches of the City Government to each other it is not surprising that there should at times be a conflict of opinion between the Boards. Whatever this difference may be, let us, on our part, exercise moderation, and never forget that courtesy which will do more than any other means to harmonize the action of the two bodies.

Gentlemen, it is my sincere wish that our relations to each other in this Board for the coming year may be of the most pleasant kind; and that at its close we may look back upon our work well done.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

☞ The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both Land and Water, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven rebel prisons; his daring escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the best, inside and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, has does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it profitable to apply at their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

Special Notice.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is a tell tale and indicator of disease. It may fade and disappear from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. MAGOON'S BILIOUS, DYSPEPTIC AND DIARRHŒA PILLS cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin, MAGOON'S SALVE is invaluable. Sold by J. MAGOON, 43 Fulton street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cents per box. deodeodwly

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—These plasters have the compactness of kid leather and the flexibity of a silk glove. They have cured varicose veins and external aneurisms. For all affections of the chest, weight about the diaphragm or upper portion of the bowels, in colds and coughs, for injuries of the back, for all strains or bruises, for a weak back, for nervous pains of the bowels, and other nervous affections and cramps, for heart affections,—in all these cases they have to be used to be properly appreciated.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Farnville, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s: but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours, very truly,

THE CITY GOVERNMENT of Portsmouth wasorganized at the Court House, on Tuesday, Jan. 2d, for the year 1866. In Convention, the mayor elect, Mr. Bailey, again took the oath of office; and Marcellus Bufford was re-elected City Clerk,—having all the votes, 31 in number. For City Messenger Charles A. Wiggin, the old incumbent, had 16 votes, and George W. Marston 16; and the Mayor, casting his vote, declared Mr. Marston elected. In the Common Council, Lewis W. Brewster was chosen President. Appropriate Prayer was offered on the occasion by Rev. Mr. Lane. The Addresses of the Mayor and President of the Com. Council, we give elsewhere.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH,

IN BOARD OF ALDERMEN, Dec 30, 1865.

The following Resolutions were adopted and ordered to be printed:

Resolved, That the thanks of this Board be and are hereby tendered to His Honor the Mayor for the very able manner in which he has presided over its deliberations during the past year, uniformly treating every member with courtesy, thus contributing largely to the harmony and dispatch which have characterized its proceedings through the year.

Resolved, That the Board anticipate with pleasure the continuance of his services for another year.

A true copy, attest:

MARCELLUS BUFFORD, Clerk.

THE POLYORAMA OF THE WAR—The series of paintings which have been on exhibition in Haverhill for several evenings past, have been attended by larger and better audiences than usual, who have frequently attested their appreciation by applause. The pictures are unlike any which have ever been exhibited here before, tho' many of them represent similar scenes; and they form to a considerable extent, a history of the war, (so far as a history of the long and bloody contest can be put upon canvass) commencing with the bombardment of Sumter and ending with the assassination of Lincoln, and his final burial at Oak Ridge Cemetery. The lecture descriptive of the scenes, by Mr. Chesley, is a model of its kind, being brief, in well chosen words, and at the same time sufficiently full to make all the features of the pictures well understood by the audience.—Publisher.

This exhibition will open at the Temple on Friday evening next.

☞ Music enough ahead for next week. The Cornet Band on Monday evening; Mr. Joy's Singing School Concert, Wednesday; probably the Lyceum on Tuesday; and we know not what else. Well, the more the merrier; and there is no danger of getting two much that is good. The Musical Conventions also take place next week, at Exeter and Concord—of all which, see advertisement or bills in their proper places.

PORTSMOUTH BANK DIVIDENDS.—The Rockingham National Bank pays 4 1 2 per cent. January dividend. New Hampshire National Bank 4 per cent. The First National and National Mechanics and Traders Banks have each recently paid 4 per cent. dividends. The Bank of New Hampshire paid a stock dividend of 10 per cent. January 1, or $6 per share.

☞ Mr. Benjamin Brooks, one of the oldest and most highly esteemed citizens of Newmarket, we hear, died suddenly in that town a day or two since, of apoplexy. He was father-in-law of Mr. W. K. Day of this city.

POLICE COURT, Jan. 2d.—James Bain, for assault on Henry A. Dolano, fined $10, and costs taxed at $4.80. Paid.

☞ Events at and in the vicinity of Vera Cruz do not indicate any intention of the French to withdraw from the country at an early day, but on the contrary, are regarded there as as showing a disposition to contest their occupancy of Mexican territory with the United States. The arrivals of soldiers from France continue, twelve hundred being landed at Vera Cruz on the 6th inst., and about three hundred more on the 11th, all of whom were immediately after sent into the field. French cannon and other war munitions and supplies are still daily arriving, and the defences of the city are being greatly strengthened and remounted with the heaviest and most improved guns, the work being carried on as secretly as possible, and principally at night.

PASSION.—The man who gets into a passion is said to forget himself; but the fact is he forgets other people. The man or woman who buys any other Saleratus but Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, not only forgets other people and themselves, but runs the risk of scattering broadcast dyspepsia, and many other evils naturally attending the human system. As you value health and good eating, never buy any other. Have the Gold Medal or none. Everybody sells it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York. 30

— The newly finished wing of the Tuileries, on the water side, is now undergoing the process of washing with diluted silicate of alumina, or common white clay slacked in water, for the purpose of hardening the soft stone used in the building. This operation was successfully performed on the buildings of the new Louvre, a few years since.

A New England paper says Mr. Beecher has been arrested in Southberry, Ct., in the act of stealing cider brandy from a distillery. We have been expecting something of this sort.

GOLD, Tuesday, 144 1-2.

— A telegram from Augusta, Georgia, to Washington, says, on Thursday night a squad of U. S. colored troops and discharged colored soldiers made an assault upon the house of a widow, six miles from Augusta, supposing her to be unprotected. They, however, met with serious resistance. Three of them were mortally wounded and two seriously. Col. Ruth in command of the Arsenal, arrived with a squad in time to relieve the inmates of the house, but not until everything in the lower portion of it had been destroyed.

☞ The January thaw is a "capital institution" for producing Cold, Coughs, and kindred ailments—much worse than severe cold weather, and we advise our readers, particularly those predisposed to any pulmonary weakness, to see to it they are well shod, and allow no change of clothing. If any one is so unfortunate as to contract a Cold, Hoarseness, or other pulmonary disorder, we know of nothing so efficient as Coe's Cough Balsam. Our advice is, take little and often.

To those who have been living on the fat of the land through the holidays, and have got their stomachs out of order, we would prescribe Coe's Dyspepsia Cure; it has cured some very bad cases of Dyspepsia. jt-1w

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-spot) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either! and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a speciality, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, intallible and harmless.

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the most pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supersede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, and has for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed." In Pereira's "Materia Medica" in a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

THE CHOLERA IN TURKEY.—The New York Post publishes an extract from a private letter just received from Rev. Cyrus Hamlin, D. D., President of Robert College, Constantinople. It is dated "Halki, Prince's Island, Sea of Marmora, August 7, 1865," and is the latest intelligence from Constantinople. Mr. Hamlin says:

"Since I last wrote you the cholera has occupied all our thoughts and time. At that date we were still deceived to a certain extent by official reports. Now every one knows they are enormous falsehoods. The cholera has been increasing in extent and intensity with great rapidity, until a universal panic has seized the entire population.

All who can find means or conveyances are fleeing. Every steamer leaving the port is crowded from stem to stern. Those who fled from Egypt are now returning, and it is believed that one thousand to fifteen hundred die daily. My noble and darling little grandson H— W——, last Friday evening was placed in his little bed in apparent health, and before the same hour the next evening he was laid in his quiet grave. He awoke toward morning, Saturday, with the chill of death upon him, and the most powerful remedies were entirely unheeded. * * * I have heard of the death of one physician and the mortal illness of another. The wife of another physicianhas been taken, and deaths have occurred in some five or six English families.

The Porte has closed most of the places of business, and in the thoroughfares, once so crowded, you see little but the hurrying along of silent funerals. We have put up and distributed a great deal of medicine; and hundreds of bottles, labeled Dr. Hamlin's mixture, have been sold by one apothecary. The missionaries distribute it among poor, and many lives have been saved by it. Mr. Trowbridge gave it to seven workmen just stricken down by it, and all are recovering.

We have daily cases here at this island, but thus far few deaths. I think nine-tenths of the cases recover. It may become more malignant. Most of the missionaries devote themselves constantly and fearlessly and nobly to the sick and dying. I have myself done little but give directions. My health has not been satisfactory since I came here. I am better now decidedly, and hope in a few days to be perfectly well."

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S

PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

Life-giving Pills!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A Very Fountain of Youth,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle-aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever

AN ETERNAL SPRING!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.

These Famous Remedies

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of care than these Pills. Their mild and gentle influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

For Cutaneous Disorders

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS

Invariably Cure the Following Diseases:

Asthma,
Bowel Complaints,
Coughs,
Colds,
Chest Diseases,
Costiveness,
Dyspepsia,
Diarrhœa,
Dropsy,
Debility,

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. G. HENRIQUEZ,

CRIME BY MAGNETISM.—A case of malign influence has occurred in France lately, if the statement of a correspondent of the London Times may be believed. He says; "An extraordinary and I believe an unprecedented case has just been tried at the Assize Court of the Var. A young man of twenty four, named Castellan, presented himself at the house of a respectable farmer named Hughes, and pretending to be deaf and dumb, obtained supper and a night's lodging. In the morning he persuaded the farmer's daugher, a modest girl of twenty-six, to run away with him, and the indictment alleged that he obtained an irresistible influence over her entirely by means of magnetism. The moment she came to her senses she was filled with remorse, but whenever he magnetized her she was a mere instrument in his hands, and submitted to whatever he told her. Three doctors of Toulon gave their opinion in accordance with that of Dr. Tardieu, of Paris, and many other medical men of the highest reputation, that it is possible, by means of what is called magnetism, to obtain such influence over a young girl as completely to annihilate her will. Castellan boasted of his magnetic power while standing at the bar, and offered to magnetize the Procureur Imperial, and frightened him so much that he agrily ordered the prisoner to lower his eyes. Being found guilty by the jury, he was sentenced to twelve years imprisonment with hard labor."

A LITERARY PLACE.—Charlottesville is fairly entitled to be called the literary centre of the South. There is, first, the University of Virginia, with its learned professors upon all sorts of subjects. Then we have two large female seminaries, where young ladies learn thirty or forty things ending in—ology. Then we have some half dozen first class academies for boys. Then several select schools. Then a number of schools for the English branches. And then the whole colored population of both sexes, and all ages is repeating from morning to night, a-b—ab, e-b—eb, i-b—ib; c-a-t—cat, d-o-g—dog, c-u-p—cup, &c, through all the varieties of the first lessons in orthography. There are four or five colored schools, and little negro chaps darken every door with primers in their hands. If we pass a blacksmith's shop, we hear a-b—ab; if we pass a shoemaker's shop, it is a-b—ab; if we pass by a negro cabin in the suburbs of the town, we hear the sound a-b—ab; if the cook goes out to suckle her infant, it is a-b—ab; the dining room servant washes up his dishes and plates, crying a-b—ab; the hostler curries his horse, repeating a-b—ab; Jerry blacks your boots, saying, with rapid strokes a-b—ab, a-b—ab; the whole air is resonant with a-b—ab. The little yellow boy who sleeps in our chamber awoke us the other night, muttering in his dreams a-b—ab. Mr. Greely has stirred up thunder here. If you send a little negro boy on an errand, he is spelling every thing he meets in one syllable. The little white boys look at them wonderingly and try to cork them. In a month or so we expect to issue an evening edition of the Chronicle in monosyllables, to increase our circulation—perhaps a pictorial, with tubs and spades, and ants and cows, and owls and bats—like the primers.—Charlottesville (Va.) Chronicle.

SOUTHERN PRIDE.—We heard, recently, an amusing instance of Southern pride. A Tennessee lady was in Washington, interceding for a pardon for her rebel husband. Her application to the President was well received, and he treated her with great consideration and kindness. In speaking of her interviews with him to a friend, the lady remarked that the President was very cordial and gracious, spoke very kindly of her husband and his family, and invited her to stay at the White House while she remained in Washington. "Well," said her friend, "you accepted the President's hospitality?" "No," remarked the lady; we never knew the Johnsons. We wonder if the President will know the Browns!—New Bedford Mercury.

ADVERTISING.—It will pay every man who has an article to sell, to advertise it: Would you sell a horse, let the public know it. It will cost you less than a week's feed for him. If you would sell your farm, let the public know it, and the probabilities are, that some one of the thousands of readers of your county papers want such a farm, and will buy. We pick up some of our exchanges and find whole columns of houses and farms offered at public and private sale, as though the whole community was about to move. They find it pays sooner or later.

You may think that our object is to make money. Well, you are right. We should never have invested our money in a printing office just for the pleasure of buying white paper at a high price and trusting it out at $2 per annum, from Maine to California. The money we get on the subscription has never paid expenses. We print it in hope that an intelligent business public will appreciate it as a business organ, through which to make known its wants. Whether you desire to sell or to purchase, a small sum invested in an advertisement will save you days of waiting and cost of personal application.—Exchange.

The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand people within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1866.

PRIZE MONEY TO NAVAL OFFICERS.—A Washington dispatch gives a list of the prize money paid to different Flag Officers of squadrons and Commanders of vessels during the rebellion. The largest single amount of prize money paid was to Lieut. Wm. Budd for the capture of Memphis, viz., $38,318. The capture of the Albemarle by Lieut. Cushing's picket boat netted the boat's crew $1,934 per man. Vice Admiral Farragut receives $55,443. Rear Admirals Lee and Porter receive over $90,000 each, Dupont $38,476, and other Admirals sums varying from $39,000 to 473. The sums awarded to other officers vary from $54,000 to $500. The enlisted men have been paid sums varying from 13 cents to $1,900. Thus far $8,500,000 prize money have been paid. Six hundred captures remain unadjudicated, which will swell the aggregate to about $15,000,000.

MEDICAL STATISTICS.—The Surgeon General has issued, for the information of medical officers a quarto pamphlet of 166 illustrated pages, being the preliminary report of Surgeons Otis and Woodward, who are compiling a surgical history of the war. Upward of two millions of patients have been treated in the 202 general hospitals. During the first year of the war the ratio of deaths from disease in the hospitals was 48 per thousand, and from wounds 17 per thousand. During the second year the ratio of deaths from disease was 65 per thousand, and from wounds 15 per thousand. The average number of men on the sick list, including the wounded and absent in hospital, was about ten per cent. About 5000 specimens of surgical injuries have been collected for the museum in Washington.

ONE RASCAL CAUGHT.—An American named Wm. C. Foster had been arrested at Panama, charged with being concerned in the robbery of Paymaster Rittenhouse's safe in October, but was subsequently released, there being no evidence against him. The real culprit, Mark Bradley, who keeps a bar-room in Panama, has been secured through the evidence of a sailor boy named Fritz Icke, from the U. S. ship Cyane, who was employed in Rittenhouse's office at the time, and who took an impression of the key of the safe. The money was abstracted by the boy, who was to receive $3000 as his share, and carried off by Bradley's barkeeper, named Ned McLoughlin, in presence of both the others. The boy only received a dozen dollars, and was threatened with death if he blowed. Five hundred and sixty-six dollars in gold, supposed to be a part of the plunder, was hid on Bradley's premises. The barkeeper went to California, whence he escaped some weeks ago.

☞ The Newbern (N. C.) Daily Times having charged that the negroes in that State are plotting insurrection, a colored clergyman, Rev. J. W. Hood, who is pastor of the largest negro congregation in North Carolina, writes a sharp reply. He says:

There is a class of men who are not entirely satisfied with the new order of things; they are especially displeased with the action of the Government in allowing discharged colored soldiers (as well as whites) to retain their side arms. The time has been when they could cane a colored man off the sidewalk with impunity; but they fear that it would not be quite safe to amuse themselves in that way while the colored man is permitted to have the means of self-defence, and hence the great desire to get up some pretext for robbing the colored people of all means of protection, and then cry "mad dog!"

Mr. Hood goes on to say that there is not the least intention on the part of the negroes to create any disturbance. The ignorant are too docile, and the intelligent know that they have everything to lose and nothing to gain by it. The colored people, as a mass, are a law-abiding people, and, if let alone, will trouble nobody. The rumors are the work of designing men.

— The people of Leyden, Holland, recently made a raid on the cats of the town, and in one night slew some six hundred. The feline race had of late multiplied to such an extent in that city as to become a nuisance.

— George A. Dingley, of Waterville, Me., has been sentenced to six months' imprisonment for doing business as a retail liquor dealer without a license, as provided by the Internal Revenue laws of the United States.

— A Providence paper says that the Mashapaug ice houses are undergoing a thorough cleaning out since they were built, and a sixty pound chunck was taken out which was placed in store four years ago. It retains all the freshness of its youthful days.

— A few days ago, at Stanwich, Ct., an enormous black bear entered the house of S. J. Close, made a raid on the pantry, and taking a jar of honey from the shelf, proceeded to gobble down its contents. He was driven out and secured.

☞ The New Year's Levee and Military Reunion, at Concord, Monday night, was a grand affair—the ladies there declare, the best thing of the kind which ever came off in that city, and of course they know. The company was large and brilliant, including many distinguished guests; and the proportion of out-of town visitors was unusually great. Prominent among the notabilities, State and National, was Governor Smyth, in his new and elegant uniform, just presented him for this occasion by his staff, which present also included a full set of horse equipments and all. His Excellency never looked better than in his new rig—in contrast to which, we never saw Her Excellency "unadorned" so much before.

Eagle Hall was finely decorated, and with the whirling company on the floor, and the gallery crowded with lady spectators, the scene was gay and inspiriting indeed. The Germanians furnished the music, which was prompt, lively and good, but lacked the richness which plenty of wind instruments give.

Gen. Natt Head was prime mover and manager in the whole affair, and of course everything was done up in good style. A capital supper was served at the Phenix and Eagle Hotels, which were thronged with guests, and many applicants for rooms were unable to obtain them. We were much indebted to Ken Elliot, clerk at the Phenix, for turning himself out, that we might turn in, when we got ready. We were going to say it was a waste, for a bachelor like him to have such quarters—but then, only for that condition of things, we could hardly have got his nice room at all. Dumas & Thompson were everywhere, looking out for the crowd, as usual.

☞ The Newburyport Herald is "down" on those who retire from active life when they ought to be using their means for the public good by making local business. It says:

"We have been accustomed so long to see men retire on four and sixpence, and live on what they could save by beating down market women on the price of a quart of berries or a peck of potatoes, that we have narrowed our ideas till our vision is like a man's looking in the big end of a funnel and coming out at a very small hole."

☞ "Every Saturday" is the title of the new weekly "Journal of Choice Reading selected from foreign current literature,"—the first number of which was issued by Ticknor & Fields for this week. It is in quarto or book form, 28 pages, and well filled with varied matter, designed "for home and travel." In the vignette head is a railroad train, labelled Atlantic & Pacific R. R., from which we infer that the new paper is to be a "live" sheet—as it certainly will, if in charge of T. B. Aldrich, as reported.

☞ A fire in Philadelphia, Tuesday morning at 1 o'clock, destroyed Harnden's Express Building, and others, with goods, in the whole worth $1,000,000. So many robberies took place at the fire, that it is supposed that it was set for the purpose of robbery.

— Government is advised that the representations made to Spain in favor of peace with Chili have so far prevailed that the good offices of France and England have been accepted upon the terms proposed by them and the United States.

— Mr. Wm. C. West of Chilmark, Mass., was found dead in a field near his dwelling house last week, having been crushed to death by a large rock rolling upon him in an excavation dug for the purpose of sinking it. He was 42 years of age, and leaves a wife and seven children.

— The insurance companies of Montreal have given each member of the fire police in that city a free policy of insurance for $1000, and to that they have added the promise of $5 each per week in case of accidents received at fires. This is in encouragement of their past and future good conduct as firemen.

— In the suit brought against Mr. Wm. Merritt, the Superintendent of the Boston and Maine Railroad, by W. J. Brackett, for causing him to be arrested without a warrant, for refusing to pay his fare, the jury of the Superior Court in Essex Co., last week returned a verdict of $519. But Judge Wilkinson, before whom the case was tried, immediately ordered the verdict to be set aside on the ground that the damages were excessive.

— Six children in the family of Mr. Garrison, of Waterloo, Wis., have died within a short time from drinking the milk of a cow which had been bitten by a mad dog—the virus remaining in her system. They all suffered most terrible spasms. [Rather a tough case, or else a tough story.]

— A shopkeeper in Hartford, Conn., has been arrested for passing counterfeit twenty-five cent currency. He has made quite a business of it, receiving his stuff in sheets from New York. He has confessed his guilt.

— It is a singular fact that, among all the guns sent to the Springfield armory for repairs, not one of the considerable number that has been bursted is a Springfield rifle.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— We are informed that Widow Tibbetts, of Rochester, who was just 100 years old on Christmas Day, and is smart and active yet,—had her picture taken at her home on that occasion. Mr. Aaad Tibbetts of this city is a grand-child of hers.

—— A Candia correspondent of the Union says 22 negroes from the South are in that town, and that some republicans there complain of their presence. It is rather odd, though, that their complaint should come through the Union. The people there would do well to set them to work, as we do here, what few we have.

—— 2000 women in Manchester, recently petitioned the City Government, to enforce the law against selling liquor. This petition was referred to a Committee, who reported, that whereas the attempts to enforce the law in cities were expensive and fruitless, as they did not result in conviction, therefore resolved that it is not expedient to prosecute; and whereas rum was sold freely, therefore resolved to apply to the legislature for a license law. The resolutions passed without division.

—— The Rochester Courier of Dec. 29 says after the gate of the Norway Plains Company had been shut down 36 hours, no water was passing over their dams on the Cocheco river in Rochester — something heretofore unknown to the oldest inhabitant. At the present time of writing the mills are unable to run for want of water. The apparent "shutting up" of the ground for the season, while the wells in many places are dry or so low as to be of little use, indicates that the eight hour system will have to be adopted in many manufacturing establishments.

—— H. A. Moses, one of the track repairers on the N. H. Central Railroad, was run over by a train near Goffstown on Tuesday, and so injured that he died in half an hour. It is supposed he stepped forward to pick up an iron bar which he feared might injure the train, and that his boot caught in the rail, and held him till the train passed over him. He leaves a widow and five children, who will, we hope be cared for by the Railroad Company which he has served for years, and in whose service he lost his life.

VERMONT UNIVERSALIST SCHOOL,—locating Committee decide unanimously to locate the Institute at Barre. The town of Barre lies off from the railroad, about seven miles from Montpelier. It is a flourishing farming town and is the site of the Barre granite of which the walls of the State Capitol are built. It is suggested that the edifice for the new school will be of the same substantial material. The Corporation propose to proceed at once with the buildings and expect to be about eighteen months in completing them. They will cost, together with the necessary outfit of furniture and apparatus, about fifty thousand dollars, forty thousand of which is already pledged.

NEWSPAPERS ENLARGED.—The Worcester Daily Transcript was lately purchased by a number of gentlemen, associated under the name of S. B. Bartholomew & Co., who have changed its name to Worcester Evening Gazette, considerably enlarged its size and improved its appearance.

The Boston Evening Voice, and the Newburyport Herald, both Daily Editions, have also been enlarged.

A CATHOLIC CHARITY AT SALEM.—A correspondent of the Boston Pilot says:

"Thomas Looby, esq., has purchased the estate of the late Tucker Daland, a large and commodious three-story building on Bridge street, midway between the Immaculate Conception and St. James' Church, Salem, as a permanent Home for the poor, destitute and homeless wandering orphan children of the city of Salem, many of whom are now suffering for the want of food and raiment. This asylum will be under the guardianship of a Sister or Sisters of Charity."

The J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap is just the thing to please the ladies. The maker studies their wants and wishes, and leaves nothing undone which will make a washing day a gala day; and from the sale of it we should think it was fully appreciated by them. The lady who does not enjoy the advantage of its good qualities is deprived of a great luxury in she way of white, nice clothes. Go at once and get a supply. 33

— Brigham Young is reported to have 185 wives, Silas Roeder 129, Jeremiah Stern 111, Job Billison 93, Julius Hoffman 92, Habacue Croatzy 81, and Gideon Ruffian 84. Brigham's oldest wife is not over 49, and his youngest not above 14, while he is the survivor of no fewer than twenty-eight spouses.

— The Haverhill Gazette announces that George Peabody, the London banker, is to erect a new church edifice in Georgetown, to accommodate the church and society lately formed in that place, to sustain the faith of their fathers, in opposition to the new divinity introduced there by Rev. Chas. Beecher.

— The failure of Mr. W. H. Crosby of Chicago is not entirely owing to his investment in the famous Opera House building, which cost over four hundred thousand dollars, but is said to have been owing to unlucky speculations in wool.

— M'lle Parepa was born in Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1839, and is therefore about 26 years of age.

— Daniel Lynch, a boy fourteen years old, broke through the ice while skating on the Connecticut, at Holyoke, on Friday, and was drowned.

— An English writer asserts that the use of tea with insufficient food leads to a craving for stimulants. He accounts in this way for the opium eating of the Chinese.

— Miss Rose arrived in Louisville from Texas a few days since, on her way to Shelby county, Ky., to be married. While going to the depot, she was run over and killed.

— Samuel Rose of Spring Hill, Johnson county, Kansas, died recently of hydrophobia. His sufferings were very acute. The pain was first felt in a spot where he was bitten several years ago.

— Twenty-five years ago Mr. Safford was murdered in Shelburn, Vt., and the murderer never detected. A few days ago the murderer died in Canada, and just before his death confessed the deed. So says the Burlington Sentinel.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,

Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836,

78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,

BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Reports of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered in any other place in the country. Inventors who prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."

CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."

EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which Patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."

JOHN TAGGART

☞During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump exects anything known. It throws one third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can be now warranted, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony of their excellence.

COTTON PLANTATIONS

FOR SALE.

We have for sale upon the easy for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the South, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—We place the price of these plantations far less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any if these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once parties are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being in under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the Southern States by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the South under Northern auspices.

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 2 per cent interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton annually.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South of the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

☞ The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. ☞ A banker informs us that our item of yesterday, respecting Dividends, (which we had from a source we deemed entitled to full Credit, without Discount,) was erroneous in two particulars at least. The Rockingham Nat. Bank declared 9 pr. ct., instead 4 1 2; and the Nat. Bank of N. H. dividend was from surplus,—not "stock" as stated. We hope we have now got them all right; but as we now-a-days invest our surplus in veritable "rocks," rather than Bank stock, and so don't have large direct interest in the matter—we may be wrong yet.

☞ Two little boys, aged 7 and 9 years, sons of Mr. Hanson Adams of this city, broke through the ice on the South Mill Pond Wednesday afternoon, and would have been drowned, had it not been for the earnest efforts of the friends and neighbors in the vicinity. The little fellows were nearly chilled through, and one of them swallowed a large quantity of water, but the attending physicians regarded them, late in the evening, as out of danger. Quite a number of men and boys who were skating over the thin ice where these boys broke in, were treated to an involuntary cold bath, and it is a matter of congratulation that no one was drowned.

"A young gentleman of this city, known as a public writer of ability, has been engaged by the Eight Hour League to deliver an address before that Association during the winter. It was originally intended to invite Wendell Phillips, Esq., to speak, but upon a second consideration it was most judiciously thought best to secure home talent. I predict for the League an entirely satisfactory lecture, and for the speaker an agreeable reception, and corresponding success."

We question the judiciousness of the above course of action by the workingmen, inasmuch as "a prophet is not without honor save in his own country."

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-erspot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette, but they greatly mar the beauty of either; and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the most pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous effects on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of infirmities.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

PEAT FOR FUEL.—A process has been invented for refining and condensing peat for fuel, making, it is said, a superior article. The Haverhill Publisher says:

Albert Betterly of Boston is the inventor of the process by which this work is done, and by which it is drained of the water that is held in the cellular tissue of the peat in its natural state, and is thus able to be consolidated, dried, and brought into a manageable and merchantable form at a moderate expense.

The article produced is about two-thirds as heavy as anthracite coal, and is judged to be capable of producing an equal amount of heat, while in many important particulars it is preferable to coal as an article of fuel. From an able article lately published in the New York Independent, we glean the following points indicating its superiority to coal. 1st, to burn in an open grate; 2d, for fire in a sick chamber, being a purifier of the air while it is free from any sulphurous or other injurious gas; 3d, for steam purposes it is more effective than any thing else; 4th, for making and refining iron it is equal to charcoal; 5th, for producing illuminating gas it has at least double the power of coal gas, while a great saving is made in its manufacture by the entire absence of sulphur; 6th, as a disinfectant and deodorizer it is among the most efficacious substances known. There are many other uses for which it is preferable to any other article of fuel, but those named above are sufficient to give it an importance which will at once command the attention of the public.

The great point to be gained was, to invent a practical method of overcoming its natural porousness, and refine it so as to solidify it in blocks convenient to be handled and transported, and which will burn without crumbling to pieces in the fire. All this has been completely mastered by the invention of Mr. Betterly, who has assigned his patents to the American Peat Company, and now the work of developing the peat resources of the country is going on.

The deposits of peat are immense through the country, as far south as Virginia, and they will become at once accessible in consequence of the new discovery made in the manufacture of fuel of so great value from it. Peat Meadows will command a price equal to the value of the article for this purpose and no more. There can be no royalty in the matter, the article only being of value at a price to warrant the manufacture of it at a price to compete with other fuel. The expense involved in machinery, steam power and drying-stands, sufficiently extensive for practical operations, we believe is estimated at about five thousand dollars.

A company has been formed in Haverhill, Mass., for its manufacture.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.

DR. MAGGIEL'S

PILLS AND SALVE.

These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these

Life-giving Pills!

Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be

A Very Fountain of Youth,

For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine vigor. To the young and middle aged, they will prove me-f invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever

AN ETERNAL SPRING!

It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.

These Famous Remedies

Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—

FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS

Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest

VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.

They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.

For Cutaneous Disorders

And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabbalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

BRAZIL.—A letter from Rio Janeiro, speaking of Southern immigration to Brazil, says one thing is certain, namely—that whoever goes there must make up his mind to work, for slavery is doomed there. A circumstance of a significant nature took place at the Merchants' Exchange at Rio on the 11th ultimo, illustrating the fact of the unpopularity of slavery:

"It had been advertised that a subscription would be taken up at the Exchange on that day for the liberation from bondage of two negro girls. Somehow or other it seems that the advertisement, read—to one person at least—as if the two girls were to be put up at auction. Accordingly an individual, who willingly placed the latter construction on the advertisement, at the hour named, with the view of purchasing the girls, intimated his intention so broadly that a general shout of indignation was raised against him. He was jostled to and fro among the dense throng that crowded the Exchange, and finally expelled, amidst a perfect yell of indignation and derisive laughter, in the midst of which I heard, above the din, the familiar words of "Turn him out," "Turn him out," in pure English. The throwing up of this straw shows which way the wind of freedom sets. True I have been told that the native Brazilians still cling to slavery; and that the Exchange demonstration was altogether on the part of foreigners, which I have reason to doubt; but, even if so, what then? It only shows that the question of abolishing slavery is allowed to be discussed, and that being the case, the end of the intitution is merely a matter of time."

GAMMON.—The late Dr. Wilson, senior fellow of Trinity College, Dublin, though a very grave man himself, was fond of quizzing the country folks who came to inquire after their relatives and friends in the college. One day, seeing a man in the court with a letter in his hand, gaping and staring about, and not knowing where to go, he walked up to him gravely and inquired what he wanted. The man answered, "Can you tell me where to find Mr. Delahunt?" "Yes," replied the Doctor, "do you see that building before you?" "Yes, sir." "Then crucify that quadrangle, and take the diameter of that plot beyond it, enter the opening before the you, ascend the ligneous grade; then turn to your left, and you will find him either peripatonating in his cuticle, dormitating in his lectum, or periscopounding through his fenestra." "And pray, sir, what is fenestra?" To which the Doctor replied, "It is an orifice in an edifice to admit luminous particles." "Oh, thank you!" said the poor fellow; and he walked off more perplexed than before.

— Mr. Corwin on his return from Mexico, with his naturally dark skin considerably bronzed, was introduced to an English gentleman as an "Ohioan." The Englishman shook his hand and enquired "whether his tribe were at peace with the whites."

— As the quickest way to make a fortune, a cotemporary suggests marrying a fashionable young lady and selling her clothes.

These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent diseases, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they put new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle-aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a boon that should be realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the most inveterate of the most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JANUARY 5, 1866.

THE CHIEF BAKER PROMOTED.—The Wolfboro' News says, that Lieut. T. J. Cate of Effingham has been promoted as Major of Volunteers by brevet, for meritorious service in the Subsistence Department. Major Cate first went out with the old Mass. 6th, and was in Baltimore on the memorable 19th of April, 1861. On arriving in Washington, was detailed to build the celebrated government bakeries under the Capitol. Of these he had charge for some year and a half. He afterwards built bakeries at Fort Runyon, at Manassas, at Bell Plains, at Fortress Monroe—the latter was for McClellan while on the Peninsula—one at Norfolk, one at Point Lookout for the rebel prisoners, while General Butler was in command of that department.

Afterwards he went up the James river as chief commissary of the third colored division, under the command of Gen. Hincks, remaining at City Point until the army of the Potomac arrived. While there Maj. Cate built the largest bakery in the world—sufficiently large to bake bread for one hundred and twenty-five thousand men. This required over four hundred and fifty barrels of flour each day. Both the army of James and the army of the Potomac were furnished from this bakery. It required over three hundred citizens to keep it in operation.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— A State Convention of the Democratic party of New Hampshire has been called to meet at Manchester on the 7th day of February.

—— A letter from Rochester says, "no liquors are to be sold there, unless very privately;—and adds, that tho' it cost the town something to stop the sale, it will save more than it costs, in pauper taxes.

—— Mr. George Clayton of Hampstead, has killed a pig exactly eight months old to a day, which weighed four hundred and twenty-six pounds. How is that for Rockingham County?

—— At the Republican State Convention held on Tuesday, in Concord, Gov. Smyth was nominated by acclamation for re-election next March; and George G. Savage was nominated by ballot, for Railroad Commissioner.

—— On Saturday of last week a seizure was made according to law, of five barrels and parts of barrels of spirituous liquors, at the grocery of Mr. Samuel G. Evans, in Lancaster, under the direction of the Selectmen of the town. We understand it to be the intention of the authorities to make further seizures whenever the sale is discovered, except as authorized.

WASHINGTON ITEMS, by Perley.—Judge Richard Busteed, late of Alabama, having made an issue with the Administration on the writ of habeas corpus, and having declared the test oath unconstitutional, has rested from his judicial labors, and come on here to witness the effect of them.

John Ferguson, of Charleston, S. C., formerly owner of the Planter, has applied for possession of the steamer, claiming that she was stolen by negroes and captured from them by our blockading squadron; that he had taken the Amnesty Oath, and the steamer should be restored to him with his other property. Gen. Saxton, having been called upon to investigate the affair, reports that the Planter was employed by the rebels to transport troops, arms and ammunition during our attack on Charleston. While in this service she was gallantly brought past the rebel batteries, and surrendered to Admiral DuPont by a slave named Robert Small. The steamer has since been repaired at a cost of $40,000, and is employed by the Quartermaster's Department. Small, for bravery displayed since his surrender of the Planter, has been placed in command of the vessel.

PARK ST. CHURCH, BOSTON.—Rev. Dr. Stone has sent a letter to his church requesting a dismission and asking for an ecclesiastical council to dissolve his connection with the church, that he may accept the call to the First Congregational Church, San Francisco. His request was unanimously granted, and a council will be convened. The seventeenth anniversary of Dr. Stone's settlement occurs on the 25th of the present month, at which time his labors there will cease.

GOLD, Thursday, 142 1-2.

— The well-known traveller and literateur, M. Jules de Champagny, while examining certain Etruscan walls and rivers in Calabria, in October, was surprised by brigands, who conveyed him and his companion to the mountains. They imagined his sketches to be military plans of the country, and that he was an emissary of the King of Italy, who is known to be resolved to extipate these bandits. His fate at last accounts was wrapped in uncertainty.

THE RESOLUTIONS of the Republican State Convention of New Hampshire were passed unanimously, and are well presented in the following synopsis:—

The first resolution rejoices in the return of peace, and gives thanks that a rebellion inaugurated for perpetuating and strengthening human bondage, has been overruled by the establishment of universal liberty.

The second contains expressions of sorrow for the death of President Lincoln, and pays a tribute to his patriotism, honesty of purpose, and fidelity to principle.

The third expresses pride in the gallantry of the soldiers of the late Union army.

The fourth states that while slavery no longer exists, we cannot be blind to the fact that many rebel States have already adopted codes manifestly tending to the establishment of another form of involuntary servitude little less oppressive than that which has just been abolished. "It is the sacred duty of the President and of Congress to see that the ordinance of universal emancipation, written in the blood of our fathers and sons, be not by any subterfuge annulled or made of non effect."

The fifth declares that the scheme to plant by foreign bayonets an Austrian despotism in Mexico had its origin in hostility to the United States, and is a standing insult to our power and a menace to our republican institutions.

The sixth recognizes in Andrew Johnson the just citizen, the sincere patriot, and the distinguished statesman. "The tone and temper of his late annual message to Congress meets our warm approval, and augurs well for the success of his administration. We pledge him our hearty confidence and support in all his efforts to restore harmony and mutual trust between the different sections of the Union upon the principles of universal liberty and exact justice to all."

The seventh and last affirms the State and national faith pledged for the redemption of the public debt incurred for the defence of the Union must be kept inviolate; insists upon economy in public expenditures; pledges the Republican party in New Hampshire to retrench and reform wherever practicable. "In the sincerity of this pledge we give the highest guaranty in our power, by presenting for re-election our present Chief Magistrate, Hon. Frederick Smyth, against whose official or personal integrity not even political rancor has dared utter a word. The people know his devotion to their interests, honor his integrity, and will triumphantly re-elect him."

☞ Hon. Geo. G. Fogg was President of the Convention at Concord on Wednesday; and in his speech, as reported for the Boston Journal, he said:

The last two Democratic administrations were the hotbeds in which treason and rebellion flourished and brought forth the fruits of civil war. (Applause.) One of those Cabinet members you well know of—he was the great moving spirit of the rebellion, and in his prison-house to-day the loyal people of the country demand his trial for treason and his punishment.

For eight years democratic ministers at foreign courts were expecting the establishment of a Southern Confederacy, and were making all necessary arrangements for that event. The most bitter enemy of the Union abroad was the Emperor of the French, who did all he dared to do for aiding the rebels. England reluctantly refrained from interference in our affairs. He then spoke at considerable length upon the various roles which bad been played by different foreign countries during the late war.

In concluding, Mr. Fogg said that he believed that all differences existing between Congress and the President would be harmonized. He did not believe that President Johnson would go over to the embraces of a political party which for four years upheld the rebellion, who were grieved at our successes, and who rejoiced whenever the rebels were successful upon the field of battle.

☞ A correspondent of the Exeter News Letter says "people often forget when asking about plowing or mowing, with a machine, how much work can be done in a certain time,—that it makes a difference in the form of the piece to go over. For instance, to plow a piece of land 78 yards long, it is stated that it takes 4 hours 39 minutes in turning round the ends in a day of eight hours. Whereas, when the land is 274 yards long, it takes only one hour and 19 minutes, in turning the ends in a day of eight hours, with furrow slice of 9 inches. Estimated distance travelled in plowing an acre is 11 5-8 miles."

☞ McFarland & Jenks, Concord, have just published a hand book of 176 pages, entitled the Statistical Almanac and Political Manual, for 1866; a hand book for the people. It contains calendar pages, the government of New Hampshire, list of judicial officers, terms of courts, lawyers, justices of the peace, notaries public, county officers, clergymen, physicians, town officers, postoffices and names of postmasters, tables of State and Presidential elections; Congressional, Councillor, and Senatorial votes; population and valuation of each town in the State, past officers of Legislature, together with a large amount of statistical matter relative to the United States. A very full and valuable book of the kind.

— The better nations become acquainted each other, the fewer will be their prejudices and the more likely will they be to love and respect each other. Just so with Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Salsatras—the more you know of it, the more you want to, and the more anxious you are to have your friends become-its patrons. It not only makes the best Biscuit, Bread, &c., but it cures dyspepsia, and strengthens weak stomachs. It has no equal. Most of the Grocers have it. 31

— The current price of hacks in New York for New Year's day was $40 each, and they were scarce at that figure.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—We learn from a reliable source, of a cowardly assault upon a man named Oren Picoat, in Kittery, on Wednesday evening, between eight and nine o'clock. It is stated that Mr. Picoat was returning in a wagon from a neighbor's, whither he had been to leave his wife; and while passing through a piece of dense woods, a man sprang up from the roadside, seized his horse, and at the same time discharged a pistol at the head of the driver, Mr. P., the bullet just grazing his hat, and then jumping upon the arm of the wagon, fired a second shot, which passed through the circular which Mr. Picoat wore. The assailant, while standing on the wagon shaft, received a severe blow in the face from the fist of Mr. P., who instantly leaped from his wagon, and getting the villain in "chancery," pounded him so that he thought it advisable to retreat to the woods. How he escaped from Picoat we are not informed.

No. 39 Congress St., Portsmouth, N. H.,
—DEALERS IN—
S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

COTTON PLANTATIONS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the South, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it costs to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double the value within a year. To raise the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent. on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern capital ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 50 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

—FOR—
THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.
By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,
N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.
1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night for 40 of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, han does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it peculiarly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is a tell tale and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. MAGGIEL'S BITTERS, DYSPEPTIC and DIARRHŒA PILLS cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin, MAGGIEL'S SALVE is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton street, New York; and all Druggists, at 25 cents per box. dec4eod&wly

ALLCOCK'S POROUS PLASTERS.—These plasters have the compactness of kid leather and the flexibity of a silk glove. They have cured varicose veins and external aneurisms. DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Farnville, Louisiana, March 8, 1860.

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours, very truly,

☞ On Wednesday evening, about half-past nine o'clock, a fire broke out in a new dwelling house recently erected in Kittery, owned and occupied by Mr. Melvin O. Stimson; and notwithstanding the efforts of the owner, together with his neighbors, the building was wholly destroyed. The fire was caused by the bursting of a kerosene lamp, which had been left in one of the unfinished rooms, the burning oil running down between the loose single flooring into the basement below, and there communicating with a lot of shavings and waste material, rendering extinguishment impossible. The house was worth about $2500; on which there was insured $1500 in the Piscataqua Insurance Company. There was also $200 insured on the furniture, a large portion of which was destroyed, and much of that which was saved was greatly damaged by rough handling in the excitement of the occasion.

Mr. Stimson is a young man recently married, and had but just moved into his new house, in view of which fact this sudden deprivation of his home must needs be, at least, a sore disappointment to himself and companion.

☞ Perhaps the most brilliant party of the season, was gathered at the North Church, Wednesday afternoon, on the occasion of the marriage of one of Portsmouth's fair daughters, with a Boston Milk St. merchant—as Chronicled yesterday. The toilets generally on the occasion were pronounced by the lady judges as something exceedingly rich and elegant for this latitude. For the information of our gentleman readers who were not there, (for of course the ladies don't feel much interest in such affairs,) we will state that the bride's dress was white satin, cut decollete, and that there were no groomsmen or maids.—The happy couple "received" at the bride's residence in the afternoon, and proceeded to their new home—where the best wishes and congratulations of their hosts of friends will go with them.

☞ An item from an old correspondent, which we published Thursday, respecting the 8-hour movement and a proposed lecture theron—should have been inserted as a communication, and not as editorial. We know nothing at all of the matter, and don't care much—either in general, or in the details of this particular case. We don't even know who the citizen referred to is—but it does seem to us, that some practical, workingman's ideas about labor might be as valuable, to say the least, as those of a life-long spouter, who never did a day's work in his life.

And for our part, we don't feel any great interest in the new labor movement, any way—though we are sure we shall not oppose it, but have from the first been of opinion that it would succeed, as all such movements generally have done. The capitalist, the employer, of course would manage things so that he should not be harmed thereby; and while the thrifty, intelligent laborer would no doubt be benefitted, the shiftless and unfortunate drudge who cries the loudest for the measure as a relief from his burdens, we fear would not find his sad condition at all improved, no matter how short his day's work. The hardest taskmaster, after all, is the spirit of industry and ambition; and this drives almost any live man to work more, rather than less, than the present day's time.

CITY OF PORTSMOUTH,

To BENJAMIN NORTON, Esq., Superintendent of the Alms House and City Farm:

SIR—At a meeting of the Overseers of the Poor of this city, this afternoon, the following Resolution was unanimously passed and I was directed to transmit a copy to you:—

"Resolved, That this Board highly appreciate the service of Mr. Norton and wife, in their unwearied attentions to the comfort of the poor under their charge; also for the very acceptable manner in which the farm has been managed, and their faithful discharge of duties as Superintendent and Matron during the past year."

A true copy.

I am, Sir, with much respect,
MARCELLUS BUFFORD,
Secretary to Overseers.

The above official compliment has been well earned by the efficiency and faithfulness of the Superintendent, and the indispensable aid of the Matron.

Business Notices.

☞ The January thaw is a "capital institution" for producing Cold, Coughs, and kindred ailments—much worse than severe cold weather, and we advise our readers, particularly those predisposed to any pulmonary weakness, to see to it they are well shod, and allow no change of clothing. If any one is so unfortunate as to contract a Cold, Hoarseness, or other pulmonary disorder, we know of nothing so efficient as Coe's Cough Balsam. Our advice is, take little and often.

To those who have been living on the fat of the land through the holidays, and have got their stomachs out of order, we would prescribe Coe's Dyspepsia Cure; it has cured some very bad cases of Dyspepsia. j1-1w

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

"One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science."

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supersede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation and cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the delight of Poets, Philosophers and Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of afflictions.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

POETRY IN UNDRESS.—An English paper which rejoices in the name of Ladies' Own, thus plays tricks with rhyme and reason: "It is many years since I fell in love with Jane Jerusha Skegge, the handsomest girl by far that ever went on legs. By meadow, creek, and wood and dell, so often did we walk, and the moonlight smiled on her melting lips, and the night winds learned our talk. Jane Jerusha was all to me, for my heart was young and true, and lover with a double twisted love, and a love that was honest too. I roamed all over the neighbors' farms, and I robbed the wildwood bowers, and tore my trousers and scratched my hands in search of choicest flowers. In my joyous love I brought these all to my Jerusha Jane; but I wouldn't be so foolish now, if I were a boy again. A city chap then came along, all dressed up in fine clothes, with a shiny hat and a shiny vest, and a moustache under his nose. He talked to her of singing schools, (for her father owned a farm,) and she left me, the country love, and took the new chap's arm. And all that night I never slept, nor could I eat next day, for I loved the girl with a fervent love that naught could drive away. I strove to win her back to me, but it was all in vain; the city chap with the hairy lip, married Jerusha Jane. And my poor heart was sick and sore until the thought struck me, that just as good fish remained as ever was caught in the sea. So I went to the Methodist Church one night, and saw a dark brown curl peeping from under a gipsy hat, and I married that very girl. And many years have passed and gone, and I think my loss my gain; and I often bless that hairy chap that stole Jerusha Jane."

GEN. GRANT BEATEN BY A BUTCHER. Gen. Grant, last week, was riding fast from Georgetown to Washington, when he was overtaken by a butcher's cart, which passed him. Somewhat surprised, he put "Cincinnatus" to his mettle, but the butcher whipped up his nag, and soon completely beat Gen. Grant on that line, leaving Cincinnatus far behind. The General determined to own the butcher's nag, and his friends at last succeeded in finding the owner, who sold him to Gen. Grant for $350 cash. It was one he had bought for a trifle, at a sale of condemned army horses, and with care will soon be worth $1000.

THE REBEL DEBT IN SOUTH CAROLINA. The South Carolina Legislature has appointed a special committee to investigate, ascertain and report, at the next session of the General Assembly, all the facts and figures in connection with the war debt of the State. That does not look much like compliance with the President's intimation that the debt must be repudiated.

THE POPE'S FINANCES.—A letter from Florence, Italy, dated Dec. 9, says:—

It seems that the Holy Father is about to apply to the money dealers for an accommodation of a couple of millions sterling. We are told it is utterly impossible for him to pay the interest on the old debt, shortly falling due, without contracting this new one. Of course the Holy Father will have to pay ruinously usurious interest for the little bill he proposes drawing on posterity. But he will get the money.

☞ Gens. Thomas, Woods and Swayne visited Montgomery, Ala., during the late session of the Legislature, but received no courtesies at the hands of that body. But a few days ago Wade Hampton visited the place, and was at once waited on by a committee and invited to visit the Legislature, where the Speaker made him a glorification speech and the members overwhelmed him with attention. Union Generals are not yet popular in Alabama.

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 20, 1865.

We are in our usual state of quietude here. The weather at present is of that temperature which is usually alluded to by the use of charming, splendid, delightful, and similar adjectives. We have thus far a very mild winter, there having been but one cold snap, and that but of a few days duration.

Our city is filled to overflowing with returning residents and visitors. Our hotels are crowded, boarding-houses full, and it is a mystery to some where the crowds of human beings one meets on the streets in daylight, are stowed away for the night. Rents are exorbitantly high, and marketing ditto, and though almost any business man will tell you that the market is dull, and that there is no business doing, there does not appear to be any decrease in the expenditures. Our places of amusement are crowded nightly. We have now under way three theatres, the Italian opera, three fairs, and a ball or concert every night. I have never known these places to be so well patronized as they are at present.

The newspaper business appears to be as flourishing as any other. There are six daily papers now published, all of which, I believe, are doing a good business. The N. O. Times, conducted by W. H. C. King & Co, confessedly stands at the head of the journals of this city and the South. This position it owes solely to the untiring energy and indomitable perseverance of its chief editor and controlling manager, Mr. W. H. C. King. It now publishes twelve pages in its morning edition for six days in a week, and sixteen pages on Sunday. It also publishes a twelve-page weekly and four-page evening edition. Making it, I think, the largest paper in the United States. Commencing its newspaper life at a period usually fatal to kindred enterprises—when the city was under strict martial law—it has, by its bold, manly, and straightforward course, enlisted the favor of all classes of our people. Such should ever be the reward of independent journalism. And should any of your friends and neighbors in New England wish to subscribe to a paper that honestly represents the sentiments of the Southern people, I can truthfully recommend them to the New Orleans Times.

Our Legislature has been in extra session for some three weeks, and have cut out for themselves a large amount of work, though I presume but little except the most urgent will be perfected until the session in January. The members, one and all, appear honestly to accept the "situation" as it is, and are enthusiastic in support of President Johnson's policy. They have adopted the Constitutional amendment abolishing slavery, with a proviso against the too free use by Congress of the power granted it by the 2d section. The have also adopted stringent laws in relation to contract and labor, though such laws, in my opinion, were entirely unnecessary, as the old laws of Louisiana in that respect were of sufficient force to prevent any imposition on the negro, now that his status is changed to that of a freeman T. F. H.

— In Massachusetts, the Supreme Judicial Court has decided that it is lawful for towns to appropriate money to reimburse persons for expenditures incurred in filling the quotas of towns; and that towns are not authorized to raise money by tax to reimburse individuals for money paid to procure themselves substitutes.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1866.

HOW THEY FEEL.—The New York Tribune says: "We have had a terrible civil war, but we have fought it out; and there is the end of it. To persist in hating and insulting each other because of this bygone quarrel, is not the way of brave men, but of cowards."

Well: we believe almost every religious body in the United States has proposed reunion with their late rebel brethren. But, per contra:

The majority of the Unitarian society at Charleston, S. C., in order to get rid of the Rev. Calvin Stebbins, sent there by the American Unitarian Association, have voted to turn over the church to the Methodists, [South,] who have taken possession, and Mr. Stebbins now preaches in Masonic Hall to the loyal minority of the society, among whom is the veteran Unionist, Dr. A. G. Mackay.

The Southern Presbyterians held a General Assembly at Mason, Georgia, three weeks since, and resolved that they would have no intercourse with the Presbyterians of the Northern States.

Bishop Hopkins of the Episcopal Church, invited home his rebel brethren, but some of them groutily decline.

Never mind: the great Orthodox Congregational missions will gather flocks and build houses; and being new out South, they will avoid many snags that trouble other sects.

HISTORY OF THE BALLOT.—The Granite State News says, that during the war of the revolution, regarded by some as the golden age of the republic, negroes voted in all the colonies of the Union except South Carolina. Washington, Jefferson, Jay, Hancock, and Hamilton, every year went up to the polls and deposited their ballots where negroes did theirs, without once thinking that they were demeaning themselves, or that they were endangering the Union. Under the "more perfect" union, after the war, the negroes had the right to vote in all the States except South Carolina.

In five of the New England States, and in New York, they have voted ever since. In Pennsylvania they voted until 1838. In Maryland and Virginia they voted until 1832 or '33; in New Jersey, until 1839 or '40, and in North Carolina until 1835. The Hon. George E. Badger was elected to Congress from North Carolina by negro votes. John Bell of Tennessee also. Cave Johnson on finding that he was about to lose his election, emancipated fifteen or twenty of his own slaves, and they went to the polls and elected him to Congress. Even Andrew Jackson, old Hickory himself, who was a passable Democrat in his day, but who would fall before the modern tests of Democracy, was elected to the State legislature by negro votes, and that, too, by special invitation from himself. The idea that this is a white man's government is of very modern date.

☞ The Boston Recorder of Jan. 5, is called a Jubilee Number, and begins the 51st year of its publication. Many of its old friends have interesting letters or articles in it, looking back to the former days. Many of these consider it the oldest paper of its class, in the country; and so it is, if by class is meant denomination or sect. But Elder Elias Smith, one of the founders of the Christian Connection, published a religious newspaper of his class, in Portsmouth, a few years before. He called it the Herald of Gospel Liberty, and under the same name it is now published. It begins vol. 58 this week; and the first number was issued Sept. 1, 1808. It is now published in Newburyport.

JAMAICA. — The perpetrators of the atrocities in Jamaica, it seems, have laid themselves open to more than censure, as by an article of war the life of no British subject shall be taken under any circumstances, by virtue of the judgment of a court martial, without the sanction of the supreme civil functionary holding the delegated authority of the crown.

HAYTI AND ST. DOMINGO.—These are the two governments on the Island of Hispaniola; both are negro governments. Geffrard is president (for life) of Hayti.

Advices from Hayti to Dec. 24th confirm the report of the bombardment of Cape Haytien and the rout of the rebels. The place was seriously damaged. All foreigners in town took refuge on an American war vessel. A number of prominent rebels found in the house of the British consul were captured and shot.

Havana advices state that another revolution has taken place in Santo Domingo, the Republic.

Gen. Balz is now President of the Republic, and President Cabral has accepted a military position under which Gen. Pedro Guillemis, who seems to have managed the whole affairs, is the practical head. The revolution was peaceful.

— The paper mill known as "Pleasant Valley Mill," located near Lenox Furnace, and owned by Elizur Smith of Lee, was consumed by fire Tuesday night.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. Arthur Little was installed over the 1st Presbyterian Church in Bedford, Jan. 3. Sermon by Rev. Dr. Kirk, of Boston.

—— It is stated in the Universalist, that Rev. C. A. Bradley has accepted a call to the united societies in Kingston and Kensington.

—— Capt. S. S. Swett, of Concord, died in that city, Jan. 3, in the 93d year of his age. He was a working man, a selftaught, successful mechanic, working up from extreme poverty to wealth. He was a builder of canal boats, and in this business had so many hurts, that he used to say every bone in his body had been broken except his neck. He was one of the kindest of men in his home, always a Universalist, a firm outspoken Union man during the war, and an ardent supporter of the U. S. government to the end of his days.

ANOTHER FAST MAN.—The singular disappearance of Mr. Hubbell, the Cashier of the Missisquoi Bank, Sheldon, Vt., is at last accounted for. He turns out to be a defaulter in a large sum. The amount is stated as high as $75,000. His embezzlements began years ago, but have been so covered by false entries and false footing as to elude observation until yesterday. The accounts of the affairs of the Bank have day been examined by competents, and the assets are believed to be sufficient for the redemption of the bills; bill holders are so advised. Hubbell is reported to have been a fast and extravagant liver, his expenses exceeding those of almost any man in Franklin County. His whereabouts are still unknown by the officers of the Bank.

[Will corporations ever learn, not to trust such men?]

CHANGES IN SHOEMAKING.—A Haverhill correspondent of the Salem Gazette says "The shoe business here has quite recently undergone a complete change. Once, five years ago say, the shoemakers took out their sets of shoes, made them and carried them in, this latter operation usually costing a day or half a day. But now everything is done by steam, and every part of the business is carried on independent of the rest. One shop turns out heels and stiffenings, another uppers, in another soleleather is cut, and finally the goods are made up by steam power exclusively. A number of new establishments have been lately started, worked by steam power entirely."

A DRUNKEN GENERAL.—Perley says, it is rumored that Maj. Merritt, now stationed in Texas, attended a public meeting there in an intoxicated condition, and indorsed a treasonable speech made by a rebel Judge named Hancock. Charges are said to have been preferred by officers who were present, and they will be investigated.

— The restrictions under which the Episcopal clergymen have been laboring in Alabama, have been formally withdrawn.

— The Currency Bureau, within a few days, has been receiving large amounts of counterfeit fractional currency of the denominations of 25 and 50 cents.

— A Connecticut farmer has a drove of 4000 geese, which require as rations, ten bushels of corn daily. He brought them in Canada, at such prices that after paying 20 cents apiece for their transportation, they cost him about a dollar each.

— Fire is still burning upon the ruins of Parrott & Bradbury's warehouse, (in which was a large quantity of corn and flour) destroyed by the great fire in Augusta on the 17th of last September—more than three months ago.

— Gen. Sweeney, who has been figuring as Fenian Secretary of War, has been mustered out as Brig. Gen. of Volunteers, but retains his rank and pay as Major of the 16th regiment of Infantry and Brevet Colonel in the regular army.

[Query, whether the Fenian is a foreign government?]

— A snow storm fell in a ball room in Russia. The room was intensely hot and oppressive, when the upper part of a window was opened. A cold gust of wind blew suddenly in through the open window, and the heated air which was congregated in the upper part of the room became instantly congealed and descended upon the assembled party in the form of snow flakes. Probably there never was seen so curious a sight in a ball-room. Ladies and gentlemen in ball toilet, in the midst of a dance, and snow flakes descending; and were it not for the incongruity of the attire, more like a skating party.

☞ The Thermometer on Friday morning, at Ogdensburg, N. Y. was 20 below; at St. Albans and St. Johnsbury, Vt., 20; at Burlington, Vt., 15; at Concord and Manchester, 10; in this city the average was about 6 below.

All efforts to rival the J. Morse Taylor Gold Medal Soap have signally failed; we do not hesitate to pronounce it the cheapest and best Soap in existence; it will take out grease, spots, or paint, will make nice soft soap, and make clothes of all grades look better after washing, than any other article of the kind in the market; it will not injure the finest fabric. Try it, their Depot is at 112 Liberty Street, New York. Most of the grocers sell it. 34

CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

To the Hon Mayor and City Council:—

Gentlemen:

In presenting my Report, it gives me pleasure to say, our Fire Department has proved to the public that they are as prompt and efficient as they ever have been; and I think, as a general thing, their services are appreciated by a large majority of our citizens.

A large amount of money has been expended for the Fire Department the past year, and it has been proved that it was well invested. There are yet a number of things wanted that are very essential to a well organized and efficient Department. I would call the attention of your honorable body to some of the most important, viz.:

There is wanted at least 1000 feet of new leading hose for the Steam Fire Engines.

In my last Report, I recommended what I thought was actually necessary, that ten more men be added to the Hook & Ladder Company, as in case of fire, there is not enough to do the work that is expected of them. I again renew that request, which I hope you will grant, as you must have seen the necessity of it at the late fire on State street.

I would also call your attention to a part of the Chief Engineer's duty, as specified in the City Ordinance, that is impossible for him to comply with at present; that is, to see that all Reservoirs are filled with water. Now, as no one in the Department knows where to let the water on, and as those who have charge of the water will not do it, some of our Reservoirs have not been more than half full for the past five or six months, especially the one on Pleasant street. I think that it is very necessary that there should be larger pipes laid to supply the Reservoirs with water, as any one can see the absurdity of supplying a steamer for any length of time with a two-inch pipe, even if it is full when they commence playing.

I will call your attention to the deficiency of Washington, Jefferson and Atkinson streets, as there is scarcely any water to be had there at low tide, which could be supplied at a small expense by digging out and planking up a reservoir at the upper end of the dock.

There is another part of the city to which I would call your attention. I think there is need of a reservoir near the house of Mr. Rundlett on Middle street; as there is a very poor supply of water in that vicinity, and as our city is growing fast in that direction, you cannot but see the necessity of having a good supply of water.

We have no Alarm Bell in or near the south part of the City, which is very much needed, as all our Firemen know, who live in that part of the city.

The Department has been called out twelve times the past year.

Aug. 16.—Alarm caused by the burning of a large barn belonging to Chas. Hayes, near the Plains.

Sept. 11.—Alarm caused by the burning of store occupied by G. V. Rowe, on Market St.

Oct. 30.—Alarm caused by the partial burning of house corner of Atkinson and Charles Sts.

Nov. 3.—Alarm caused by the burning of a building on Kittery Foreside.

Nov. 30.—Alarm caused by the burning of Congress Block, Congress St.

Dec. 12.—Alarm caused by the burning of a freight car at Kittery Depot.

Dec. 14.—Alarm caused by the burning of the stable occupied by W. Locke, and barn of Leonard Akerman, on State St.

Dec. 15.—Alarm caused by the partial burning of roof of house corner Pleasant and Franklin Sts.

Dec. 16.—Alarm caused by the burning of some brush near the Plains.

Dec. 24.—Alarm caused by the burning of the Bridewell at the Alms House.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JOHN M. MORAN, Chief Engineer.

CITY MARSHAL'S OFFICE,
PORTSMOUTH, Dec. 30, 1865.

To His Honor the Mayor and Board of Aldermen:

Gentlemen:—I would most respectfully submit the Annual Report of the Police Department of the City of Portsmouth for the year 1865.

The number of arrests from January 1st to date is 1257, for the following causes:

Drunkenness 431, lodgings 264, deserters from the navy 49, suspicious persons, 32, fast driving 12, assaults 100, cutting harness 1, obstructing sidewalks 5, deserting from House of Correction 13, night-walking 26, resisting officers 2, vagrancy 8, noisy shop 1, fighting 2, common drunkenness 9, aiding desertion 3, deserting from the army 4, larceny 26, brawl and tumult 81, common prostitutes 5, breaking street lantern 1, fornication 11, disorderly houses 11, trespass 5, malicious mischief 11, robbery 4, deserting parents 2, Sabbath breaking 8, bastardy 7, robbing gardens 7, violating Sunday Ordinance 14, truancy 5, obscene language 3, pickpockets 3, keeping house of ill-fame 8, swindling 3, insulting ladies on the streets 5, deserters from the Reform School 6, throwing stones 11, selling liquor 2, insane persons 3, keeping billiard saloons without license 2, forgery 1, violating City Ordinance 16, murder 1, peddling without license 4, horse stealing 4, threatening life 2, persons taken from houses of ill-fame 4, assaults with intent to kill 2, gaming house 1, deserting bondsmen 2, refusing to pay board 2, breaking and entering 2, secreting stolen goods 1, stealing cattle 1, running tolls 2, deserting his family 1. Total—1257.

853 of this number were of foreign birth; 407 were of American birth; 543 were taken before the Police Court; 416 fined; 41 discharged by Police Court; 699 discharged without trial; 51 committed to jail; 112 committed to the House of Correction; 33 bound over to the Supreme Judicial Court; 1 sent to Reform School; 1 sent to Insane Asylum; 5 returned to Reform School; 2 sent to State Prison; 2 sent to Portland for trial; 1 sent to Massachusetts for trial; 1 allowed to leave the city.

The Police consists of a Marshal, three Assistant Marshals, and seven Night Watchmen on active service, and five qualified as special police, of whom but two have been called into service at any time during the year.

I have collected through the Police Court in fines, costs, &c., and paid over to the City Treasurer, for which I have his receipts, nineteen hundred and fifty-five dollars and seventy-seven cents, (1955.77). Also, the Police have turned into the County Treasury six thousand dollars, ($6000). Besides this, we have recovered property to the amount of some thousands of dollars, which has been returned to the owners.

In the Report of 1864, I stated that there were in this city 120 drinking saloons and 30 houses of ill-fame. Of these, many have been broken up, but new ones are constantly opening, and the number is, perhaps, still on the increase.

To the City Government my thanks are due for the confidence reposed in me; and thanks to the Police for their efforts to aid me in the discharge of my duty. And to all those who have lent me aid and assistance. By the resignation of Mr. Charles L. Abbott, the City lost one of the best officers in the Police Department it ever had.

All of which is very respectfully submitted.

E. A. DRESSER, City Marshal.

—DEALERS IN—
S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MOSROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton production complete; and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is a tell tale and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. Local.

☞ The Mechanic Association of this city is one of the most useful of our local Societies, and all "mechanics and manufacturers" should belong to it. The expense of membership is merely nominal, while the benefits are great, and the funds of institution large and well invested. Among other things,—and what is no small consideration, members (and their apprentices) have free use of the Association's fine Exchange and Reading Room, on State street—an inducement which alone should treble the number of members. The charge to other subscribers to this room, is only a paltry $3 per year; and there can hardly be a question but that many young men (and not a few of the elders also, as to that,) might receive more benefit here than in many another place where the expense is much greater, and the attraction far less real and substantial.

☞ Mr. R. K. Oxford, who is really getting to be one of the veterans, having been in the Grocery business, man and boy, for upwards of twenty-five years—has removed to the new and commodious store built for him in Mr. Carr's block, on State Street; and taken his son into partnership. The new firm have one of the handsomest and best places for business in the city, and a large and fresh stock of goods. Mr. Oxford has given ample proof that he knows how to buy and sell groceries about as well and cheap as any of 'em. He has worked hard, and given strict attention to business, and we are always glad to see success follow such men.

☞ "As the days begin to lengthen, the cold begins to strengthen," sure enough. The mercury was down to eight or ten degrees below freeze on Friday—which will "strengthen" the ice to skate on, at any rate. But what a change from the evening previous—when at sunset was one of the loveliest displays we ever saw, with tints rich, warm and soft as August, which so cheerfully lighted up the gay kaleidescopic crowd of skaters on South Pond, who now fill the place of the croquet-players who lately enlivened the landscape.

☞ Some little time ago, a number of our citizens invited Mr. Colfax to lecture here during the recess. In his answer to Messrs. Goodwin, Bailey and others, Mr. C. would have been pleased to comply, but says: "Every night of the Holiday recess has been long since engaged; and in consequence of the Senate shortening in adjournment to Jan. 5th, instead of Jan. 9th, I had to withdraw appointments at Lowell, Portland and Lynn, which were conditioned on recess extending to the later date."

☞ On Thursday afternoon, Mr. William Marden of Rye, by turning too suddenly the corner of Pleasant and South streets, was thrown from his carriage, and being a large man, had a heavy fall. He was unconscious when picked up, but on being carried into Mr. Emery's store, recovered sufficiently by the aid of restoratives to proceed to his home.

☞ Schooner Shawmut, Snow, from Bongor, (via Winterport, Me.,) for Boston, at anchor in Portsmouth lower harbor, dragged both anchors in the gale of Thursday night, and went ashore at Kittery. The vessel is full of water, but not apparently much damaged, and will have to discharge part, if not all, of her cargo.

☞ It will be seen by the notice from the special agent of the great New York Home Insurance Company, that Mr. John Sise of this city has been appointed the Agent for that staunch and favorite company.

☞ Some time ago, in a Court of Massachusetts, Hon. F. O. J. Smith (well-known in Portsmouth and Maine,) was accused of subornation of perjury. The jury found a verdict of guilty: but Mr. Smith filed a bill of exceptions; now the Supreme Court have overruled the exceptions, and sent the case back for sentence.

☞ One more chance to see the famous Polyorama of the infamous Rebellion, is offered at the Temple to-night—and the last. It is pronounced a good thing, by all who like a nice Panorama.

CONGRESS met on Friday; a quorum was present in the Senate, but not in the House. No objection being made, petitions were received, and the House went into Committee of the whole. An excise tax of 10 cts. per lb. is proposed on all cotton raised.

☞ In Massachusetts, James M. Stone is chosen Speaker of the House. And in Maine, another John M. Stone is also chosen Speaker of that House.

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of-

NERVOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA, HEADACHE,

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of infirmities.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

WOOL.—At the Wool Growers' Association assembled at Columbus, Ohio, resolutions were adopted approving the policy of terminating the Reciprocity Treaty with the United States and Canada; that the wool growers' interests are entitled to a degree of legislative protection equal to that accorded to the manufacturing interest; that the interests of the country require the extension of the culture of Worsted wools; that the Committee of the National Manufacturers' Association, to meet the U. S. Revenue Commissioners, be advised to recommend that a tax be levied on dogs sufficient either to raise a considerable revenue for the government, or materially diminish the number of dogs, or both.

AN AMERICAN LINGUIST.—When the Hon. Caleb Cushing was Attorney General of the United States, he was said to be the only member of the Cabinet able to converse in any language besides his own. At a diplomatic dinner in Washington, given by Mr. Bodisco, the Russian Minister, he conversed in French with Mr. Sartiges, the French Ambassador; in Spanish with Don Calderon; in Dutch with Baron Von Gerol; in Portuguese with De Figanere; and in the purest Italian with the representative of the two Sicilies. The distinguished party were surprised and charmed, and some thought the Yankee polyglot could have added the Chinese, had a representative of the Celestials been present.

—Gen. Ben. Butler says if there had been more "bottles tightly corked" in and about the officers' quarters during the war, it would have been a good thing for the country. A fair joke in offset for General Grant's.

—Mr. Crosby of Chicago, who lately failed for $500,000, made a great fortune by the rise in whiskey. So the papers say, but he invested it in an opera house and a wool speculation. The poor fellow came home shorn.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it Patentees have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them from other Agencies. Testimonials here prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty-seven years, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

There is also attached to his establishment a Mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

FARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUER,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

Dyspepsia, Heartburn, Sour Stomach, Sick Headache, Dizziness, Indigestion, Piles, Costiveness, Bilious Attacks, Liver Complaints, Rhematic Affections, &c.

Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

The soil is rich and productive, varying from a clay to a sandy loam, suitable for the growth of Corn, Tobacco, Fruits and Vegetables. This is a great fruit country. Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c., produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand people within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Institutes of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.
Fruits and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other locality north of Norfolk, Va. Improved markets close by.
Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Foundries, Stores and the like; and Steam Power, with room, can be rented.
For persons who desire mild winters, a healthful climate, and a good soil, in a country beautiful, fully improved, abounding in fruits, and possessing all other social privileges, in the heart of civilization, it is worthy of a visit.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.
DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth over
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that man has sought.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

Invariably Cure the Following Diseases:

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JANUARY 8, 1866.

CONGRESS.—In the U. S. Senate, Jan. 5, was presented a petition of colored citizens of Mississippi and Alabama, asking for their judicial rights before the law. Referred to the Committee on Reconstruction; also a protest from colored citizens of Colorado against the recognition of that State on account of injustice done to their race in the newly-framed constitution.

Mr. Kimball offered a bill to enlarge the power of the Freedman's Bureau. Also a bill to guarantee freedom to the colored people in States lately in rebellion.

Mr. Sumner presented a resolution for printing one hundred thousand copies of the late message of the President, with the reports of Gens. Grant and Schurz. Referred to Committee on Printing.

A resolution was adopted calling upon the President for detailed information respecting the appointment of Provisional Governors, how they are paid, and whether they took the oath of allegiance, etc.

Mr. Sumner offered a joint resolution proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the United States, to guarantee the payment of the national debt and prevent the payment of any rebel debt.

Mr. Williams introduced a joint resolution submitting the following article as an amendment to the Constitution: "No power shall exist in Congress to provide for the payment of any person or persons for, or on account of, the emancipation of any slave or slaves in the United States, and no appropriation of money shall ever be made by a law of Congress for that purpose."

In the House, a resolution was adopted asking the President for information relative to the condition of the States lately in rebellion, including the reports of Gens. Grant, Howard, Schurz and Mr. Covode.

A resolution was adopted instructing the Committee on Military Affairs to inquire as to how many men, including officers, are in the Veteran Reserve Corps at the present time, and whether they cannot be employed with advantage by the Freedmen's Bureau in other departments of the military service.

Mr. Spaulding of Ohio made a speech insisting on further guarantees, including negro suffrage, before the late rebel States be permitted to resume their former relations to the Union.

LONDON ITEMS, Dec. 22.—The Daily News' city article says: American securities, especially 5 20s, continue to be imported in large amounts by each steamer.—But for this the remittances of specie from America would be much larger.

Advices from Frankfort say that since the receipt of the President's Message, a most extensive business has taken place in American stocks, accompanied by a rise of 3 1-2 per cent. in two days.

The outstanding speculations in the shape of options for the end of the year had mainly contributed to this movement, which has carried prices to a point of two per cent. higher than those at New York.

At the same time the German public generally have resumed purchases in them for investment, and are so exclusive in their partiality that all advertisements for the Turkish and other loans or shares in any company prove entirely unattractive.

At Cork, Dec. 20th, the Fenians J. Doolan and Thos. Duggan were found guilty. The former was sentenced to five and the latter to ten years penal servitude.

The trial of Chas. Underwood O'Connell was progressing. Evidence was given connecting him with the Head Centre in New York. Many additional bills had been returned against the prisoners at Cork.

There was another coal mine explosion near Metteyr-Tydvil, which killed thirty-two persons and injured many.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Perley writes Jan. 3d:

It appears to be quiet among the colored people from the Potomac to the Rio Grande, although unmistakable attempts were made to excite them to forcible demonstrations of their determination to protect themselves against insult. Even at the executive mansion, where Mr. Lincoln last year received on New Year's day all who came, in the order of their coming, respectable colored citizens were told: "No niggers admitted until after two o'clock." Many brave veterans went away in disgust, as they saw very imperfectly reconstructed white rebels admitted.

The same writer says Jan. 4:

The National Intelligencer of this morning has a long article on the proposition to establish universal suffrage here, which distinctly intimates that the President will veto any bill recognizing negro equality here or elsewhere.

[If this intimation is not given by the President's wish, or consent, then it is a great piece of impertinence in the in Intelligencer!—but if the President gives it, it is about as courteous to Congress, as Mr. Sumner's speech was to the President. If I were a Representative (says Uncle Toby) a threatened veto would not be apt to change my vote or to prevent it. It is in season to veto a bill after it has passed.]

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

The Contention of 1787—Constitution ratified by New Hampshire, 1788, as the 9th State, completing the work.

The following statements and reflections, from the pen of Dr. Belknap, will be read with interest at the present time, and they ought to have great weight with every candid man who cherishes the vain idea that thirteen (or forty) independent Sovereign States can agree to do or be any thing,—except chaos! This was fully tried before 1787—and found impossible. Yet on this exploded idea the late rebellion was started—and even now it creeps through the minds of some persons in the northern States, and has great influence further South.

Under date of 1787, Mr. Belknap says, the imbecility of the confederation by which the States were united, had long been felt, and some attempts had been making to strengthen it; but the view of our situation at this time demonstrated the total inefficacy of that constitution, to bind together thirteen distinct sovereignties, over which no coercive power was established, which could prevent or cure such evils as threatened the destruction of all public and private credit. Happily for the American union, the remedy existed within itself. The good sense and public virtue of the great body of our citizens readily adopted the idea of a Convention of the States. The first proposal came from Virginia, where American liberty was first publicly asserted, when it was flagrantly violated by the stamp act. The name of Patrick Henry will ever be illustrious in the American annals for moving the resolves of 1765; and the name of James Madison will be equally distinguished for proposing the convention of 1787.

To this convention, which was holden at Philadelphia, all the States, except one, sent their delegates. After a close and particular investigation, they produced a new federal constitution; containing adequate remedies for those political disorders, which had threatened with extinction, the liberty and independence of the American States.

Among other wise provisions, to establish justice and secure the blessings of liberty, those which respect public and private credit are not the least conspicuous. To support the former, the congress has a power which, by the first confederation, was not delegated "to lay and collect taxes, duties, imposts, and excises, to pay the debts and provide for the common defence and general welfare of the United States." For the latter, it is declared, that no State shall coin money, emit bills of credit, make anything but gold and silver coin a tender in payment of debts, pass any bill of attainder or expost facto law, or any law impairing the obligation of contracts.

When this new constitution was proposed to the people, conventions were called in each State to consider it. In those bodies, composed of persons who represented impartially every class and description of the people, and who were themselves equally various in their principles, habits and views, the constitution underwent the most critical and severe discussion. Whilst it was in debate, the anxiety of all parties was extended to the utmost degree, and the efforts of its friends and its opposers were unremitted.

After the constitution had been, with the help of some proposed amendments, adopted by Massachusetts, a convention was called at Exeter. At its first meeting, Feb 13, 1788, a debate which continued ten days ended in an adjournment for four months; at the expiration of which term, in a short session of three days only at Concord, June 21, the question for adopting and ratifying the constitution, was, with the same help as in Massachusetts, carried in the affirmative, by a majority of eleven; the whole number present being one hundred and three. This was the ninth state in the union which accepted the constitution; and thus the number was completed which was necessary to put in motion the political machine. In about a month, two more status were added. Then a congress was formed, 1789, and the illustrious Washington, by the unanimous suffrage of the people, was placed in the first seat of government. Three other States, of which one is Vermont, have since been admitted into the union; and there is now, 1790, in operation a general system of energetic government, which pervades every part of the United States, and has already produced a surprising alteration for the better. By the funding of the continental debt, and the assumption of the debts of the individual States, into one general mass, a foundation is laid for the support of public credit; by which means, the American Revolution appears to be completed. Let it be the sincere prayer and endeavor of every thoughtful citizen, that such harmony may prevail between the general government and the jurisdiction of each State, as the peculiar delicacy of their connection requires; and that the blessings of "peace, liberty and safety," so dearly obtained, may descend inviolate to our posterity.

☞ Speaking of Church decorations elsewhere, reminds us that the Stone Church Chsistmas decorations are among the most tasteful and beautiful displays of the kind we have ever seen. They are more elaborate, we believe, than anything of the kind in any of our other churches this year; and it is to be regretted that the material is so perishable as are all the evergreens. The Society and the public are indebted, we think, for this beautiful display, mainly to the good taste of the pastor, and the public spirit of Mrs. and Miss H. of Richards Avenue, where hands are always ready for any good work.

☞ We learn that a match has been made in this city for Mr. John Seaver to walk 100 miles in one hundred consecutive hours, without sleep. The trial to be made at Union Hall, beginning on Tuesday. If successful, Seaver pockets $100; if he fails, the forfeit is $50.

LYCEUM.—We are requested by the Secretary of the Lyceum Committee, to state that on account of Hon. J. W. Patterson not being able to fulfil his appointment, there will be no lecture this week. The next entertainment will be on Jan. 23d—Readings, &c., and we predict will be an occasion of considerable novelty and interest.

☞ Mr. Laws has removed his Express to the new store just fitted up so conveniently and richly for him, in Mr. Pierce's block, opposite Vaughan street. Well, William looks sharp after his own business—which happens always to be that of minding other people's—and he deserves a real oak-finished office.

☞ The Concert this evening will of course draw out most of our music loving people, and will amply repay them for their trouble. No postponement on account of weather.

— Reports come from Brownsville, Texas, that American soldiers are enlisting there under the liberal Mexican bancer. It will be stopped by a government order.

— No more puny children, decayed teeth, or yellow breed, if you will use Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. There is nothing equal to it. It is far superior to soda to use with cream tartar. Bread or biscuit raised by it is more easily digested than by any other. Try one paper, and you will not fail to use it ever after. Have the Gold Medal or none. Grocers and Druggists keep it. 32

HOUSEHOLD WORDS.—Delicious, refreshing, purifying, preservative, indispensable, exquisite, are the terms applied to the famous Sozodont, in thousands of households every day. And why? The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:
"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."
Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned soldiers and officers and seamen, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

Lyon's Periodical Drops!
THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES.
These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any Pills, Powders or Nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppression of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other female Remedy, and are considered by all who know aught of them, as the surest, safest and most infallible preparation in the world, for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, accompany each bottle. When used they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to nature's chosen laws, will be found on a printed label attached to each bottle, with the written signature of JOHN L. LYON, without which none are genuine. Price $1.50.
Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 195 Chapel Street, New Haven, Conn, who can be consulted either personally, or by mail, (enclosing stamp,) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses. Price $1.00 per bottle.
Sold by Druggists everywhere.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.
☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-crepot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. Perry, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these disclosures, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.
Prepared by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists; price $2 per bottle. Call for PERRY'S MOTH & FRECKLE LOTION.

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
No. 39 Congress St., Portsmouth, N. H.,
—DEALERS IN—
S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.
This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.
ITS ADVANTAGES.
FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.
SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.
THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.
FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.
FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.
SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.
☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,
ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.
☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Farnville, Louisiana, March 8, 1850

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s: but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation and unstrain the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them in my consultation at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours, very truly,

☞ The Exhibitions of the Universalist Sunday School at their Church on Thursday and Friday evenings—we were surprised to find such complete and highly creditable entertainment, scarcely needing any of the allowances usually to be made on such occasions. The elevated platform erected across the farther end of the beautiful church, was elegantly and tastefully decorated with our national flags, &c.; and when filled with happy children and youth, prettily dressed, presented a scene of great beauty and interest. The performances generally evinced, both in recitations and singing, not only a high average of talent, and in several instances brilliant powers; but also unmistakably, most careful and judicious teaching, which had induced a love for their studies, in the hearts of the pupils, whether younger or older. As a social gathering, the occasion was one to be remembered; and as an entertainment, there were all the attractions of the legitimate drama, without any of the objections.

We should like to refer particularly to some of the performances; but where all was so good, there is no need—and we shall only say that we doubt if there was ever in the city so admirable an amateur representation, as that of the three young ladies in the new sacred drama written for the occasion,—Misses Morse, Whitcomb and Fitts. Many a clergyman might well take a lesson from Miss W. in reading the Scriptures or offering a prayer. We were not in season to witness the whole programme, but a portion was sufficient to prove the devoted exertions of Rev. Mr. Patterson the Pastor, Mr. Jas. M. Carr the Superintendent, Mr. W. K. Day in music, and the teachers of the various classes. And especially was the whole charming tableau presented, interesting to us, as showing how much better it is to allow that a Church (building and Society) is good enough to be useful in all ways, instead of being "too good" for almost any thing we poor mortals most need.

☞ A notice of interest to some of our Flour-eating readers, will be seen from Mr. W. D. Fernald, among our new advertisements this morning.

THE ARGOSY, a new candidate for public favor in the magazine line, is published by Strahan & Co., New York, at 25 cents per number. It comes freighted with a cargo of good things,—Griffith Gaunt, a new story by Charles Reade, heading the manifest.

☞ On Thusday night the large engine house of the Bellefontaine Railroad at Gallion, Ohio, was destroyed by fire, with twelve locomotives. The loss is estimated at from three hundred to five hundred thousand dollars.

— The Liberator after having been published thirty-five years, completed its career with the old year. Wm. Lloyd Garrison in its valedictory, says the object for which it was commenced has been gloriously consummated.

— A company is being organized in Massachusetts with a capital of $80,000 for the manufacture of water-proof paper hats, of any form or color, at a cost of from eight to twenty-five cents apiece.

— A gentleman just returned to New Orleans from Arkansas, reports that place to be in a dreadful unsettled, disorganized condition. In many parts of the country the inhabitants are actually threatened with famine. Life and property are everywhere insecure, and murders and robberies are of almost every day occurrence.

— The completion of the census of Illinois reveals the astonishing fact that since 1860 the population of that State has increased nearly 33 per cent.

— The foreign crops have been unusually good during the past season. Wheat is now selling in France for less than one dollar per bushel, and it commands only about one dollar and nine cents in Great Britain.

— Aaron A. Bradley, colored, lately convicted by a military commission in Savannah for using seditious language, and sentenced to one year's hard labor at Fort Pulaski, has been released on parole by order of the Secretary of War.

— Capt. Henry P. Butler of Edgartown, who, while in command of ship Sarah of New Bedford, belonging to Benjamin B. Howard and others, sold her catchings at Mauritius in 1863, pocketed the proceeds, and has since kept himself scarce, was arrested at Newport, R. I., a few days since, and is now in jail there.

— As a member of the Chicago police was recently going his rounds, he was attracted by the peculiar begging posture and "animated tail" of a small dog, which led the way to a ditch, where a drunken man lay face downward in the mud, where he would have smothered but for timely aid.

— Two editors in Richmond, Va., fired pistols at each other on Friday, in the Hall of the House of Delegates, which House was in session. Nobody killed.

☞ In Massachusetts, James M. Stone is chosen Speaker of the House. And in Maine, another James M. Stone is also chosen Speaker of that House.

☞ The Boston Post, Traveller, and Journal give notice that they have raised the price of single papers to four cents. They have also raised their wholesale prices in consequence of the recent advance in the price of white paper.

— A man belonging to Sandwich, but who has been at work at South Danvers, Mass., reports that he was knocked down and robbed while walking on the Eastern Railroad, between the Lynn and Swampscott depots, Thursday afternoon. The two assailants obtained plunder to the amount of $250, beside valuable papers.

— The Richmond papers complain bitterly of the filthy condition of that city.

— At the meeting of the New York Historical Society, held on Tuesday evening, Dr. Peter Wilson, the Chief of the Iroquois Indians, made a speech, in which he recommended the United States in reconstructing the Government to imitate the Iroquois in allowing women to vote, and in paying officers no salaries.

— The amount of money in the Treasury, deposited to the credit of the Naval Hospital fund for the relief of disabled seamen, is nearly ten million dollars. The interest of this sum is always sufficient to defray the expenses of the hospitals and asylums already established.

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science.

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, the most tedious now used for the alleviation or cure of

NERVOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA, HEADACHE,

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a multitude of affections." In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

COTTON PLANTATIONS FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the South, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being ran under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the South under the Northern system.

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any part of the South; send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

CITY FARM.

One of the best institutions of the City is the Farm—and every one has an interest in knowing that it is well managed, as well as that proper care is had of the inmates of the House. The present Superintendent has had charge the past four years, and has discharged his duties in a manner honorable to himself, beneficial to the public, and humanely to those under his care. He has taken an active and leading part in many of the important improvements that have been made in the house, out-buildings, grading, &c., having a practical knowledge of the mechanic arts. The general good and convenient appearance of the house and out-buildings give evidence to every visitor of the fact.

Mr. Norton took the farm in 1861. The receipts from the Farm in 1861 were	$1351.15
The receipts in 1865 were	4445.80
This makes a gain in receipts of	$3094.65
Nett income of Farm in 1861 was	$2733.51
Nett income in 1865 was	5234.15
Making a gain in Nett income of	$2500.64
Amount of Crop raised in 1861 was	$4685.51
Amount of Crop raised in 1865 was	9327.43
Making a gain on Crop raised	$4641.92

These figures show that the pecuniary affairs of the Farm have been well managed, and the public interest greatly promoted under Mr. Norton's management.

We are led to make these remarks from the blank notice of the Mayor in his address which leads the reader to suppose that he is not in favor of Mr. Norton's re-appointment. We may be mistaken in that surmise. We think we express the public sentiment in saying that any change in the Superintendence is undesirable, and should not be made.

YOUNG FOLKS CONCERT.—Mr. Joy is to give another of his popular juvenile concerts at the Temple next Wednesday evening. The children are to be tastefully dressed for the occasion. The singing will be a medley of all kinds suited to popular taste,—choruses, ballads, duets, trios, &c. The tickets will be 25 cents, children 15 cents. Judging from the previous success of Mr. Joy, we expect to see a crowded house. The programme is quite attractive.

Mr. Joy is to commence a new term of his singing school for children, on Saturday afternoon, and for adults on Friday evening next week.

HOW THEY EXPECT TO DO IT.

"Dixon," writing to the Boston Advertiser, gives the following as illustrative of the kind of plans openly discussed by that class in the South who are now laboring to grasp once more the power they had by their secession blunder. Their prospect of seeing these plans realized each reader can estimate for himself. He will find it in an exact inverse proportion to his confidence in the honor and genuine patriotism of President Johnson:

In the stage between Augusta and Milledgeville I rode with two gentlemen of considerable local weight and prominence, who were both anti-secessionists in 1860 61. They talked of the approaching convention, and of its probable action in redistricting the State for representatives.

"Well, Colonel, what will be our proper course when we are once more fully restored to the Union?" The answer came after a moment's consideration—"We must strike hands with the democratic party of the North, and manage them as we always have." There was a pause while we rattled down the hill, and then the questioner responded, "That's just it; they were ready enough to give us control if we gave them the offices, and I reckon they've not changed very much yet." There was then conversation on other matters; but half an hour later, after a mile or so of silence, the colonel suddenly exclaimed, "Yes, sir, that duty is plain; we shall be without weight now that slavery's gone, unless we do join hands with them; Andy Johnson will want a re-election, and the united democratic party must take him up; it shall be a fair division we want power and they want the spoils."

THE NEW HAMPSHIRE AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of this association was held Monday in Manchester. The following board of officers was elected:

Wm. F. Estes, Dover, President.
Aaron Young, Portsmouth, Secretary.
George W. Riddle, Bedford, Treasurer.
David Gillis, Nashua, Natt Head, Hooksett, Edward Gustin, Keene, ——— Daniels, Franklin, ——Coggswell, Gilmanton, Directors.
E. W. Harrington, Manchester, Auditor.

SHIPWRECK AND LOSS OF LIFE.—Brig Celia M. Carver, Capt. Treat, from Bucksville, S. C., of and for Scarsport, Me. with a cargo of timber, was dismasted and thrown on her beam ends during a severe gale on the 21st ult. Capt. Treat was so badly frozen that it is expected he will lose both hands. The sufferings of all were most intense. After their long exposure they were finally rescued by schooner Emma V., of Newburyport, which fell in with her on the 31st ult., 70 miles from Gloucester, and found only four men alive. One man had been crushed to death as already stated, the steward died on the 30th ult., and the others not having eaten anything since the 21st were preparing to eat the steward's body, when rescued. They were received with much sympathy in Gloucester, and are now under medical treatment.

The Celia M. Carver was a good vessel of 167 tons, built at Bangor in 1860, and was owned in Searsport.

They have got twenty inches of snow in St. Paul, with a prospect of continuous sleighing until spring.

The Mass. Board of Bank Commissioners is dissolved. There is but one State bank left in Massachusetts—the North Bridgewater.

They propose to introduce coolie laborers into the Sandwich Islands, where the native population has declined within this century from 400,000 to 60,000.

Rev. J. B. Waterbury, D. D., has entered on his duties as secretary of the revived "Southern Aid Society." Address 93 Wall street, N. Y.

The loss of life in this country by steamboat accidents, the past year, was much greater than ever before, the number being estimated by the New York Herald at 1788. In 1864, 858; in 1861, 69.

Queen Victoria's new son-in-law never had an income of more than three hundred pounds a year, and has now relinquished that; but he has a name quite worthy of the family into which he marries. He is called His Serene Highness Prince Frederick Christian Charles Augustus of Schleswig-Holstein Sonderburg Augustenburg.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

FARRANT & CO

Gentlemen. I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinlis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

I trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

SHORT OF CAPITAL.—The old proslavery press is hard pushed for subjects now. A hue and cry was raised by the copperhead press, a few days since, over a dispatch from Charleston, stating that a party of colored troops had made an attack upon the house of a Mrs. Wilkes, a widow, whom they expected to find alone, but were disappointed, as others were in the house, and they were driven off. The affair was stated in such a way as to convey the impression that the negroes designed to attack an unprotected woman, living on the outskirts of the city, and the colored people having disappointed the wishes of the copperhead friends by generally preserving good order during the Christmas holidays, the incident was at once seized upon as a confirmation of the alarming predictions they had made, and as showing the vileness of the negro character. The full accounts in the Charleston papers, however, put a different face on the matter. On the evening named a negro ball was in progress at the house of Mrs. Wilkes, to which the negro soldiers desired to get admission without paying, but were repulsed by the negro managers of the ball. During the fight one man was shot. Thus instead of intending an assault upon a "lone widow," as represented, their purpose was to force their way into a ball-room without paying.

— There appears a considerable difficulty at the Mint in putting on coins the motto, "In God we Trust." The officers are afraid that everybody will read it "In Gold we Trust," which is much nearer the fact.

— Last year the stove trade of Troy was immense. 16,000 tons of iron were used, and one hundred and fifty thousand stoves were sent to market.

— Mrs. Sarah J. Holmes, aged 64, and Esquire Larker, 68, residing near Belair, Md., recently ran away and got married. They ran away from their children, who opposed the match.

— Gen. Schenck, of Ohio, in a speech at Columbus on the 2d inst., asserted that Congress and the President intended to stand by each other in demanding from the South the adoption of the Constitutional Amendment abolishing slavery, providing against the payment of the rebel war debt, and a Constitutional Amendment basing representation on the voting population.

— Chas. Decker is believed to be the smallest man living. He was born in Mississippi, and moved to Memphis when ten years of age, and has been engaged there for the past eight years selling periodicals. He is now eighteen years old, and only thirty-six inches in height, and is well known in Memphis for his smartness and intelligence.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.

R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857, 78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, prepared in liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded in Washington.

The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.

The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.

These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, for all of which he has received patents, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART

During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.
R. H. EDDY.

Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c., produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand people within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.

Fruits and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other locality north of Norfolk, Va. Improved places for sale.

Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Foundries, Stores and the like; and Steam Power, with room, can be rented.

For persons who desire and appreciate a beautiful climate, and a good soil, in a country beautifully improved, abounding in fruits, and possessing all other social advantages, in the heart of civilization, it is worthy of a visit.

Letters answered, and the Vineland Rural, a paper giving full information, and containing Reports of Solon Robinson, sent to applicants.

Address CHAS. K. LANDIS, Vineland P. O., Landis Township, New Jersey.

From Report of Solon Robinson, Agriculture Editor of The Tribune: It is one of the most extensive fruit-growing and market-gardening, and agreeable condition for pleasant farming that we know of this side of the Western Prairies. n1—dawtu

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 9, 1866.

—A special Washington dispatch of Sunday says the delay in providing for the trial of Jefferson Davis is becoming the general topic of conversation. The feeling is becoming general that he should be tried or liberated.

The feeling is also quite general, among loyal men, that if Jeff. Davis is not hung for his universally known and flagrant conspiracy and rebellion, no person ought to be hung hereafter. The object of a trial commonly is to ascertain whether the accused be guilty or not;—but in this case, his guilt is known to all! He should have the benefit of two trials—1st, by Military Commission, for conspiracy and rebellion, after the manner of Mrs. Surratt and Wirz; 2d, by a great court of Treason, where, by the queer provisions of our Constitution, as explained and construed by a "full choir" of lawyers, it would be found that our laws against treason are a farce or something worse. But he might get caught by the Military Commission, which should be presided over by some officer whom this miscreant tried to outlaw, and composed of soldiers who have been through his prisonpens and come out alive.

EASTERN RAILROAD BUSINESS.—The report of the Directors of the Eastern Railroad Company presents the following statistics, showing that the road is in a most prosperous condition: The total number of miles run by the passenger, freight and other trains was 622,202. Number of passengers carried in the cars 2,324,973; do. do. one mile 86,293,854. Number tons merchandise carried in the cars 208,289; do. do. one mile 5,852,580. Number passengers carried one mile to and from other roads 3,285,632; do. do. tons 2,153,980 The expenditures for working the road amounted to $88,983.79. Expenses under the head of motive power and cars $197,310.79. The miscellaneous expenses were $474,263.31.

The total expenditures for working the road were $761,557.89. Amount of interest paid $112,467.40. The income from passengers was $950,033.98; do. from freight $257,188.18; do. from U. S. mails $9824; do. from rents and miscellaneous $60,031.37. Total income $1,277,075.53. The U. S. tax paid was $31,125.06; deducted with the interest from the income, leaves net earnings amounting to $391,525.18. The dividends (which were 6 per cent.) with tax amounted to $229,792 50. This sum deducted from the net earnings leaves a surplus not divided of $142,132.68. Surplus last year $116,853.97. Total surplus $258,986.65, less balance of profit and loss, &c., gives a total surplus of $201.629.44.

WISCONSIN.—Governor Fairchild's Inaugural, after alluding to the war and its results, says the American people ask that the highest judicial tribunal shall give expression to the verdict of the people, that any attempt to right the fancied or real wrongs by force of arms is treason, by the trial of Jefferson Davis. Not until Davis shall have been tried, convicted and hung for treason, and the fact that treason is a crime which cannot be committed with impunity, shall have thus been fully demonstrated, will the American people be content. He favors special enactments to protect freedmen against the oppression of their late masters, the admission of freedmen to the witness-stand, in the jury-box, and to suffrage.

The Governor says in the reconstructing of the States lately in rebellion, it seems necessary that ample evidence should be required that they are disposed to yield willing obedience to the constitution and laws. Each State ought to be required to ratify the amendment to the Constitution, forever prohibiting the payment of the rebel debt and affirming the sacredness of the national debt; also declaring all ordinances of secession null and void, and apportioning the Representatives in Congress upon the number of voters in each State.

— The first murderer has found an apologist in Dr. Cumming, of London, who, in his "Lives of the Patriarchs," says that as Cain can never have seen a dead human being, or learned anything about death, or know that a heavy blow would destroy the vitality, of which, again, he can have perceived nothing, his guilt was, at the outside only manslaughter.

— The returns of the regular army during the last three months of the past year show that the desertions have almost, if not quite, equaled the enlistments, and that there are not, consequently, any chances for the appointment of additional officers at present.

— The total amount of direct tax of 1861, levied on the rebellious States, was $6,006,090, of which only $852,109 has been paid. South Carolina has paid about two-thirds of her quota, but neither Georgia Alabama or Mississippi has paid a dollar.

— A sheep from Canada has just been dressed in New York, the live weight of which was 400 pounds, and neat weight 243 lbs.

☞ An extensive fraud upon the Internal Revenue Department by the issue of large quantities of counterfeit cigar box stamps has just been brought to light by the authorities of New York City. Three persons, named John Frick, Charles Mitschelieng and a printer named Blomeke, have been arrested. The latter admitted that he printed about 2500 of the stamps and destroyed the plate, but it was afterwards found, and its engraver has been apprehended. Blomeke and Mitschieling have been committed to the county jail by U. S. Commissioner Osborne, and Frick has been admitted to bail. It is supposed that no less than twenty of the plates have been manufactured and millions of the stamps printed, and that the fraud will amount to $100,000.

☞ A Cotton Report from New Orleans, Dec. 30, states that the stock of cotton in the country, and the receipt of cotton in seaports, are larger than has been supposed. The report says:

The question arises, will not the strength of the large holders at Mobile and New York be exhausted before the first falling off takes place? and can that strength continue if cotton continues to be piled up in the ports? Already the stock held at the leading points exceed $500,000 bales and is daily increasing, whereas the total foreign exports since the 1st of September amount to only 300,000 bales.

Down to the latest dates from all points so far as the present indications can be trusted, they think it not unreasonable to anticipate a crop for 1866 and 1867 of 1,500,000 to 1,800,000 bales, whereof not less than one half will be retained in the country; or say 230,000 or 300,000 bales from the Atlantic States and Florida, and 1,300,000 to 1,500,000 bales from the other Southern States.

Christmas day passed off quietly and pleasantly in the interior.

Immigration of Swiss and Germans is expected in Mississippi from Ohio.

Business generally is falling off here, and advices of similar import come to us from Texas. Goods can now be bought cheaper in Galveston and Houston than here. Parties are buying goods there at auction, and sending them here and to New York for sale. Fears are entertained by old business men that a "smash up" must come sooner or later.

Three brick stores in a central part of this city were recently sold for less than the bricks could be bought for.

☞ At Leavenworth, Kansas, Jan. 6th, an immense meeting, attended by a large number of men from different parts of the State, was held. Resolutions were unanimously adopted indorsing President Johnson's administration of public affairs and his reconstruction policy as announced in his message, and pledging him a hearty support in his efforts to bring about reconciliation and harmony between both sections of the country. It was also resolved that the theory upon which war was conducted under the late lamented President and which has been adopted and maintained by President Johnson, that the nominal rights and status of the States lately in rebellion, were not suspended nor destroyed, is both constitutional and commendable. The meeting indorsed the proposed amendment to the Constitution making actual suffrage the basis of representation; commended the freedmen for their faithfulness and loyalty during the rebellion, and favored the passage of laws, State and Federal, to protect them from oppression, and guaranteeing them the fullest enjoyment of personal liberty and rights of property. It was also resolved that the Freedmen's Bureau was useful and necessary, and should be continued until the rights of the freedmen were placed beyond jeopardy. The meeting was addressed by Gen. Jim Lane.

THE NEW PAPER.—Blackwell & Co., 171 Broadway, New York, have favored us with a copy of Ticknor & Fields' new weekly entitled "Every Saturday," modeled on Dickens' celebrated "All the Year Round." Persons wishing to subscribe for a short period on trial, can send the above enterprising house any amount they please.—Blackwell & Co.'s speciality being the supply of all the popular weekly papers and magazines for short periods at the regular subscription price. Messrs. B. & Co. are a respectable and prompt firm, we should say, from our experience with them.

☞ Adams' Express between Boston and New York, was robbed of a large sum of money on Saturday night. The Boston Journal learns that the door to the car was examined at Bridgeport and found to be secure, and that the express messenger rode in the smoking car with one or two friends from Bridgeport to New Haven, where it was first discovered that the car had been entered and the safes robbed. [Not a very vigilant expressman. But query whether the "friends" in the smoking car, were accomplices of the robber?]

— We were never aware that there was so great a difference in the qualities of bar soap until after using the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Model Soap; our advice to our readers is to go without delay to your grocer and get a supply, for it is a truly wonderful article and will not injure the finest fabric; our experience is that it is the best dirt-extracter known among the many different brands of soap in the market. Their Depot is 112 Liberty Street, New York. 35

NO FENCES IN GERMANY.—The Secretary of the Ohio Agricultural Society, who has been travelling in Germany, speaking of the country near Dresden, says every foot of land not in the forest is cultivated. There are no fences; the field is plowed up to the roadside, and fruits and flowers are grown by every roadside that I travelled; no one disturbs them. The cattle, sheep and swine are kept in stables, or if takenout, under the charge of a shepherd or herdman. Here and there, dotted over the landscape, we saw sheep in pasture, but have seen no cattle or swine "running about loose." The genus "loafer" is unknown there.

☞ Never did shrewd business men make a more foolish and needless mistake, than the publishers of the Boston Dailies, when last Summer they all followed the Courier in lowering their price. It never cost more to print newspapers than now; and no paper worth printing ought ever to have been sold for less than 5 cents in gold, not to mention currency.

Now these papers have been obliged to raise their price again, though the publishers beg a thousand pardons for doing the necessary act of self-preservation; when the fact is, that nobody worth noticing ever called for the reduction, or thanked them for making it—and scarcely anybody will object to the trifling increase now, and in a week it will all be forgotten. Newspapers always have been the cheapest things in the market, and printers generally the poorest paid; and we never could see that one man thought any higher of another for cheating himself—in fact he, rather, who cheats others, is esteemed more.

— The Worcester Spy reports that Mrs. Messenger, living in Braggville, Milford, came to her end in a painful and sudden manner. She mistook the cellar door for that leading up stairs, receiving an injury which terminated fatally in a few hours. She was about 89 years old.

— The Chicago Tribune severely denounces the folly of the railroad managers of the lines centering at that city in the matter of the present exhorbitant freight tariffs. It says that the losses in sales to the Chicago merchants thereby, during the past three months, amount to several millions of dollars, at least.

— The Louisville publishers having come to the conclusion that the issue of seven daily papers per week involved a greater amount of both mental and physical labor, and of wear and tear of body and mind than mortals could be expected to stand for more than ten years on a stretch, have wisely determined to issue only six papers each week.

— A contemporary says of the wreck of the ship Newton at Nantucket, that the immense number of small fragments of the ship which have drifted ashore appeared as if they had been subjected to an explosion (the cargo was kerosene oil) Everything goes to favor such an opinion. Large spars were broken off short, and an iron truss, the size of a man's arm, was broken off short as a pipe stem.

— Admiral DuPont kept his ships outside Charleston bar, and made $580,000 thereby. President Lincoln issued an imperative order to him to move his ships inside and seal the harbor against blockade running. DuPont disobeyed, and was relieved. Dahlgren succeeded him, and moved his ships, and blockade running was so completely destroyed that Dahlgren's prize money only amounts to a little over $9000.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-spot,) and Lentigo, or freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of children and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. Perry, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

[Communication.]

OUR CITY FARM.—Mr. Editor: Permit me through your columns, to express my astonishment at the course I learn Mayor Bailey has taken, and is still taking, against the best interest of the city. The remarks from the Journal of the 4th inst. led me to inquire, "Are these things so?" After diligent inquiry, and reference to His Honor's Address, I am obliged to believe what I least thought of.

I have acted the part of a friend to Mr. Bailey, and always took him to be an honorable man and capable Mayor; and no one regretted more than I, that there should be any opposition to his re-nomination. There was opposition; and this matter, that now most occupies the minds of the candid, thinking citizens, was one cause of this opposition. I heard at the time, that the Mayor was in favor of a change at the City Farm and Almshouse; which was denied, if not by him, certainly by his friends. Later developments of his own public making, go to prove otherwise.

We heartily concur with the Journal, that the City Farm and Alms house is the best institution of the city; and no persons have ever given more general satisfaction here, than the present Superintendent and his wife. The good management and appearance of the place is a pleasure to all unprejudiced persons who take an interest in the city's welfare, and the comfort of the unfortunate poor.

But, Mr. Editor, I will make my communication short; yet I am full of the matter, and am not alone: others should be heard from, and not let the best interest of the city be treated with impunity, for any reason whatever,—whether to please some disappointed applicants of long standing, and their few friends, or otherwise.

But we have a hope. I believe we have elected in the Boards of Aldermen and Common Council, high-minded and honorable men, who would scorn to do any act detrimental to the interests of the city, and who know well the manner in which Mr. Norton and his wife have discharged their duties.

Yours, with due respect to all,

Special Insurance Notice.

To my Friends and the Public:

Twelve years ago I was appointed Agent of the HOME INSURANCE COMPANY of New York, and have faithfully performed every trust and duty for the Company. Last week I received a note from Mr. D. A. CLARK, Special Agent, stating a change was to be made and the Agency to be transferred to another party. I at once thought what was in the wind, and left for New York to learn the cause, but before my return the change was made. I inquired why the change was made, as not a word had been said that all transactions were not satisfactory—and all the charges they brought against me were that the Company was making no money in Portsmouth, that the rates of Insurance were too low, and I was blamed for the late fires—the burning of Congress Block and Locke's Stable,

This same Special Agent, D. A. CLARK, spent several weeks in Portsmouth, examined all my risks that he wished to see, and generally called them very good; approved the risks of Preston, Shores and Salen in Congress Block. Mr. Clark, at my request, went with me to Woodbury Locke's Stable on State street, and examined the premises and stock, and fixed the rate at 1½ per ct., a half per cent less than I had before insured him, and authorized me to take any reasonable amount Mr. Locke wanted insured. I acted under his instructions; and if insuring the Stable was the cause of the fire, the blame should be on Mr. Clark, and not on me—for I should not have taken it at that rate. Such is a true statement of the facts and all charges that have come to my knowledge.

I think the Home Insurance Co., or their Special Agent, D. A. Clark, has done me great injustice, after working for them for so many years; then, without any satisfactory reason or complaint, and without notice, give my hard earned labors to another man. I trust my friends and the public will withdraw their Insurance, and bestow it on me, where it rightfully belongs,—for I have several as good and responsible Insurance Companies as the Home, of New York.

HOUSEHOLD WORDS.—Delicious, refreshing, purifying, preservative, indispensable, exquisite, are the terms applied to the famous Sozodont, in thousands of households every day. And why? No. 39 Congress St., Portsmouth N. H.,

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supercede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and it is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged enables to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow the water above the pump pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged coldets of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every trokes.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves against the many. ☞ We publish elsewhere, as an advertisement, an article not exactly in our line for adoption—hardly for endorsement. Still, while it is well known that this Chronicle never has directly advocated the claims of any candidate, or any nomination, for office; yet we have always expressed ourselves in favor of keeping the old incumbents, unless much better men can be offered in their places.

In this view, we did and said all we could to retain Mr. Bennett in the City Clerk's Office, notwithstanding his venerable age; and we were also sorry to hear any talk, lately, of displacing his successor, Mr. Bufford, who through the war performed the more than doubled duties of his position so faithfully and so well as to seriously impair his own health. And we were glad to have him re-chosen, and sorry to lose the experience of the old City Messengers, first Mr. Walker and now Mr. Wiggin—though the new appointee is a most worthy and exceedingly capable young man, and a warm friend of ours from his boyhood, he having carried an original list of this Chronicle, and done it most faithfully too—better than one boy in a hundred. And such trifles are an infallible index to character, we have found.

And when the talk was so loud and strong for refusing to Mayor Bailey the renomination which by usage he should receive—regarding the objections to him as idle and unreasonable, we "did what we could" to "make his calling and election sure," as we deemed he had made, and would again make, a capable and efficient public officer, or servant.

As to the matter under consideration, we know nothing of it; we cannot say how much of truth or reason there is in the communication referred to. We have not heard what objections, if any, the Mayor can or will bring against the present Superintendent of our City Farm, or his reappointment; nor do we know what candidate, if any, His Honor prefers, or will nominate in his place. We only know that we have regarded, and still regard, Mr. Norton as an exceedingly efficient and capable manager of the City Farm, and his helpmeet one of a thousand for the place; and we are sure that if we owned the corporation, instead of dismissing the Mayor, Superintendent, or City Clerk, we would double the salary of the Mayor, give the Superintendent an out-door Assistant, and keep all three as long as they could see—increasing their pay yearly, as we always do in our own business. For our part, we regret there should be any division in our public counsels, and earnestly hope there may not be—but trusting that all concerned will keep the public interest close in view, we are willing to leave the result with those who must decide such matters according to their official oaths and their personal consciences.

☞ A Washington dispatch says that Wm. L. Hanscom, U. S. Naval Constructor, recently stationed at the Philadelphia Navy Yard, has sent in his resignation to the Secretary of the Navy, and it will probably be accepted.

☞ Different thermometres in various parts of Portsmouth, on Monday morning, told of a temperature down from 12 to 20 degrees below zero; and as with our friends after they get very old, we all like to help them to be a little more aged still, so everybody tries to add a little to the height or depth of the weather extremes—and we will Chronicle it at even 20°, and let it go at that. It was cold enough for all practical purposes, at half-past 3 o'clock in the morning, at any rate; but our press-boys were on hand at 4, and all our carriers—two of them less than ten years old—reported for duty soon after 5, but we kept them back a little. Smart boys, those.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Traveling through the South in the service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 600 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the natures, animus, aspirations, and the instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than do the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science.

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

NERVOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA, HEADACHE,

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has been in common use, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a multitude of affections." In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

COTTON PLANTATIONS

FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the whole plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third no crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices

Persons intending to avail themselves of which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he may be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the south.

THE EIGHT-HOUR MOVEMENT.—The following bill to limit a day's work to eight hours has been introduced in the New York Legislature:

Section 1. On and after the first day of May next eight hours of labor between the rising and setting of the sun shall be deemed and held to be a legal day's work in all cases of labor and services by the day, where there is no contract or agreement to the contrary.

Sec. 2. This act shall not apply to or in any manner affect labor or service by the year, month or week.

☞ In New York, Jan. 3, a suit was commenced in the Supreme Court against Sec. Stanton by J. H. Maddox, for alleged false imprisonment, the plaintiff having been a purchaser in Richmond, under permission from President Lincoln and the Secretary of the Treasury, of large quantities of tobacco, which were destroyed by our forces at Fredericksburg in 1864, and been kept in the Old Capitol Prison until President Johnson came into office. He claims $1,000,000 damages.

The defendant claims that the plaintiff was guilty of a violation of the articles of war in trading with the enemy, that the arrest was not made by his order, but by the Provost Marshal, and that the plaintiff is still on his parole in $5000 to await a trial on such a charge.

Some of the negro population of Washington are indignant because of the fact that the President left them to gaze on the walls and furniture of his reception room, on New Year's day, instead of on the Executive himself. The negroes, it appears, were left until the last before being "presented," but the President had become too weary from the hand-shaking of the day to receive them, and retired to his apartments. It is not at all probable that the President intended any slight to his colored friends, though certain mischievous people are endeavoring to make it appear so.—Herald.

EMBERS OF SECESSION.—The Richmond Examiner of Wednesday argues against the further circulation of Yankee literature in the South; and the Times has an article inciting the mob spirit against the loyal correspondents of the Northern press in that city, and urges chastisement and maltreatment.

— Henry Andra Bugeoine, recently drowned in China, was a native of North Carolina, but was educated at the Jesuits' College, and was during several sessions a page in the Senate. After roving about the world for some years, inspired by a wild ambition, he became a Lieutenant of Ward in China, and succeeded him as commander of sixty thousand disciplined men. He wrote to a friend here saying: "After years of patient labor, watching, waiting, and suffering, my day has at last come. In two years I shall rule China." Not long afterward his ambitious schemes were nipped in the bud. He was wounded, disgraced, and finally drowned while in irons. Burgeoine's father was a French officer, who served under Napoleon, and his oldest brother was a rebel general in the recent war.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabialis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUES,
Merchant, Curacoa, S. A,

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

The suffering millions in our land to give this remedy a trial, convinced that by its timely use many may be relieved, many cured of

Read the Pamphlet of Testimonials with each bottle, and do not use the medicine against the advice of your Physician.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857, 78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal opinions furnished by eminent counsel in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any patent issued, furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant testimony that he can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice he has enjoyed during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS TO THE BOARD OF which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.
DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. After a over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in Dr. Maggiel's

Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that can be wrought.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, diseases that would rush over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the golden opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 10, 1866.

LAW AND ORDER.—The City Council of Manchester having concluded not to execute the prohibitory liquor law, and having also recommended a State law to license the traffic,—some newspaper correspondents there are getting out a programme for such a law as they fancy. If they will look into Maine, they can find a very stringent license law, made a few years ago by the confederated conservatives and rum party; but which was not so easily enforced as the real Maine law was, both before and since.

If anybody can promote temperance, or diminish intemperance, by a license law, we should certainly wish them God-speed. Our knowledge of the former license laws amounts to this: they gave a sanction to the traffic, a quasi respectability; and the respectable dealers, who paid their license fees, were too honorable, or proud, or conscientious, to prosecute the lower classes of their own craft. Most of the men who were not drinkers would not prosecute the keepers of low drinkeries, because they thought the genteel ones did the most harm.

One real difficulty in the way is, the known drunken habit of a large portion of our people, and another and a greater difficulty is, the delusion of thousands, who suppose themselves temperate, while they tipple a little, under one pretext or another; a great demand for liquor is thus kept up, and men can be be found, who for money will satisfy it.

Of the class of total abstinents, who know by personal experience that no such stimulants are necessary or useful, only a few feel called upon to make active efforts for temperance; and the ill-will, hatred, and persecution of such, by the advocates, counsellors and backers of crime and criminals, do not offer great encouragement to prosecutors, under any law that can be devised.

The Moral Effort, by individuals, or by societies, by clergy or laity, is a path always open, and in it there is always some success, though sometimes none is apparent,—for while drunkenness makes a show, temperance does not.

The evils of intemperance are present—our cities are full of them—and all other vices cluster round them. In a moral view, they are easily attacked in a lecture, and in such ways they must be met. The Washingtonian effort was moral, and for a time greatly successful. The Maine Law was one of its products.

Some new moral effort is called for now, by the great flow of drunkenness,—and after it will surely come some new laws, or some better enforcement of old ones. In the mean time, let all reformers, who are inclined to be impatient, take the Psalmist's advice—Fret not thyself because of evil doers, for they shall soon be cut down and wither. U. T.

—— Last Sunday morning, in Manchester, (as we learn from the Mirror) the ordinance of Baptism was intended to be administered to several converts, by Rev. J. A. Knowles of the F. W. Baptist church but after cutting through the ice on the stream, the water was found to be too low, and so the ceremony was postponed,—very fortunately, unless the minister and the candidates wish to be pillars of ice.

☞ In November last John Rose, a lad of nine years, belonging in Brooklyn, N. Y., who had been placed in the boarding school of Edwin Whitney in Connecticut, for the purpose of being brought under good discipline, set fire to the school building and it was entirely destroyed, causing a loss to Mr. Whitney of $12,000. Rose admitted that he set the fire, but owing to his youth was not prosecuted for arson. As the boy had about $50,000 in his own right, and Whitney was a poor man, the latter brought a suit in Brooklyn to recover money to establish himself in business again. The jury gave a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, giving him $11,000.

— John Carley was found dead in bed at Worcester on Sunday, having poisoned himself with laudanum which he had purchased in small quantities at several stores.

CONGRESS is now at work. In the House, Monday, Jan. 8,—

A resolution was adopted by 94 against 37, declaring it the sense of the House that troops should not be withdrawn from the late seceding States until the two Houses of Congress have ascertained and declared their future presence there no longer necessary.

This is a decided exhibition of strength: the republican members of the House are invigorated by the bracing air, and evidently determined that the recent sacrifices of blood and treasure shall not have been made in vain.

The Democrats of course voted No, and with them voted Messrs. Raymond, Woodbridge, Humphrey, Delano, Davis, and two or three others, conciliationists. The resolution was inspired by a report that the President intends to withdraw all the troops from the South.

Mr. Blaine of Maine offered a resolution, which was referred to the joint committee on reconstruction, proposing to amend the Constitution, 20th article, 1st section, 2d clause, so that it shall read as follows to the first period:

"Representatives and direct taxes shall be apportioned among the several States which may be included in this Union according to their respective numbers, which shall be determined by taking the whole number of persons, except those to whom political privileges are denied or abridged by the Constitution or laws of any State on account of race or color."

Mr. Blaine proceeded to demonstrate the injustice which the amendment, basing representation on the number of voters, would produce on the loyal States. California has 358,000 inhabitants, and Vermont 314,000, and each has three Representatives to-day. But California has 207,000 voters and Vermont has 87,000; hence, on the new basis, California would have nearly three times as many Representatives as Vermont. Massachusetts and Indiana were compared—the former with 1,221,000 inhabitants, the latter with 1,328,000. Massachusetts has ten representatives, and Indiana has eleven—an exactly fair apportionment. But Massachusetts has 227,000 voters, and Indiana has 317,000, so that if Massachusetts should retain her ten Representatives, Indiana would have well nigh fifteen; or if Indiana should be confined to eleven, Massachusetts would be reduced to seven. Other inequalities would result from this amendment.

Mr. Blaine exhibited the practical effect of the amendment proposed by him. It would simply exclude the colored population from being reckoned in the numbers entitled to representation, except in States where they were fully enfranchised. It would deprive the rebellious States of all representation based on disfranchised negroes, and it would not disturb the relative representation of the loyal States, and would not aggrandize one loyal State at the expense of another.

Mr. Shellabarger of Ohio—the success sor of Sam Cox—made an effective speech on the relation of the rebellion to the Union. He demolished some of the positions taken by Governor Raymond's recent speech, and demonstrated, both by the Constitution, the decisions of the Supreme Court and other high authorities, that when a State had overthrown a loyal government and lost its powers, only the United States, represented by Congress and the President, has the power to determine when a new State government has been created. Only governments so reconstructed can be recognized and defended by the United States as Republican in form. He would welcome the hour that brought the seceded States back so reconstructed with governments based upon general and sincere loyalty and upon a recognition of the rights of every loyal citizen.

BAPTISTS IN NEW HAMPSHIRE.—The Secretary of the Baptist Convention says, in 1840 the official records show a membership of 9555, and 1865 a membership of 7718—a decrease of 1837 in 25 years. This statement went round among the papers, and some tried to make a political handle of it, with rather poor success. Rev. Cummings of Concord, however, while not denying the correctness of these statistics, proceeds to explain them, very nearly as we did some time ago. He says:

If we go back in the history of the Baptist denomination in New Hampshire to 1836, four years previous to that date with which the statistics of 1865 have been compared, we find a membership of 7614. About that time began the "Miller" excitement, and up to 1842 there were great additions to our church. Then followed, as is usually the case, great apostacies. In 1845, through the vigorous discipline of our denomination, 417 members were dismissed and excluded. During this period, also, many feeble churches were formed in localities where other denominations had strong foothold. These precarious organizations were joined to various associations, but failing to make annual reports many of them were dropped and their numbers left out of the general aggregate, as the church statistics are gathered only through the returns made to the different associations. Within the last quarter of a century there have been dropped from the Baptist Associations in New Hampshire 29 churches, with a membership of 1464. This makes the apparent decrease only 373. Now if we deduct from these figures the members of those small churches which have never been connected with either association, but which were included in the report to the convention of 1840, our denomination would stand as to numbers, about where it did a quarter of a century ago. In this calculation we do not count the members of those churches which would be called, practically, dead. The Meredith Association, during the period under consideration, has dropped twelve churches with a membership of 1061, while, in the meantime, those churches which remain have been diminished by the removal of members to other parts of the country. The other associations have increased their numbers, with the exception of those in the western part of the State.

It is worthy of notice that the churches now embraced in a great majority of the associations are stronger than they were in 1840, and have over them a more gifted and efficient ministry. The pecuniary strength of our denomination has greatly increased. In 1840 we raised $200 toward the support of feeble churches; now we contribute annually for that object over $2000. In 1840 our Literary Institution had incurred a debt of $4000, which sum could not be raised in the whole State. As a last resort the trustees gave their personal signatures to the bond. Since 1850 we have raised about $30,000—to furnish buildings and a permanent fund for our institution at New London, while arrangements have auspiciously commenced to raise from fifty to one hundred thousand dollars more for the same object. Our contributions for purposes at home and abroad have, during this period increased, in an equal ratio. Our edifices and other conveniences connected with public worship have been greatly improved, while our ministry is much more amply supported." In conclusion, Mr. Cummings says: "I know the Baptists in New Hampshire have much for which they should be humbled; but the Lord has done great things for us, for which let us thank him and take courage."

☞ On Monday, the U. S. Senate was only in session half an hour. It had been expected that Senator Doolittle would move to take the credentials of Messrs. Fowler and Patterson, claiming seats as Senators from Tennessee, from the Joint Committee on Reconstruction, and to refer them to the Committee on the Judiciary, but for some reason the proposed movement was not made.

Business Notices.

Communication.

Mr. Editor:—I am constrained, by reading an article in your issue of the 9th inst., in relation to the City Farm, &c., to make some brief inquiries. Your correspondent expresses some "astonishment at the course" the Mayor has taken, and is still taking, "against the best interest of the city."

1st. Who is best qualified to judge of the management of the House and Farm—the Mayor, who visits the place weekly, or "A Friend to Right," who, perhaps, visits the Farm once or twice a year, and then upon invitation of the Superintendent? Let the public judge.

2d. Your correspondent states that he "acted the part of a friend to Mr. Bailey, and always took him to be an honorable and capable Mayor." Why honorable and capable? Was it simply because Mayor Bailey nominated Mr. Norton as Superintendent of the Farm last year? Because he may not make the same nomination this year, is "A Friend to Right" ready to pronounce him dishonorable and incapable? From the communication referred to, it appears that this possible occurrence seems to justify him in thus pronouncing judgment.

3d. "A Friend to Right" states that he regretted as much as any one that there should have been opposition to Mr. Bailey's re-nomination. Opposition from whom? Was it from those who had the best interests of the city at heart, or from some persons then in office who were fearful that they might not be continued therein, or who were not allowed to do as they pleased, as some declared they had previously done; and if "A Friend to Right" had believed that Mr. Bailey was in favor of a change at the City Farm, would he not have been arrayed among the opposition?

4th. He says the "City Farm and Almshouse is the best institution of the city," (I presume no one doubts this,) "and no persons have given more general satisfaction here than the present Superintendent and his wife." With the latter the Mayor expresses himself in his message as being perfectly satisfied, and if of the former he could yet conscientiously say as much, was it not magnanimous in him to hold his peace?

5th. Will "A Friend to Right" inform us who the applicants for the Farm are? I am quite sure there has not been an applicant for the place during the last four years.

Last of all, after intimating what the City Council must do to prevent "A Friend to Right" from being found hereafter on the side of the opposition to them, should they ever again come before the public—he attempts to flatter them by calling them "high-minded and honorable men." Should the Board of Aldermen prefer some other person as Superintendent of the City Farm, is "A Friend to Right" ready to pronounce them low-minded and dishonorable men? It should be presumed that our City Fathers are capable of judging of the fitness of those who fill the various offices in their gift, and we are willing to leave it entirely to their sense of justice and humanity. CANDOR.

THINK A LITTLE.

Many persons object to the use of Whiskey, both from dislike and from principle, yet find they need effects in their families some pure stimulant of a like nature. C. A. Richards' Concentrated Extract of Rye is designed to meet this want. It is not intended as a beverage alone, but for the use of those who need some spirit as a medicine. It is sold only in bottles, and generally kept by the apothecaries. C. A. RICHARDS, 99 Washington Street, Boston, is the wholesale agent. 11

Special Insurance Notice.

To my Friends and the Public:

Twelve years ago I was appointed Agent of the HOME INSURANCE COMPANY of New York, and have faithfully performed every trust and duty for the Company. Last week I received a note from Mr. N. A. CLARK, Special Agent, stating a change was to be made and the Agency to be transfered to another party. I at once thought what was in the wind, and left for New York to learn the cause, but before my return the change was made. I inquired why the change was made, as not a word had been said that all transactions were not satisfactory—and all the charges they brought against me were that the Company was making no money in Portsmouth, that the rates of insurance were too low, and I was blamed for the late fires—the burning of Congress Block and Locke's Stable,

This same Special Agent, N. A. CLARK, spent several weeks in Portsmouth, examined all my risks that he wished to see, and generally called them very good; approved the risks of Preston, Shores and Salen, in Congress Block. Mr. Clark, at my request, went with me to Woodbury Locke's Stable on State street, and examined the premises and stock, and fixed the rate at ½ per ct., a half per cent. less than I had before insured him, and authorized me to take any reasonable amount Mr. Locke wanted insured. I acted under his instructions; and it insuring the Stable was the cause of the fire, the blame should be on Mr. Clark, and not on me—for I should not have taken it at that rate. Such is a true statement of the facts and all charges that have come to my knowledge.

I think the Home Insurance Co., or their Special Agent, N. A. Clark, has done me great injustice, after working for them for so many years; then, without any satisfactory reason or complaint, and without notice, give my hard earned agency to another man. I trust my friends and the public will withdraw their insurance, and bestow it on me, where it rightfully belongs,—for I have several as good and responsible Insurance Companies as the Home, of New York.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-spot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. DR. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a speciality, has discovered a remedy for those discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—The peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

Special Notice.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is well fate and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. MAGGIEL'S BILIOUS, DYSPEPTIC and DIARRHŒA PILLS cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin, MAGGIEL'S SALVE is infallible. Sold by J. Lyon's Periodical Drops!

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES

These Drops are a highly medically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any Pills, Powders or Nostrums. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, requiring half less quantity, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. Their popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know aught of them, as the surest, safest and most infallible preparation in the world for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when and why they should not, accompany each bottle, and without producing effects contrary to nature's chosen laws, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of Dr. Jonathan L. Lyon, without which none are genuine. Price $1.50.

Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 195 Chapel Street, New Haven, Conn., where he can be consulted either personally, or by mail, (enclosing stamp,) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses. Price $1.50 per bottle.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Farnville, Louisiana, March 8, 1850

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s: but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours, very truly,

☞ The Concert by the Portsmouth Cornet Band, Monday evening, agreeably varied by a vocal quartet consisting of Miss Susie Foster soprano, and Miss Hatch alto, with Messrs. Tompson and Huntress from the Band—was greatly enjoyed by a highly respectable and very appreciative audience, which though not small, did not fill the Temple so well as the occasion and performances merited—owing doubtless to the extreme cold weather and the fear of it.

The Band played exceedingly well, and their selection was pronounced the best they have ever presented. Miss Hatch's rich and strong alto rang out as clear and grateful as it always does; and Miss Foster added to her laurels won at the Philharmonic Concert. This young lady has created considerable excitement in our local musical circles, as we predicted before her appearance in public; and the best judges promise a brilliant future for her as a vocalist—in which hope our whole public seem to join as a deserved reward for her worth and talents. Mr. Day, at the splendid grand piano forte, performed his part so well as to be obliged to respond with an encore; and indeed it is rare for an audience here to express so much gratification as throughout the whole evening the hearty applause and recalls and repeats indicated.

☞ A communication in the Chronicle of Tuesday suggested the query what candidate the Mayor has for Superintendent of the City Farm. We are informed, on the best authority, that the Mayor has no candidate.

In reply to a query in the communication which we give to day, we will explain for the first writer that his article as presented to us, asserted that the Mayor had promised somebody not to object, but rather to aid, a re-nomination of the present Spt. of the City Farm, but afterwards "disbonorably" did otherwise. We thought best to soften the assertion somewhat; but the rejoinder rather calls for the statement as No. 1 made it, in order to explain the language he afterwards used, as referred to by "Candor." We regret this whole controversy.

MASONIC.—At a meeting of St. Andrew's Lodge on Monday evening, the following officers were installed for the ensuing year, by R. W. D. D. G. M. Wm. P. Walker:

Harry G. Tanton—W. Master.
James W. Lord—Sr. Warden.
Henry C. Walker—Jr. Warden.
Wingate N. Insley—Treasurer.
Jos. C. Walker—Secretary.
Peter Page—Sr. Deacon.
Benj. F. Fernald—Jr. Deacon.
Henry F. Lane—Chaplain.
Daniel G. Raitt, William E. Littlefield—Stewards.
John H. Marden—Marshal.
Henry J. Bishop—Dep. Marshal.
Benj. Weeks—Tyler.

☞ At the Republican County Convention held at Exeter on Tuesday, James C. Brown, Esq, of this city, was nominated for County Commissioner, by 2 majority; Geo. E. Lawrence of Epping, for County Treasurer; and Wm. H. Belknap of Exeter, for Register of Deeds.

☞ Mr. E. A. Joy's Grand Singing School Concert comes off at the Temple this evening, and all who wish to get good seats should go early, as these concerts attract crowded houses. Tickets 25 cents, children 15 cents.

☞ We learn that S. M. Pook, Naval Constructor at this Navy Yard, has been detached and ordered to the Philadelphia Yard.

☞ A large sale of furniture, stoves, dry goods, &c., is advertised for this morning by Mr. Wendell. See auction column.

COLORED PREACHERS.—The Richmond Enquirer is somewhat annoyed by the presence of colored divines in the city who have been privileged to exercise the clerical functions as white clergyman do; but it nevertheless promises a liberal toleration, as it professes, provided they will stick to their profession, preach the truth as it is in the Bible, and persuade their sisters and brethren to walk humbly in life, to get off the sidewalk when ladies and gentlemen are passing, to hold their tongues and speak properly when spoken to, and do their duty fully and faithfully to their employers, it will take pleasure in giving them all the encouragement and comfort that is in their power.

"One of the Northern 'school-marms' who is there employed in teaching the 'freedmen,' told a sprightly negro girl that she 'must not call the woman with whom she lived mistress; that she was as good as anybody.' Pretty soon the girl asked her teacher what business she followed before coming South to teach. 'I was a bonnet-maker,' was the reply. 'Well!' said the girl, gathering up her books and making for the door, 'I am not going to 'sociate wid you any longer; you say I is ekel to my mistress, and she don't associate wid bonnet-makers.'"

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.
By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,
N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.
1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does this unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science,

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of afflictions.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

COTTON PLANTATIONS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate improvement, once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bonus, mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent. on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

American Land Agency and Company,
JOHN A. ANDREW, President.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabbalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
E. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1857,
78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms and with dispatch. Researches made into American and Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents not heretofore issued, and other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copy of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting the Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials herewith prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All unobtrusive of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
DAVID P. HOLLOWAY,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. E. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all the different subjects which patents have been granted, and that is now pending; such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications ALLOWED PATENTS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. E. H. EDDY.

VINELAND
FARM AND FRUIT LANDS.
In a mild and healthful climate. Thirty miles south of Philadelphia by Railroad, in New Jersey, on the same line of latitude as Baltimore, Md. The soil is rich and productive, varying from a clay to a sandy loam, suitable for Wheat, Grass, Corn, Tobacco, Fruits and Vegetables. This is a great fruit country. Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c., produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand in population within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of Farm Lands, 10 acres lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.
Fruits and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other locality north of Norfolk, Va. Improved places for sale.
Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Foundries, Stores and the like; and a good lawyer, with room, can be rented.
For persons who desire quiet, with the best moral climate, and a good soil, in a country beautifully improved, abounding in fruits, and possessing all other social privileges of the land of civilization, it is worth of a visit.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.
DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the weak and nervous to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold sloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and Drugs and Nauseants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.
DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS
Invariably Cure the Following Diseases:
Asthma,
Bowel Complaints,
Coughs,
Colds,

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 11, 1866.

A FULL GENERAL.—Lieut. Gen. Grant's report on the Southern States, I am sorry to say, will probably prevent his being made a full General, which rank he has so gloriously earned. I do not believe that the report contains a word that the General did not believe to be strictly true when he wrote it, and if he was inclined to favor the South, it was doubtless because he earnestly desires immediate restoration and reunion, as necessary to the enforcement of the Monroe doctrine. The people should see that he is not deprived by politicians, of his deserved honors.—Perley.

Gen. Grant has done great and signal military service to the country,—and has the honors. He has also the noble and ample pay of Lt. General. But in the present condition of our Nation, we ought not to raise the pay of any high officer, until after we make our three years' private soldiers who went out without bounty, or with a small one, at least equal in money with those who took $300 or $500 in the last year of the war. We do not think his report, made up from five days' observation will do him much good: and hope it may not do the country much harm. It might have been made by a much smaller man than a full general:—and on the whole we think his present rank is about right. We don't want orders of Nobility, Military nor Civil. U. T.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—The bill granting unqualified suffrage to all residents in this District has been rejected in the Senate Committee on the District of Columbia by one majority, and a bill will be reported bestowing the right of suffrage on all male persons of color who shall have resided here six months before any election, provided that every such person shall be able to read and write and be capable of understanding the rudiments of an English education.—Perley.

[This is better, perhaps, than the unqualified suffrage—and it should be accompanied with another change, viz., confirming the suffrage of all who are now voters there, and applying the reading and writing test to all new comers, whether white, black or fancy colored.]

LONDON ITEMS.—Further correspondence between Mr. Adams and the British Foreign Secretary is published, respecting the Shenandoah. Under date of Nov. 21 Mr. Adams says he is instructed to state that the proposition of Her Majesty's Government for creating a joint commission is respectfully declined. On Dec. 2, Earl Clarendon, writing to Mr. Adams, says: "Her Majesty's government consider that no advantage can result from prolonging a controversy of which the topics are fully exhausted, but which might possibly, if continued, introduce acrimony into the relations of England and the United States." Earl Clarendon persists, however, in asserting that England has never deviated from her duties as a neutral power, and he declares how strongly Her Majesty's government and the people of England desire to be in close friendship with the United States. Virtually this correspondence leaves the question of the American claims on England suspended.

The steamer Ibis, belonging to Cork, was wrecked near that port. About 20 lives were lost.

At Cork, on the 21st ult., Chas. Underwood O'Connell was found guilty of treason and felony, and sentenced to ten years' penal servitude. The prisoner made a violent speech, and after being sentenced said he hoped there were would be an exchange of prisoners before his sentence expired.

Sir Henry Storks is formally gazetted as Captain General and Governor of Jamaica pending the prosecution of certain inquiries. Russell Gurney, M. P., has consented to serve as a member of the commission.

The Times says the appointment of Mr. Gurney proves the desire on the part of the Government that the inquiry should be conducted in the most impartial manner.

The trouble with the students in Paris still continued. The lectures at the faculties of law and medicine resumed on the 21st ult., but the Professors were unable to proceed, owing to the noise made by the students. The latest dispatches say the agitation among the students is diminishing.

☞ In Rutland, Vt., the large brick block opposite the depot and a wooden building adjoining were destroyed by fire Tuesday evening. Loss about $100,000; insured $50,000. The fine Masonic hall, where the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Vermont were in session, was in the third story of the block. The mails from New York to St. Albans, Vt., and Plattsburg, N. Y., were robbed at the depot during the excitement caused by the fire.

— In New York City, Tuesday, the Fenian Congress resolved itself into a court martial to try the seceding Senators, after the presiding officer had refused to entertain a motion to expel them for contempt in not appearing to answer the charges against them.

IN THE U. S. SENATE, Jan. 9, the following resolution was passed:

Whereas, it is reported that persons declared free by the Proclamation of Emancipation and by the recent amendment of the Constitution, are now kidnapped and transported to Cuba and Brazil to be held as slaves, and that in this way a new slave trade has been commenced on our coast, therefore,

Resolved, That the Committee on the Judiciary be directed to inquire it any further legislation is needed to prevent the kidnapping of freedmen, and the renewal of the slave trade on the Southern coast.

A letter was received from a gentleman in Alabama, setting forth that the facts stated in the above preamble actually existed, and Federal officers were among the guilty persons. Mr. Johnson called for the name of the writer; Mr. Sumner declined to give it, but did something better, viz, read a letter of similar purport from the U. S. District Judge of Florida. Mr. Davis (to spit out pro-slavery spite against the Yankees) had no doubt the Yankees were endeavoring to re-open the slave trade. He knew they would do so if they thought they could make any money out of it. He was in favor of the resolution.

The bill to give the consent of Congress to the annexation of the counties of Berkley and Jefferson of the late State of Virginia to the State of West Virginia was passed.

Mr. Wilson gave notice that he would introduce a bill to introduce and fix the number of men in the regular army.

In the House, a talk was made that the purpose of passing the bill to facilitate commerce between the States, was to release the Illinois Central Railroad from its obligation to carry the mails, etc, free from charge, in consideration of land grants. Explanations followed from several gentlemen. Finally the Senate was requested to return the bill, as it was passed under a misapprehension.

Mr. Voorhees made a speech in support of the restoration policy of President Johnson, and offering a resolution.

Mr. Bingham replied, advocating equal justice to all, of whatever race or color, and offered a substitute for the resolution of Mr. Voorhees, declaring that the House has an abiding confidence in the President, and that in the future as in the past he will cooperate with Congress in restoring to equal positions and rights with other States in the Union all the States lately in insurrection.

Mr. Stevens suggested that Mr. Bingham refer his resolution to the select committee on Reconstruction. This was agreed to—107 against 32—thus carrying Mr. Voorhees' resolution to the same committee.

A resolution was adopted instructing the Military Committee to inquire into the expediency of converting the property known as Arlington Hights into a home for disabled and wounded soldiers of the war, with a view of establishing an invalid corps for the purpose of manufacturing such stores, etc., as may be required by the army and navy.

☞ Perley writes from Washington, that there is a growing feeling in Congress against admission of any Southern members.

The House Select Committee on Freedmen has authorized its Chairman, Hon. T. S. Elliot, to report his bill, permanently establishing the Freedmen's Bureau. It provides, among other things, that the Secretary of War shall, through the Commissioner and other officers of the Freedmen's Bureau, have military jurisdiction over persons depriving others of civil rights because of race, color or previous condition of slavery. It also authorizes the President to set apart for the use of freedmen in Florida, Mississippi and Arkansas, three millions of acres of good land, to be allotted in parcels of not over forty acres each, with the privilege of purchasing.

☞ "Hunger is the best Sauce" says an old proverb,—and sometimes it is seen to be true, as in the following case. Last Saturday night eight colored men recently from the South, applied for and received lodgings in the 1st Police Station, Boston, and on account of the extreme cold they were permitted to remain there until Monday morning in accordance with their request. They were provided with a substantial breakfast Sunday morning and passed the day quite cheerfully. Early Sunday evening for supper they were furnished with three pots of beans, seven five cent loaves and one ten cent loaf, besides a loaf of brown bread, all of which they ate. On finishing their bountiful supply, one of the darkies rolled up his eyes to the officer in attendance, and said expressively: "I say, boss, isn't yer got no more dat ar bread dar?" The officer coolly replied that he guessed they would survive till morning, and left them to their own reflections.

☞ The Sanitary Commission having declined to continue beyond the first of January the collection of soldiers' claims for back pay, bounty and pensions, the General Secretary of the American Freedmen's Aid Commission will receive until further notice the claims of colored soldiers and their heirs. Applications should be addressed to "Jacob R. Shepard, General Secretary, Washington, D. C."

☞ Two of the three robbers of Adams, express, have been caught at Norwalk, Conn. On Saturday evening three men called at the hotel in Stamford, Ct., and registered their names, two as Lockwood and the other as Clark. They remained all night at Stamford and took the train for Norwalk where they went back of the village to a man named Tristam, where they stopped over night and returned to the village.

Monday, Tristam came down with a bundle which appeared heavy and which he refused to have checked, all the while on his way to New York.

The appearance of the three at Norwalk, caused their arrest, excepting Clark, who absented himself and escaped.

On the two were found a gold watch, some money and other articles which were in the safes.

Tristam has gone to New York to show what he did with the bundle which from its apparent weight is supposed to have contained treasure.

EXPLOSION OF A BOILER, caused by ice. An alarm of fire in Boston, on Monday morning originated in an explosion in house No. 157 Northampton street. The explosion consisted in the bursting of the water back to the range, destroying the range, fragments of which were thrown into the ceiling, where they remained fast, and scattering coals of fire about the room. The furniture was also well shaken up, one end of a lounge being thrown upon the breakfast table, which, very fortunately, the family had but just left and gone into another room. One or two windows were blown out and other damage done. The mode of explosion was in the cold Sunday night the water froze over at the top. A brisk fire Monday morning, made the water hot at the bottom, before the ice had time to thaw; of course the water expanded, and something must break. The ice was stronger than the boiler, and therefore the latter exploded.

☞ In Chicago, Tuesday morning, the Clarendon House and the buildings adjoining, occupied by Schoelcopf Brothers, dealers in groceries and provisions, were destroyed by fire. The Schoelcopfs' loss on the building and stock is $80,000; insured for $36,000. The hotel loss amounts to about $100,000. Also, the same morning, a very large fire occurred on Clark street. Loss $120,000.

GOING TO WORK.—The Richmond Republic says that in every quarter from which accounts have been received, the freedmen are not only willing to make contracts to labor in the fields, but that hundreds of them are anxiously seeking employment of their late masters for the present year. The holidays being over, they are now desirous of going to work.

A SUCCESSFUL IRON-CLAD.—Mr. Zeigler, chief engineer of the iron-clad Monadnock, which was built at the Charlestown Navy Yard, has made a full report to the Secretary of the Navy of the recent cruise of that vessel. Mr. Zeigler says:—

During the whole time the ship has been in commission—ten months—we have sailed six thousand miles, passed Hatteras eight times in all, and been in considerable heavy weather—three days, especially, last December, were enough to test any ship afloat—still she rode it bravely out in safety, not a single accident occurring to mar our pleasure, or disturb the confidence we had so firmly reposed in her. All agree that she is a perfect, successful sea-going monitor. Too much praise cannot be awarded to her constructor, William L. Hanscom, both as regards her staunchness and her sailing qualities. Her average speed all day with an ordinary sea, is eight knots; by driving her a little, more can easily be obtained; but as her machinery is very light it was considered imprudent to run her at sea more than fifty five or sixty revolutions; in smooth water she has repeatedly run ten knots for hours together. Her ventilation is complete, being carried to all parts of the ship, and, during the hottest of our cruise the thermometer never ranged higher than one hundred degrees, averaging generally ninety-six and ninety-eight degrees.

Thousands of strangers, including the Captain-General of Cuba and his suite, have visited the ship; also many French and English army and naval officers, and all agree as to her success.

In conclusion, let me hope that the rest of her class may give as good account of themselves to the government as the Monadnock has. As she has been no expense to the Department, except her actual running expense, I consider her a perfect success in every way, both in fighting and sea-going qualities; and the government has no superior in the iron-clad navy.

— A Virginia clergyman writes to the Post Office Department for a mail contract. He states that he does not know as he can take the oath of allegiance, for he has prayed in the pulpit during the war for the success of the Southern cause; but as the prayers were never answered, he is of opinion that no aid and comfort were given, and therefore he remains a loyal citizen.

— The Montgomery Ledger states that Governor Patton of Alabama is unwilling to have the Federal troops removed from the State at present.

— The Porter Plate and Britannia Works at Taunton, Mass., were burnt on Monday evening. Loss $30,000.

☞ At Nashville, Tenn., early Monday morning, a fire broke out in the wholesale liquor store of Cook, Moore & Co. The building and a stock of liquor were destroyed. The house of R. G. Page, adjoining, was also destroyed, with its contents. The International Hotel was several times on fire, damaging the interior badly. Several houses were burned. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss supposed to be over $50,000. Mr. Chas. O. Moore, one of the firm, was burned to death in the store.

— The J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap is the best article in the market. It requires a little less than one half the quantity to do the same work, and when done, leaves the fabric in a much better condition than any other kind of soap. One trial will convince the most skeptical. Use no other, have no other, and be put off with no other. 36

Special Insurance Notice.

To my Friends and the Public:

Twelve years ago I was appointed Agent of the HOME INSURANCE COMPANY of New York, and have faithfully performed every trust and duty for the Company. Last week I received a note from Mr. N. A. CLARK, Special Agent, stating a change was to be made and the Agency to be transfered to another party. I at once thought what was in the wind, and left for New York to learn the cause, but before my return the change was made. I inquired why the change was made, and not a word had been said that all transactions were not satisfactory—and all the charges they brought against me were that the Company was making no money in Portsmouth, that the rates of Insurance were too low, and I was blamed for the late fires—the burning of Congress Block and Locke's Stable,

This same Special Agent, N. A. CLARK, spent several weeks in Portsmouth, "examined all my risks that he wished to see, and generally called them very good; approved the risks of Preston, Shores and Salem, in Congress Block. Mr. Clark, at my request, went with me to Woodbury Locke's Stable on State street, and examined the premises and stock, and fixed the rate at 1½ per ct., a half per cent. less than I had before insured him, and authorized me to take any reasonable amount Mr. Locke wanted insured. I acted under his instructions; and if insuring the Stable was the cause of the fire, the blame should be on Mr. Clark, and not on me—for I should not have taken it at that rate. Such is a true statement of the facts and all charges that have come to my knowledge.

I think the Home Insurance Co., or their Special Agent, N. A. Clark, has done me great injustice, after working for them for so many years; then, without any satisfactory reason or complaint, and without notice, give my hard earned labors to another man. I trust my friends and the public will withdraw their Insurance, and bestow it on me, where it rightfully belongs,—for I have several as good and responsible Insurance Companies as the Home, of New York.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liverspot,) and Lentigo, or freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. DR. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced to well, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above, to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws double that part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every trial.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

[Communication.]

NEW ROAD TO NEWINGTON.—The attention of our Mayor and Aldetmen for more than a year past, has been called, by several petitions, to the matter of laying out a new road from this city to Newington. Such a road ought to have been made at least half a century ago. Two routes have been proposed—the one would be attended with much expense. The expense of the other, following the old road from the residence of the late Judge Woodbury to near the dwelling-house of Albert W. Parsons, would be very small—for the distance from thence to make a new road to the new road recently made by Newington leading to Great Bay, and the old road to the central parts of Newington, would be but a little over half a mile through several pastures of not very valuable land.—The advantages would be very great, and save more than a thousand miles travel annually. The land is so level, that it would require but a few days' labor with the city's team and a few hands. There are now over 700 cords of wood at the terminus of the proposed new road, and a large quantity of wood not far distant, ready to be brought to our market. Should a new road be laid out soon, even this matter deserves consideration, as the price would be reduced by a reduction of the expense of transportation. Should our City Authorities decline to lay out the road, it is expected the Road Commissioners will be called out. For the purpose of a winter road on ice, it need only be staked out prior to next Spring. A. CITIZEN.

☞ Many old ladies of both sexes have been somewhat alarmed by certain predictions of a great fire in this city, based upon the authority of alleged spiritual communications and dreams. The fire was to have occurred between the 7th and 10th inst., and was to be the most extensive conflagration ever known here. There may have been a more extensive conflagration of wood and coal between those two days than is often the case, but the Fire Department has not been called into requisition to quench the flames.

☞ Thanks to our indefatigable friend and neighbor, Mr. J. H. Head, for a copy in elegant binding, of his valuable and popular compilation of Poems, which he well styles "Jewels." The second edition we learn is nearly exhausted, and a third will follow. We congratulate the author on his success.

☞ A Washington dispatch of Jan. 9 says:

Inquiries at the State Department show that one Fuller, announced in certain localities as ex-Governor of Utah, is not known there as an official speech maker, nor is he in its employment.

Further inquiries in the same direction might show the facts, that Frank Fuller was Secretary of Utah Territory by appointment of President Lincoln, and that the Governor having resigned, Sec. Fuller was acting Governor for some time. What can be meant by an "official speech-maker," we know not;—and as Mr. F. resigned his Secretaryship a year ago or more, it is only gratuitous stupidity to say he is not in the State Dept. employ now. There is, on the whole, about as much stupidity in the item, as can be condensed into four or five lines.

☞ The order of our city continues to be good and the business of the Police Court is very small.

Agents Wanted
—FOR—
THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.
By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,
N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.
1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, relating Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a fast lapsing generation, so full and reliable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and intrinsic qualities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science.

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thoroughly Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

NERVOUSNESS, NEURALGIA, GENERAL DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA, HEADACHE,

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of afflictions.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

COTTON PLANTATIONS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners—without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-half net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the South under Northern auspices.

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations, until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South

From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen. I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been induced to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a married Physician, Doctor Cabtalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,
S. D. C. HENRIQUEZ,

The Chronicle.

— Returns have been received from 755 Congregational churches, which give about $100,000 towards the $200,000 church building fund. The Congregationalist says: "If the two thousand churches and more that yet remain, shall do their part, the whole sum aimed at may be realized."

— Garibaldi has offered his services to the authorities of Naples to nurse the cholera patients in the hospitals, but the Syndic of the city would not permit him thus to expose himself to danger. No act of Garibaldi's in the height of his military fame is nobler than this.

— A couple in Litchfield county, Ct., had lived together for ten years, supposing themselves married. Difficulties having arisen, one applied to the court for a divorce. Upon investigation it was found out that they had never been legally married. Like sensible people they gave up the idea of a divorce and were married.

— On Sunday last, while a party of nineteen boys were skating on the St. Lawrence river near Ogdensburg, the whole field of ice separated from the shore and began to move down the river. When the boys discovered that they were carried off they set up a terrific yelling, and attracted the attentionion of Mr. Joseph King, who procured a boat and burried to their rescue, and by making three trips succeeded in saving them all.

— The late Rev. Samuel Fiske once prayed in the pulpit "that the Lord would bless the congregation assembled, and that portion of it which was on the way to church, and those who were at home getting ready to come; and that, in His infinite patience, He would grant the benediction to those who reached the house of God just in time for that." By this eccentric method the clergyman succeeded in breaking up a bad habit which had resisted all legitimate appeals.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
E. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.
78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the Claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is more SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. E. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but ONE of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twelve rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. E. H. EDDY.

Churches, stores, schools, Academies, societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.

For persons who desire mild winters, a healthful climate, and a good soil, in a country beautifully improved, abounding in the enjoyments and other social privileges, in the heart of civilization, it is worthy of a visit.

PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the wasting energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle-aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Hence the dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and now, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and feeble. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders

FRIDAY, JANUARY 12, 1866.

JEFF. DAVIS' CASE.—On Wednesday, the President transmitted to the Senate a message in reply to the resolution calling upon him to inform that body upon what charges Jefferson Davis is confined, and why he is not brought to trial. The President incloses a report from the Secretary of War and the Attorney General, and at the same time invites the attention of the Senate to that portion of his annual message which refers to Congress the question connected with the holding of Circuit Courts of the United States within the districts where their authority has been interrupted. It is probable that Congress will take some action on the subject.

SEC. STANTON'S REPORT is as follows:

WAR DEPARTMENT, Jan. 4.

Sir, in the annexed Senate resolution, passed Dec. 21, 1865, and referred to me by you for report. I have the honor to state, first, that Jefferson Davis was captured by the United States troops in the State of Georgia on or about the 10th day of May, 1865, and, by order of this Department, has been and now is confined in Fortress Monroe to abide such action as may be taken by the proper authorities of the United States Government.

Second—That he has not been arraigned upon any indictment or formal charge of crime, but has been indicted for the crime of high treason by the Grand Jury of the District of Columbia, which indictment is now pending in the Supreme Court of the said District. He is also charged with the crime of inciting the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and with the murder of Union prisoners of war by starvation and other barbarous and cruel treatment toward them.

Third—The President deeming it expedient that Jefferson Davis should first be put upon his trial before a competent Court and a jury for the crime of treason, he was advised by the law officer of the government that the most proper place for such a trial was in the State of Virginia. That State is within the judicial circuit assigned to the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, who has held no Court there since the apprehension of Davis, and who declines for an indefinite period to hold any Court there. The matters above stated are, so far as I am informed, the reasons for holding Jefferson Davis in confinement, and why he has not been brought to trial.

Fourth—Besides Jefferson Davis the following persons, who acted as officers of the rebel government, are imprisoned, to wit: Clement C. Clay, at Fortress Monroe, charged among other things, with treason, with complicity in the murder of Mr. Lincoln, and with organizing bands of pirates, robbers and murderers in Canada to burn the cities and ravage the commerce and coasts of the loyal States on the British frontier; D. L. Yulee, at Fort Pulaski, charged with treason while holding a seat in the Senate of the United States, and with plotting to capture forts and arsenals of the United States, and with inciting war against the United States; S. R. Mallory, at Fort Lafayette, charged with treason, and with organizing and setting on foot piratical expeditions against the United States commerce and marine on the high seas.

Other officers of the so-called Confederate Government, arrested and imprisoned, have been released on parole to abide the action of the Government in reference to their prosecution and trial for alleged offences on their applications for amnesty and pardon. Among these are G. A. Trenholm, Secretary of the Treasury; John A. Campbell, Assistant Secretary of War; James A. Seddon, Secretary of War; John H. Reagan, Postmaster General; R. M. T. Hunter, Senator; Alexander H. Stephens, Vice President, and sundry other persons of less note.

ATTORNEY GEN. SPEEDS REPORT agrees mainly with the paragraph "Third" in Sec. Stanton's Report. We make the following extracts:

To the President:

Sir: I have the honor to acknowledge the receipt from you of a copy of the resolution of the Senate of the United States of the date of the 21st of December, 1865. In that resolution the Senate respectfully request to be informed upon what charges and for what reasons Jefferson Davis is still held in confinement, and why he has not been put on trial. When the war was at its crisis, Jefferson Davis, Commander-in-Chief of the army of insurgents, was taken prisoner with other prominent rebels by the military forces of the United States. It was the duty of the military so to take them. They have been heretofore and are yet held as prisoners of war. Though active hostilities have ceased, a state of war still exists over the territory in rebellion, and until peace shall come in fact and in law, they can rightfully be held as prisoners of war.

I have ever thought that trials for high treason cannot be had before a military tribunal. The civil courts have alone jurisdiction of that crime. The question then arises, where and when must the trials thereof be held. In that clause of the Constitution mentioned in the resolution of the Senate, it is plainly written they must be held in the State and district wherein the crime shall have been committed. * * * *

When the courts are all open and all the laws can be peacefully administered and enforced in those States whose people rebelled against the Government, when thus peace shall have come in fact and in law, the persons now held in military custody as prisoners of war, and who may not have been tried and convicted of offences against the laws of war, should be transferred into the custody of the civil authorities of the proper districts, to be tried for such high crimes and misdemeanors as may be alleged against them.

I think it is the plain duty of the President to cause criminal prosecutions to be instituted against some of those who were mainly instrumental in inaugurating and most conspicuous in conducting the late hostilities. I should regard it as a direful calamity if many whom the sword has spared, the law should spare also; but I would deem it a more direful calamity still if the Executive, in the performance of his constitutional duty of bringing those persons before the bar of justice to answer for crimes, should violate the plain meaning of the Constitution, or infringe in the least particular the living spirit of that instrument.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 9th.

Mr. Editor:—Our city again wears the aspect of business. Congress, after trying its temper in certain preliminary skirmishes, and taking a short space of breathing time, is now re-assembled, although still in confusion with the chaotic mingling and reforming of parties, yet with an apparent earnest determination to accomplish something promptly. Ordinarily in the long session a large part of the winter is squandered with idle declamation and fruitless intrigue, but it seems at present very hopeful for genuine work. It may be that the powerful dread of the cholera acts to some extent as a healthy stimulus,—for the belief is quite general that the return of Spring or Summer will bring to this latitude a sprinkling, at least, of the scourge from which we alone have escaped. You will doubtless have remarked with what an impetus matters of all sorts have been put in motion since Friday last—touching many of the most important questions which demand our attention.

You can hardly peruse the reports of these proceedings without being struck with the diversity of the opinions prevailing in regard to reconstruction. Almost every politician of eminence has a theory and a plan of his own, and each is uncompromising in his intolerance of any other. In such a state of affairs, the difficulties surrounding the President's position can well be appreciated. He is called upon to choose, among these innumerable conflicting views, (for each is exclusive of all others,) and the course upon which he fixes as the best he must follow to the end. For there there can be no greater mistake than a vacillating policy. Even if, after a well considered selection of a general course, difficulties and dangers arise that would, perhaps, have been avoided by some other plan, it does not follow that he should hasten to change his policy. Let him strive to overcome the difficulties while still pursuing his course; for every plan is beset with them, and if he were to be turned aside by each obstacle in his path, the country would never survive the experiment. The line of action which President Johnson is pursuing is legitimately derived from the course, both theoritical and practical, of Mr. Lincoln's entire administration. He could not change it without confessing for his predecessor an entire misapprehension of the state of affairs; and, should he adopt Mr. Stevens's notions, without disavowing the fundamental principles upon which the war was undertaken and conducted to its close.

The President is, I believe, honest, upright and capable, a determined friend to the Union and opponent of slavery, as well as of a Southern aristocracy. If he is permitted to go on unhampered, I make no doubt the results will be eminently satisfactory. But every man who has an idea, suffers it to take such total possession of him, that he becomes convinced the country will be ruined if his advice is disregarded. He urges his views upon the President, and, if they are not fully appreciated according to his notions, adds his voice to the hue and cry, and does all he can to excite distrust of him in the minds of the community.

Wisdom, according to my apprehension, would teach us to wait patiently, and join in opposing the President only when his plans have been proved in fact futile or disastrous, and he refuses to modify them. There are no precedents to guide him, and restoration can be accomplished at best only by a series of experiments.

There are many who expect and some who desire a rupture between the President and Congress. But it is to be most devoutly hoped that wisdom and moderation will prevail, and harmony be preserved even at the sacrifice of some personal views and expectations. All cannot be pleased until it shall be logical and consistent to assert and deny the same thing at the same time.

Let us hope that out of much contention may proceed wisdom, and finally, harmony.

R.

— The different Sunday Schools of Beverly, Mass., within communication with each other, including the Universalist, Baptist, two Orthodox and Unitarian, all except the Episcopal, united Friday evening, Jan. 5, in a Temperance Concert. — The schools for colored children in Louisiana have all been suspended for want of funds to pay expenses. By the first of March the system of contracts prescribed for agricultural laborers will begin to yield a revenue, and it is expected that the schools in the country districts may then be re-established.

Chronicle Correspondence.

CONCORD, Jan. 10th.

Dear F.:—The New Hampshire State Musical Convention now in session in this city, opens very auspiciously; and this, its third annual session, bids fair to eclipse its two predecessors. Nearly seven hundred voices took part in to-day's exercises, and quite a large delegation is expected to be added to-morrow, which will swell the number to some twelve hundred voices. The Convention is under the immediate direction and leadership of Prof. L. O. Emerson of Boston, who has with him an able corps of assistants, both in instrumental and vocal music. Messrs. Chickering, of Boston, have very generously provided one of their magnificent full grand pianos, which with Mr. Morey's parlor grand and an orchestra of about a dozen instruments, make a rich and sufficient accompaniment to the voices. Mr. Cobb, the accomplished organist of the Park St. Church, Boston, presides at one piano; and Mr. Morey of this city, at the other. The orchestra is under the direction of Mr. G. W. Ingalls of Concord.

A very pleasant feature of this Convention, and peculiar I think to itself, is the setting aside a part of every afternoon for the "Social Hour," which is devoted to exercises of a social nature. This afternoon at the social hour, we had an impromptu concert, which would have put to blush many a public performance of greater pretentions. Among the contributions deserving especial notice, was the very fine rendering of the overture to "Tancredi," a piano-forte trio, played on one piano by Miss Burgin, Mrs. Sargent and Miss Buzzell of Lebanon. Mrs. Sargent afterwards played a solo entitled "Summer Night's Caress," with much tenderness and artistic feeling.

Misses Morse and Clough of Concord sang "The Happy Swallow," a two-part song, very beautifully. Miss Clough has one of those full rich contralto voices, which one never tires of hearing, and with so fine an organ she should not fail of making for herself a position among the first rank of vocalists. Miss Porter of Manchester sang "Love's Request" very finely, showing careful cultivation and training of a naturally fine voice.

Mrs. J. M. Mozart of New York and Miss Annie L. Cary of Boston, sang the hackneyed duett, "Hear me, Norma," very tastefully, and elicited much applause. For myself, I should have been better pleased had the selection been something not so nearly worn out. I must not forget to make mention also of the excellent singing which some twenty or more of friend Davis' numerous family of children gave us. "Uncle Ben" may surely be proud of his flock, as they may be, and are, of their musical father. What a pity! that so good, large-hearted and domestically inclined a man is forced to make up his only family by adopting somebody's else children. What can be the reason? Much as we regret the loss to him, however, we must confess that these "somebody's else children" are the gainers.

This evening the first concert of the Convention takes place, of which and of other matters connected with the Convention, more anon.

With a Portsmouth friend whom I was fortunate enough to come across here, I am domiciled at the Phenix Hotel, which is now crowded to excess. It seemed at first quite impossible for us to find room here for our two selves, but friend Elliot, the gentlemanly and popular clerk of the house, found a very comfortable corner for us notwithstanding.

Yours truly, T.

Special Insurance Notice.

To my Friends and the Public:

Twelve years ago I was appointed Agent of the HOME INSURANCE COMPANY of New York, and have faithfully performed every trust and duty for the Company. Last week I received a note from Mr. N. A. CLARK, Special Agent, stating a change was to be made and the Agency to be transfered to another party. I at once thought what was in the wind, and left for New York to learn the cause, but before my return the change was made. I inquired why the change was made, as not a word had been said that all transactions were not satisfactory—and all the charges they brought against me were that the Company was making no money in Portsmouth, that the rates of Insurance were too low, and I was blamed for the late fires—the burning of Congress Block and Locke's Stable,

This same Special Agent, N. A. CLARK, spent several weeks in Portsmouth, examined all my risks that he wished to see, and generally called them very good; approved the risks of Preston, Shores and Salen, in Congress Block. Mr. Clark, at my request, went with me to Woodbury Locke's Stable on State street, and examined the premises and stock, and fixed the rate at 1½ per ct., a half per cent. less than I had before insured him, and authorized me to take any reasonable amount Mr. Locke wanted insured. I acted under his instructions; and if insuring the Stable was the cause of the fire, the blame should be on Mr. Clark, and not on me—for I should not have taken it at that rate. Such is a true statement of the facts and all charges that have come to my knowledge.

I think the Home Insurance Co., or their Special Agent, N. A. Clark, has done me great injustice, after working for them for so many years; then, without any satisfactory reason or complaint, and without notice, give my hard earned labors to another man. I trust my friends and the public will withdraw their Insurance, and bestow it on me, where it rightfully belongs,—for I have several as good and responsible Insurance Companies as the Home, of New York.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, containing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—In its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is a tell tale and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. DR. T. ☞ At a meeting of the High School Committee, this day held, it was resolved that the following notice be published in the morning paper:

Whereas, His Honor the Mayor, in his Inaugural Address, has intimated that school money has been used by the High School Committee in such a manner as to lead to the "neglect of thorough instruction in all those most important branches of a complete education," we feel it to be our duty to state publicly that the course of study at the High School has been approved of by the best educational authorities in New England, and not adopted until after years of thorough trial and careful consultation with the teachers.

We deny that any part of the money appropriated has "not been judiciously and economically expended," and shall, at the customary time, in our Report, show these insinuations to be erroneous.

In conclusion, we hazard the opinion that the Committee, who are constantly visiting these Schools, are as well qualified to judge what studies and improvements are required, as one who has visited them only once, to our knowledge, and then on an Exhibition Day.

Portsmouth, Jan. 9th, 1866.

By order of H. S. C.

JOHN BENNETT, Sec'y and Treas'r.

THE CITY MARSHALSHIP.—It has been for some days understood that several prominent persons are seeking the office of City Marshal. It is also understood that the Mayor, on Wednesday evening, made a nomination for that office, which the Aldermen did not confirm. And in this state of things, it was agreed to postpone the matter. Afterward this arrangement was reconsidered, and Hon. Horton D. Walker was nominated and unanimously confirmed. The Mayor and Aldermen doubtless must have deemed this appointment made merely to lay the subject over, and that it would not be accepted; and perhaps did unintendedly injustice to this gentleman in thus making use of his name. What time Mr. Walker can spare from his private business, and his important and engrossing official duties in the executive department of the State Government, it is well known is devoted to the interests of the State Institution for the reformation and instruction of juvenile offenders. It may have been that this appointment was made on the spur of the moment, of a gentleman who would decline it, for the purpose of giving time to the appointing powers to concentrate upon some individual suitable and acceptable for this important position. We need scarcely say that Mr. Walker has declined the appointment.

☞ Duprez & Benedict's great Minstrel Troupe gave one of their "bang-up" Concerts at the Temple last evening—and you have one more chance to hear and see them, to-night, with almost an entire change of programme. Duprez is one of the oldest and most popular and successful managers, and is always bound to have a good Company. The instrumental pieces and accompaniments were lively and rich, and the singing capital. The whole forms a rousing chorus. Frank Kent's dancing just "Ken't be beat." Duprez's famous and extraordinary "burlesque mocking bird song," is a good hit; "Romeo and Julietta" is fun alive,—what part of it isn't dead; the "through passenger train" keeps up to time; and "the 9-cents robbery" is worth much more than that. All who appreciate good Minstreley, should go to-night.

☞ The Concert by Mr. Joy's Juvenile Singing School, at the Temple Wednesday evening, passed off very pleasantly and to the satisfaction of all. The singing was generally good, some of the pieces very fine; and the nice playing by little Aggie Plumer, of solos and accompaniments on the piano, was regarded as one of the greatest attractions.

Mr. Joy commences a new term of his Singing School, to-morrow (Saturday) afternoon, at Mercantile Hall—a very convenient and agreeable place for the purpose, and which ought to be filled with children on this occasion. He also holds an Evening School for adults at the same place on Friday evenings.

☞ Maj. Hackett informs us that he is directed to withdraw from sale at present the real estate on Islington street, belonging to the Factory Company, which was advertised at Auction for to-morrow.

We have since been informed that the house has been sold at private sale, so that the goodly number of persons who expected to be able to purchase, will be disappointed.

WEDDING IN WASHINGTON.—Perley writes, Jan. 10th:

There was a pleasant wedding party this afternoon at the house of Matthew G. Emery, Esq., where the Rev. Dr. Nadal married Hon. Thomas L. Tullock of Portsmouth, N. H., to Mrs. Miranda Swain, formerly of Manchester, who has, since the commencement of the war, been a devoted attendant on the sick and wounded soldiers of the Granite State. Among the distinguished guests were Senator Clark, Representatives Rollins and Patterson, Commissioner Rollins, Comptroller Broadhead, Col. Bullock and other sons of New Hampshire. The happy couple left in the evening train for Philadelphia.

Communication.

Mr. Editor:—It being understood that Constructor Samuel M. Pook has been ordered from the Portsmouth to the Philadelphia Navy Yard, the following preamble and resolutions were accepted and unanimously adopted by the Piscataqua Shipwrights' Union in relation thereto:

Preamble.—When in the progress of events it becomes necessary to sunder ties, whether of interest or affection, it is natural for men to indulge in expressions of regret. And since for the interests of the Government it has been deemed expedient to order Constructor Samuel M. Pook from this to another Yard, therefore by the P. S. Union be it

Resolved, That we sincerely regret the necessity which calls for his pre-eminent ability as a Constructor in another part of the country.

Resolved, That while we part with him with regret, we wish him that happiness and prosperity in his future sphere of labor, which his urbanity as a gentleman and ability as a Constructor so richly merit.

Resolved, That the thanks of this Union should be and are hereby tendered him for the kind and gentlemanly manner which has marked his course among us, and for the interest he has ever manifested in our welfare.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented him by a member delegated by this Union.

Resolved, That copies of these resolutions be furnished the Portsmouth Chronicle and Boston Daily Evening Voice for publication.

THEO. J. BATCHELDER,

Cor. Secretary.

Portsmouth, Jan. 10, 1866.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors;—We have observed an advertisement in your paper recently published relative to the music to be furnished at the Odd Fellows' Levee of Jan. 18, wherein it is stated that the promenade music will be supplied by the Cornet Band. Inasmuch as there is but one Cornet Band in this city, the impression is conveyed (whether intentionally so, or not) that the Portsmouth Cornet Band has been engaged for the occasion, which is not the case. If it is the intention of the managing committee to borrow the reputation of the above Band to serve their purposes and to mislead the public, it assumes the appearance of contemptible meanness; if otherwise, let them give the true name of the Band they have engaged. We care nothing about the matter beyond the fact that it looks to us as though the majority of this committee had suffered themselves to be influenced by one who finds it "hard to plot, but much more difficult to counterplot."

ODD FELLOW.

☞ At the regular meeting of the Board of Aldermen, on Thursday evening, the following officers were elected, viz:

Measurers of Wood and Surveyors of Lumber—Benjamin F. Webster and John M. Davis.

In joint convention, George T. Vaughan, John N. Frost and John A. Yeaton were elected Port Wardens.

☞ Among the appropriations reported by the Naval Committee of Congress is that for our Navy Yard of $299,989, including $100,000 to purchase Seavey Isl- and it a good title can be given. As we have not had a particle of ice visible in the harbor this winter, we think our Congressional Delegation should lose no time in having the appropriation put though as soon as possible.

☞ Asst. Naval Constructor Thomas Davison has been detached from the Charles town Navy Yard, and ordered to this Yard to take the place of S. M. Pook who has been ordered to Philadelphia. Mr. Davison arrived at the Yard and reported to Admiral Bailey on Wednesday last.

POLICE COURT, Jan. 11.—Maurice Arnold, of the genus loafer, was taken up on a charge of vagrancy, and committed to the House of Correction for two months, and ordered to pay $4.97 to defray the cost of prosecution.

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science.

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this Remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supercede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known in the south of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find extensively employed for a 'multitude of afflictions.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

Sold by all Druggists. Imported only by the

COTTON PLANTATIONS

FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate parties who wish at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices. Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

American Land Agency and Company,

JOHN A. ANDREW, President.

SUFFERERS
From Dyspepsia
READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!
TARRANT & CO
Gentlemen. I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.
For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabinlis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.
I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.
Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,
I am very respectfully yours,

VOL. XXVII. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. SATURDAY, JAN. 13, 1866. No. 12.

The Chronicle.

A PLUCKY COLONEL.—We hear that a few nights since the residence of Colonel McKendry, late of the 2d Massachusetts Cavalry, in Milton was the object of burglarious attempt on the part of three thieves, whose noise awakened the Colonel from repose. Taking a brace of revolvers in his hands and not waiting to dress he went out of the house, discovered the three rogues in a heap, brought his tubes to bear upon them and ordered them under penalty of death to enter a shed and make no attempt to escape. They sullenly obeyed. He then told them at bay until his family brought his clothing, having assumed which, he found the would be robbers and marched them to the lock-up.

— A Provost Marshal, recently stationed in Texas, corroborates the recent accounts of the desire of the inhabitants that the soldiers, we being mustered out of service, take their residences among them. He represents the condition of the State as quiet and orderly as before the war. A general good feeling exists between the soldiers and inhabitants.

— The last English census developes the curious fact that there are more Scotch descendants in London than in Edinburg, more Irish than in Dublin, more Roman Catholics than in Rome, and more Jews than in Palestine.

— The Concord Monitor informs us that "Gen. Howard is taking a census of the bearded people in this district, (?) and has already registered 14,000 !" [We know of copperheads and blockheads have been plotting for years, that the negroes would flock to the North as soon as they were freed; but we did not suppose 14,000 had left this District No. 2, quite so quick. Probably, however, the District of Columbia is meant.]

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
E. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1861,
State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON.
Has an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, and secure Patents in the United States, also in Great Britain, France and other countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assts. and all Papers and Drawings for Patents executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign Patents, to determine the validity or utility of or inventions—and legal opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of claims of any Patent furnished by remitting Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for obtaining Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to any other agency that can be offered anywhere. The Testimonials below given in one case is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT PATENT OFFICE than the other. SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add he has abundant reason to believe, and believes, that at no other office of the kind are the fees for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during the years past, has enabled him to accumulate a full collection of specifications and official decisions relating to patents, and he has besides his extensive library of legal and other works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, rendering him beyond question, to offer superior facilities in obtaining Patents.
Necessity of a journey to Washington, to obtain a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS
Hon. Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and skilful practitioners with whom I have had intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and worthy, and more capable of putting their claims in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.
Mr. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN PATENTS, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such is ample proof of great talent and ability. It leads me to recommend all inventors to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges.
JOHN TAGGART.
Right months, the subscriber, in course of legal practice, made on twelve rejected applications, EIGHTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

VINELAND
FARM AND FRUIT LANDS,
In a mild and healthful climate. Thirty miles south of Philadelphia by Railroad, in New Jersey, on the same line of latitude as Baltimore, 80.
The soil is rich and productive, varying from a clay to a sandy loam, suitable for Wheat, Grass Corn, Tobacco, Fruits and Vegetables. This is a great fruit country. Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c., produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of thirty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public improvement. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand people within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of Farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.
Fruits and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other locality north of Norfolk, Va. Improved places for sale.
Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Foundries, Stores and the like; and steam power, with room, can be rented.
For persons who desire mild winters, a healthful climate, and a good soil, in a country beautifully improved, abounding in fruits, and possessing all other social privileges, in the heart of civilization, it is worthy of a visit.
Letters answered by Vineland Rural, a paper giving full information, and containing Reports of Solon Robinson, sent to applicants.
Address CHAS. K. LANDIS, Vineland P. O., Landis Township, New Jersey.
From Report of Solon Robinson, Agricultural Editor of The Tribune: It is one of the most extensive fertile tracts, in an almost level position and in a healthy condition far pleasant farming that we know of this side of the Western Prairies. m1—dawtu

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.
DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back, and hold under, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate from fear, but let none hesitate offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these PILLS. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS
Invariably Cure the Following Diseases:
Asthma,
Bowel Complaints,
Coughs,

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 13, 1866.

PAYMENT FOR SLAVES.—Washington correspondents are of the opinion that there is but little chance that Congress will vote the States anything for their emancipated slaves, though it is understood that a proposition to this effect will be warmly advocated when the members from the rebellious States are admitted. There was a time when the South could have secured a handsome remuneration for its slaves—Mr. Lincoln and many of his party favored such a measure—but the day is past.—Portland Advertiser.

Even so: and a righteous retribution it is, that wealth, gotton by a system of robbery pursued for a hundred years, should melt away before the folly and madness of its adherents, in less than five years. Verily, "wickedness burneth as the fire." U. T.

☞ Hon. F. O. J. Smith,—in a long card published in his paper the Portland Advertiser,—says:

The Associated Press of New York has delighted itself, recently, with promulgating throughout the land in a single day, and in a special paragraph, the undisputed fact, that the Supreme Court of Massachusetts has over-ruled certain exceptions raised by my counsel on the Boston Indictment against me, tried in June last. But the report of the Association is so worded, as to impress the honest mind of the public, that this decision of the Court ends the case, and now leaves me no alternative, but submission to the severe penalty of the law. But, my friends may feel assured, it is not so.

He then goes out to express his prospects of a new trial, reversing the result, and adds:

To my friends, let me therefore say, I have not yet lost my personal liberty; and I hope not to forfeit, through the results of this wicked conspiracy against me, the strong hold I have earned heretofore in their confidence, and faith in my uprightness.

JEFF. DAVIS' CASE.—The documents transmitted by telegraph, relating to the confinement and trial of Jeff. Davis, contain nothing materially new. It seems that the President has resolved that, notwithstanding the indictment in the District of Columbia, Davis shall first be tried for treason in Virginia before the Supreme Court. The Attorney General is decided in the opinion that that is the only proper place for his trial. But Chief Justice Chase declines to hold any session of the Court in that State until the military are withdrawn and the people are fully restored to the Union. This position, which Secretary Stanton speaks of in slightly slurring terms, Attorney General Speed vindicates as sound and legal. Under these circumstances, therefore, nothing would seem to be feasible except to wait for the full reconstruction of Virginia. We trust that is not so far distant as to involve any change in the public mind on the importance of Jeff. Davis' trial.—Boston Journal.

[He might surely be tried first by Court Martial, as Wirz was, and then let the sentence be suspended till after the trial by the Criminal Court. If tried by the Criminal Court, first, and the Jury should not agree as probable they would not,—then remand him to prison again,—and give him a new trial after a year or so. He is not too good a man to be in the States or U. S. prisons for life.

WASHINGTON ITEMS, Jan. 11.—At the Alexandria trial of New Year's rioters today, after a protest against their jurisdiction in the court, several negro witnesseses for the prosecution were examined. Their evidence was very positive.

John Dunning, a Union soldier, who was paid off to-day, was a prisoner of war at the South, 966 days.

Lieut. Gen. Grant is said to have drafted the plan for the reorganization of the army now before Congress.

Gen. Howard is directing the restoration of estates confiscated and occupied by Freedmen in Loudon county, Virginia.

Mr. Thompson, a Baltimore lawyer, is to be married to-night to Miss Harriet Lane, and it is asserted that Col. J. D. Williams is soon to marry Mrs. Douglass.

On Wednesday night, the Republicans of the House of Representatives held a caucus with reference to the question of suffrage in the District of Columbia. Several gentlemen were in favor of passing a bill for a new form of Government for the District. Congress to possess direct control of affairs, but the general sentiment was that qualification for suffrage should bear equally on both white and black, including capacity to read and write. The pending bill, it is probable, will be amended in accordance with the above view.

Washington city has been divided into districts, in each one of which is a proper person who sees that the colored people do not suffer from cold or hunger. There are two soup houses, from which 335 rations a day are now distributed, and fuel, clothes, shoes, blankets and medical attendance are furnished to all in want.

Five revenue agents are to go at once into the Southern States to look into the manner in which the internal revenue is assessed and collected there, and to see that the Assessors and Collectors, with their assistants, are properly sworn.

— The pews in Plymouth Church (H. W. Beecher's) sold this year for $41,594, an increase of $2786 over last year.

Chronicle Correspondence.

BOSTON, Jan. 10, 1866.

Editors of the Chronicle.—The inauguration of our new State Government is perhaps more of local interest, than general, but the retirement of Gov. Andrew is sincerely a source of regret to the people of this State, here and abroad. For five years in duties the most exacting and missions most imperative, he has been at his post, and the calls of the government for recruits, of the volunteers' families for care and comfort, of the oppressed negro for succor or of the dying soldier for consolation, have at no time found his ears dull or his hands slothful. Whether in the calm quiet of his chambers, in the dispassionate appeals to his fellow citizens to renew their fealty to liberty and law, in the council of Governors for general deliberations for public weal, or in earnest addresses and watchful visits to the soldiers at the front, John A. Andrew has shown the utmost abnegation of self-interest and personal ease, which no one is so malicious as to deny. And although he may not have regarded policy at all times in the light of other people's candles, and although he did not see fit (for some mysterious and infatuating idea, which he entertains and proposes to divulge) to hang Green, we yet give him the credit of a noble heart—which at all times pulsates for the good of the oppressed and enslaved, and which has erred, if at all, only from a misconception of duty or a misconstruction of circumstances. And here we are reminded of one of Gov. Andrews' ideas, which is born of true manhood, and is likely to find expression in form, in all our States;—a monument to our forgotten and unknown volunteers, whose blood is nourishing the Southern soil. What idea more to be cherished? Not a sculptured urn or paneled shaft to the memory of official pomp and daring, but to the privates, whose life blood bespattered the picket post, or whose sudden death in the red carnage of engagement no eye was steady enough to observe. And they lie to-day on a hundred battlefields, rude heaps of earth, that only the stranger can reverence, or it may be in the stillness of woods, where the rivers repeat the echo of sadness, that the winds whistle and the wild birds sing.

"Their's not to reason, 'Why?'
Their's not to sob and sigh,
Their's but to do and die."

And for us it remains to do homage to them, as far as consistent with our consciences. Let the marble pillars arise in every State, attesting to all time the imperishable nature of our Union and the sublime devotion of our soldiers and sailors to the stars and stripes. Simmons of Maine, is the sculptor for such mementoes.

The weather here, as your telegrams represent it at Portsmouth, is of the below-zero nature, and if a man has any of the "milk of human kindness" in him before starting out of the house, he may expect to return pretty well congealed. We are one however of the numerous class, who "reside" in genteel boarding houses. Life in a boarding house is altogether not so patriarchal as in Sweden, and may be somewhat interesting in description. Five stories up and seven dollars a week! The mercury outside hardly expresses our thermometrical condition in doors, as do the unnecessary adjectives and expletives which are interlarded with our conversation. Imagine a fat and furious, garrulous and gay old lady of fifty odd years, whose eyes have the concentration of an Argus and the brilliancy of those of swine, whose teeth reveal bad dentistry and whose cheeks and hair are highly redolent of rouge saucers and pomade, and you can get an outline of our landlady. Of course, "distance lends enchantment to the view." Her daily duties are confined to strict surveillance over the servants and carving at the dining table, which latter accomplishment she occasionally varies with a disgusting use of her pocket handkerchief. Her evenings are spent in candle lectures, and being a strong member of the Poke-your-nose-into-every-body-elses-business Society, she hides in dark rooms and dim recesses to hear the conversations and imagined conspiracies of the young gentlemen boarders. Of course, she has daughters,—two of them,—who are in the market, although the sun of their lives has long since passed its meridian. They pass the hours in embroidery, music and tossing out such bait for the young men, in anxous earnestness for change of condition. And the house "is like unto them;" grand, gloomy and peculiar, beyond further description by

PARCHER.

— Said a venerable preacher—Fellow sinners, if you were told that by going to the top of those stairs (pointing to a rickety pair at the other end of the church,) you might secure your eternal salvation, I really believe hardly one of you would try it; but if I should proclaim that J. Monroe Taylor had put a few bars of his celebrated Gold Medal Soap on the top stair for the one that would get it first, I'll be bound there ain't one of you but what would use your utmost exertions to gain the prize; my wife says there ain't anything like it, and she would recommend the whole parish to use it. 37

— An entire family, five in number, in Brooklyn, N. Y., have been poisoned by the use of musty flour purchased at a neighboring grocery. One has died, two are still dangerously sick, and the remaining two are convalescent.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. J. P. Natting, of the F. W. Baptist Church in Concord, has accepted a call to New York.

—— Col. Patterson, and all the officers of the 2d Reg. N. H. Vols., have subscribed and published a handsome testimonial of the character, services, and usefulness of their chaplain Rev. John W. Adams.

—— The Coos Republican, published in Lancaster, says that on Sunday morning last, the mercury indicated 34° below zero in Lancaster Village, and on Monday morning 30° below. On Saturday at Franconia Iron Works, proverbially the coldest place in New England, thermometer was 36° below zero, while at the Profile House, eight miles further south, it was but 6° below at the same time.

THE NEW YORK WEEKLY MAGAZINE. This new and popular magazine has taken a great start in popular favor. The number for January 13th contains the first chapters of a new popular tale entitled, "How I Made a Fortune in Wall Street, and How I Got Married," written by a gentleman of long experience in the ins and outs of that celebrated locality. The great charm of this story is that it is a collection of facts, with only a change of names, and it promises a great deal of information that will be of thrilling interest to the general reader, and of particular importance to every one who wishes to know how fortunes are made and lost in New York. This Magazine has forty-eight handsome pages, and contains a great variety of popular tales, domestic stories, pithy essays and sketches of travel, and is sold at the remarkably cheap rate of ten cents a copy, by all newsdealers.

THE BOSTON ALMANAC for 1866 has the Constitution of the United States; Great Events of the past year; Illustrated Sketches of Boston and its environs, with many fine engravings; Map of Boston, with the Horse and Steam Railroads and new Wards in illustrated print; Constitution of Massachusetts; Population, Voters, and Property of each City and Town in Massachusetts; National, State, County, City and Transportation Registers; Calendar and Memoranda pages; Weather Record, etc. Price 50 cents, mailed postpaid. Issued by George Coolidge, 3 Milk St., Boston.

☞ We have received the First Numbers, for January, of two elegant and excellent papers—the National Temperance Advocate, $1 per year; and the Youth's Temperance Banner, 40 cents per year. Both are Monthlies, and in clubs will come cheap.

☞ Rev. Nathan Bishop and Rev. I. F. Holton are announced as assistant editors of the Boston Recorder. Mr. H., as we know of a certainty, holds the pen of a ready writer, and will add spirit and life to any paper where he is engaged.

☞ Senator Wilson's bill for the reorganization of the regular army was formed upon a plan laid before the President and Secretary of War a few weeks since by Gen. Grant, who expresses the opinion that the necessity of maintaining a large military force in the Southern States no longer exists, and that a reduction in the number of troops remaining there may safely be made.

☞ On Thursday evening, at Melrose, Mass., a new and fine building called Waverly Hall Block, was burnt out, after the manner of our Congress Block. The Wyoming Lodge of Free Masons, the Melrose Encampment and Chapter, all had their splendidly appointed quarters in the upper part of the building. In the latter, a fine organ, costing the Masons $1300, was finished and only put up on Saturday last. This, with most of the valuable furniture, carpets, &c., was burned. The Masons lose $10,000; half insured.

☞ Bishop O. C. Baker, of Concord, will preach in the Methodist Church, tomorrow (Sunday), on the occasion of the annual missionary meeting. The contributions of the Methodists exceeded $600,000 last year, and they have made a bold strike this year for a million.

☞ In the U. S. House of Representatives, Jan. 10, the Committee on Ways and Means was instructed to consider the expediency of dispensing with income taxes, or assessing only on incomes of over twelve hundred dollars, and of reducing the present per centage.

The Committee on Freedmen's Affairs was instructed to inquire into the truth of the alleged injustice of South Carolina planters toward the freedmen in their employment.

The Committee on Ways and Means was instructed to inquire into the expediency of exempting the manufacture of crutches and artificial limbs from an internal revenue tax.

— Friday night the wife of John Kussendal of Caldwell, N. J., arose from her bed, where she had been confined for some time by illness, and climbed to the summit of a mountain, from which she walked off. She was discovered at its foot in her night clothes, frozen to death.

GOLD, Friday, 138 7-8.

— John Briandy attempted to cross a railroad track in Providence on Wednesday evening, when he was struck by a train and his skull so badly fractured that he will probably die.

— Five lives were lost by the disaster to the brig Itasca, which went ashore on Cape Cod. The chief officer and four seamen who left the vessel in a boat for assistance, were swamped among the breakers and drowned.

— In Nashville, Tenn., Jan. 9, the Freke Freedmen's School was dedicated. Speeches were made by Gen. Fiske, Governor Brownlow and others. It is intended to be a free high school for colored children, with accommodations for 1000 or 1500 pupils.

— Daniel J. Coburn, Esq., Chief of Police in Boston from '56 to '61, died very suddenly at his residence in Malden Thursday morning, of heart disease. He arose in his usual health, and took his seat at the breakfast table, when he fell from his chair and lived but one half hour. His age was sixty-four.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-spot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. DR. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

Prepared by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists: price $2 per bottle. 4 all for PERRY'S MOTH & FRECKLE LOTION.

—FOR—

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Traveling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion, his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many book-will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, has does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

No. 39 Congress St., Portsmouth, N. H.,

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is a tell tale and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. POLICE COURT, Dec. 12.—John Phelan (no relation to the great billiard player) was "on the spot," charged with having so far mistaken his cue as to be guilty of drunkenness, a condition that is barred out by our municipal regulations and the guilty parties barred in. For this offence John was obliged to put into his pocket to the extent of $6.86—being $3 fine and $3.86 costs—which he paid. He doubtless considers there is too much draw in this game to make its trial common.

AN APOLOGY.—Our readers may remember that in the Chronicle of Thursday morning, we noticed a stupid telegram from Washington, about "one Fuller," who was styled ex-Governor of Utah. Now, under date of Washington, Jan. 11, we read this remarkable correction and acknowledgement:

The paragraph recently transmitted hence referring to one Fuller, who was stated as having assumed the title of ex-Governor of Utah, and not being known at the State Department, should not be understood as referring to Hon. Frank Fuller, formerly acting Governor of Utah, on the secession of Gov. Cummings. That paragraph was based upon the supposition that a late defaulting Quartermaster of a similar name was using that title for a purpose known only to himself. Ex-Governor Frank Fuller is known and respected as an honorable man in every respect.

This must be satisfactory to Mr. Frank Fuller; but it leaves the owner of the first story in an awkward predicament, half-way between a liar and a fool.

☞ Rev. E. C. B. Hallum will lecture on Hindooism and Christianity in Orissa, at the Pearl Street Free Baptist Church, this (Saturday) evening, at half-past 7 o'clock. Mr. Hallum, having labored as a missionary in Orissa several years, is prepared to entertain with profit all those who are interested in the world's evangelization. All are invited to come in and hear what Christianity is doing for the Hindoos. Come early. Doors will be open at 7 o'clock. Collection at the close for missions.

Communication.

Messrs. Editors:—Seeing in your paper of the 12th inst., a communication signed "Odd Fellow," stating that there is but one Cornet Band in this city, I take much pleasure in giving him the information that our city does afford another Cornet Band than the one to which he refers; and that they still live, and are ready to serve the public on any occasion their services may be required, notwithstanding assertions to the contrary from parties who have predicted their death so often, that, like all l*, they now actually believe what they said must be true. ODD FELLOW.

☞ We have received from Mr. J. H. Head a copy of a finely printed Sermon, with the following title: "National Thanksgiving Sermon, preached at the St. Paul's M. E. Church, Manchester, N. H., Dec. 7, 1865, by Rev. John W. Adams, Chaplain 2d N. H. Vols. Published by request, and respectfully dedicated to our Union soldiers."

☞ The alarm of fire on Friday evening was caused by the light of an apparently large fire in the direction of Dover Point.

☞ Mr. Wendell offers a large variety of goods at auction this morning. Also, sales in the afternoon and evening.

☞ There will be a lecture at the Universalist Church to-morrow (Sunday) evening, at the usual hour.

☞ In explanation of the dismissal of Gen. Sweeney (the Irish "War Secretary,") from the U. S. Army, it is stated that some time since, when his regiment was stationed at Nashville, he made application for leave of absence, which was refused. The application was made a second time with a similar result, and then Gen. Sweeney, without permission, absented himself from his regiment, and the order of dismissal was issued in consequence of such action. He has been in the U. S. army eighteen years, and lost an arm in Mexico.

☞ A dispatch from Pottsville, Penn., says Harvey A. Duane, operator of a colliery belonging to the New York and Schuylkill Coal Company, was murdered Tuesday evening at or near Parkersville. No particulars are given, but it is supposed he was killed by one of the workmen. Rev. Joseph Fisher had his skull fractured by a slung shot on Monday evening, and has been insensible ever since. There is no clue to the assassin.

— On Wednesday evening, at a social assembly in the old Masonic Hall in West Cambridge, Mass., a sudden death put a hasty end to the festivities. As Mrs. James Durgin was taking her place on the floor to participate in a cotillion, she fell and expired almost instantly.—On the Monday evening previous, a colored man was taken ill at a ball in Portland, Me., and being carried home, died in a few minutes, of heart disease.

— The Fenian Congress has adjourned sine die.

☞ Franco Mexican aid to the late rebels and their allies, is very nicely exposed by Mr. Romero, the Minister of the Mexican Republic, to our Government. July 8, 1865, M. Romero communicates statements and letters relating to the schemes of Gwin for organizing a colony in Mexico under the protection of France, and showing that Gen. Bazain, in command of the French forces, had authority to lend him all needed assistance. Gwin writes, after the surrender of Lee: "The startling news from the United States has made the blood of every Southern man and sympathizer run cold with horror. No one will be safe in our native country. I thank Providence my lot has been cast elsewhere, and that very soon I will have a home for my wife and children where they will be free from oppression."

Among the intercepted letters is one from Massey to Hon. Ben. Wood, New York, in which he says that the South is in Gwin's enterprise, and that the French Emperor will give him all the aid he deserves, and that he will go out a Director General in charge of a very peculiar kind of colonization. He says further: "You ought to have sent me some money. It is hard to financier on nothing indefinitely, and I have concentrated my whole strength on our scheme."

— Robert B. Minturn, of New York, who died Tuesday, was noted for his numerous and generous benefactions to worthy objects of public and private charity. He was an active member of the Protestant Episcopal Church.

— New Zealand will soon have a large native white population, judging from the long list of births published in the files of Otago papers which come to our office.

HASHEESH! HASHEESH!

One of the oldest Remedies known to Medical Science.

THE HASHEESH CANDY

Now imported and prepared by the SYLVAN ORIENT CO., under the supervision of one of the most thorough Medical Chemists in the country, is the only pleasant and reliable preparation of this remedy ever offered to the public, and is fast taking the place of, and will soon supersede, all other Medicines now used for the alleviation or cure of

and all diseases of the Nervous System. In Oriental countries, HASHEESH has, for centuries, been the theme of Poets, Philosophers and Novel Writers, both for its marvelous influence on the mind, when used experimentally, and for its almost miraculous qualities, when prepared as a Medicine.

The Bengal Dispensatory says "the effects of Hasheesh are popularly known to the people of Africa, Turkey, Egypt, Asia Minor, India and all the adjacent territories; and in all the popular medicines of those nations, we find it extensively employed for a 'multitude of afflictions.'" In a standard treatise of Materia Medica, more than six hundred years old, it is described as the most valuable of all remedies.

COTTON PLANTATIONS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves with the expenses of a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for and take introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

"NO EFFECTS."—When Jeff. Davis and Postmaster Reagan of the Confederate government were captured, it will be recollected that there were found on the person of the latter individual some six thousand dollars of bills of exchange on the Rothschilds, drawn by Trenholm, Secretary of the Treasury. These, together with some others, in amount upward of one hundred thousand dollars, were sent to our consular agent at London for collection. Washington correspondence says they have recently been returned by him to the Secretary of the Treasury with an indorsement on the back by the house of Rothschild, that there were no funds to meet them. It is alleged by persons who know that there were plenty of funds when the bills were drawn, but by some means or other they have been spirited away.

— General Swayne, Commissioner of Freedmen for Alabama, writes that he has succeeded in limiting the issue of subsistence to destitute persons of all classes in his district to about fifteen thousand rations per day. The State Commissioner, appointed by the Legislature for that purpose, reports the number of destitute whites at 150,000.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen: I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the Treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. U. HENRIQUEZ,

Merchant, Curacoa, S. A,

New York, June 28th, 1865.

WE ASK

—A young lady of 22 years is now an inmate of a lunatic asylum near Prague.—Last summer she won thirty thousand dollars at Baden-Baden, and her success turned her head. She always imagines herself at the roulette table.

—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Ledger says the reports about American recruiting on the Rio Grande by Gen. Crawford are regarded as wild inventions. The Goverment knows nothing of such recruiting, nor will it tolerate any should it be attempted. Its orders against such acts are already before the world.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
E. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.
78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or drawings for the Patent, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and opinions of the value rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by any agency possibly superior to any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense number of cases prosecuted during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessary is a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they can not employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. E. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which Patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practise, made on their rejected applications SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.
DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients are known.
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They search out the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the waning energies to their pristine state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for the two hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever.
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that man ever sought.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the invaluable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most troublesome disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest babe.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal external ailments, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.
DR. MAGGIEL'S PILLS
Invariably Cure the Following Diseases:
Asthma,
Bowel Complaints,
Coughs,
Colds,

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JANUARY 15, 1866.

IMPORTANT ORDER FROM THE WAR DEPARTMENT.—Gen. Grant, by Adj. Gen. Townsend, has just issued an order, dated Jan. 12, which is designed to protect all loyal citizens, white or black, in the rebel States, from rebel outrage. It reads as follows:

To protect loyal persons against improper civil suits and penalties in the late rebellious States, Military Division and Department Commanders, whose commands embrace or are composed of any of the late rebellious States, and who have not already done so, will at once issue and enforce orders protecting from prosecution or suits in the State or municipal courts of such States all officers and soldiers of the army of the United States, and all persons thereto attached or in anywise thereto belonging subject to military authority, charged with offence for acts done in their military capacity, or pursuant to orders from the proper authority, and to protect from suit or prosecution all loyal citizens or persons charged with offences done against the rebel forces directly or indirectly during the existence of the rebellion, and all persons, their agents or employees, charged with the occupancy of abandoned lands or plantations or possession or custody or of any kind of property whatever, who occupied, used, possessed or controlled the same pursuant to the order of the President of any civil or military departments of the Government, and to protect them from any penalties or damages that may have been or may be pronounced or adjudged in said Courts, in any such cases, and also protecting colored persons from prosecutions in any of said States charged with offences for which white persons are not prosecuted or punished in the same manner and degree.

This shows very plainly, that the President and Gen. Grant regard human rights as primary and positive, while they consider "State Rights" to be secondry and subordinate, both to the U. S. Government and to the Divine Law.

GENERAL SOUTHERN NEWS, via New Orleans, Jan. 10.—In U. S. District Court, the libel against Judge Rust's property has been dismissed, and the property returned to him. Judge Rust was the rebel agent to Spain.

The Mobile Advertiser of the 8th says Gen. Thomas has officially informed Gen. Patton that all the U. S. troops will be removed from Alabama, and that arms and ammunition will be furnished to the State militia; also that provisions for destitute families will be promptly furnished to the State. The same report comes from Georgia respecting the withdrawal of U. S. troops from that State.

Hon. Henry S. Burnett has returned from Washington en route to Texas, and speaks very highly of President Johnson and his policy for the restoration of the Union.

At Yazoo City since the first inst., 25,000 bales of cotton have been received.

Capt. Taylor, of the Parish Militian, who was arrested by the Federal military a few days ago, and who was to be tried by a military commission, has escaped from jail.

The action of the military in rescuing by force of arms from the custody of the Sheriff at Jefferson, Texas, a Treasury cotton agent and his assistant, has been sustained by the Federal authorities here, and the principal agent has been ordered back to his post.

On the 15th of February there will be sold at auction, by order of the New Orleans city government, fourteen squares of levee property in front of the business portion of the city.

☞ A new and frightfully literal translation of the New Testament has been printed, in which John the Baptist is styled "John the dipper." Another specimen is: "Neither do men light a lamp and put it under a corn-measure, but on a lamp stand, and it giveth light to all who are in the family."—Exchange.

John the Dipper does not seem to be any smoother than John the Baptist, i. e. the baptiser. But the Lamp and Lamp-stand are very much better than the candle and candle-stick of our common translation:—for candles were not in use when the words were spoken, nor until two or three hundred years afterwards.

— A Raleigh paper says that the freedmen are beginning to make contracts for this year, with unexpected willingness, in many parts of North Carolina.

— About $14,000,000 has been disbursed in paying up the army to December 31. All officers and men who served to that date will be paid at once in full.

— A man in Indiana, while hauling a hog upon a platform preparatory to scalding it, fell back into the tub of hot water, receiving scalds from which he died, after enduring six hours of intense agony.

— Schooner Christiana, of Yarmouth, Me., sunk off Cape Page, in the late gale. The mate, Charles Tallman of Oysterville, was taken off with his feet and hands badly frozen. Capt. Leach and the remainder of the crew were frozen to death. The bodies have been recovered.

NOTES OF FORMER DAYS.

Collected and Collated by UNCLE TOBY.

President John Sullivan, in 1786—Notices of his Public Life, by Wm. Plumer.

Sullivan was President of New Hampshire, in 1786, when the paper money rebels besieged the assembly in Exeter; and his speech to the mob, noticed in Belknap's account of the rebellion, induces us to copy the following brief account of his public life, which was eminent and eventful.

The President of New Hampshire at this time was John Sullivan, of whom through the kindness of the Hon. William Plumer, I am enabled to add the following note.

John Sullivan was the son of John Sullivan, and was born in Berwick, Maine. Without an academic education, he commenced the practice of law at Durham, in this State, where he lived till his death. He was in the times in which he lived, considered a distinguished lawyer. In 1772, he was appointed a major in the militia. In 1774, he was appointed a delegate to the general congress; and in December, he, with others, seized the British fort William and Mary, at New Castle, and took more than a hundred barrels of gunpowder from thence, and removed it into the country. In 1775, he was re-appointed delegate to congress; and by that body on the 22 June, was appointed brigadier-general in the revolutionary army. He commanded the troops stationed on Winter Hill, in the vicinity of Boston.

He received from congress the appointment of major-general, 29 July, 1776. The 26th August, he was taken prisoner on Long Island, New York, and in October was exchanged; sent to the army in Canada, where after the death of General Thomas, he commanded; but was soon superseded, and returned to the main army. In 1777, he was distinguished for his bravery and good conduct in the battles of Brandywine and Germantown. In August, 1778, he commanded the army at Newport, Rhode Island, but was obliged to retreat, on which occasion his conduct met the approbation of congress. In 1779, he commanded an expedition against the Indians, where he suffered great fatigue, but destroyed many Indians, and laid their country waste. On the 30th November, congress accepted his resignation, which he had previously requested.

In February, 1780, the legislature of the State appointed him an agent to settle the line between New Hampshire and New York; and June 21st, a delegate to the congress of the United States, and on the 19th of January following, re-appointed him to that office. In January, 1782, the legislature appointed him commander of their troops sent to Vermont, and on the 21 June, attorney general of New Hampshire.

After the establishment of the State constitution, he was re-appointed attorney general, 25 December, 1784, and major-general of the militia, both of which he held till 28 February, 1786, when he resigned them both. In 1785, he was member and speaker of the house of representatives and counsellor. In 1786 and 1787, he was elected President of the State. In 1788, he was a member and speaker of the house of representatives; member and president of the convention which ratified the constitution of the United States.

In 1789, he was an elector of President and vice President of the United States, and in March, was elected President of the State for the third time. In September, the same year, the President and Senate of the U. S., appointed him judge of the district court of New Hampshire, which office he held as long as he lived. He died 23 January, 1795, aged 54 years.

☞ Samuel Brackett, a blacksmith of East Saugus, Mass., was arrested in Lynn on Friday, for firing at the Eastern Railroad train the night before, as it left East Saugus. He admitted the act, but said he had no malicious intent, firing merely for the purpose of clearing his revolver. He was intoxicated at the time. He fired two shots under the wheels and two in the air, one of which entered the rear passenger car, breaking the looking glass, &c. He was held in $2000 for trial at Salem.

FIRE AND LOSS OF LIFE IN SALEM.—At about 11 o'clock Tuesday forenoon, fire broke out in a cottage house in Phillips court, Salem, occupied by Mr. Matthew Carsen. Before the alarm could be given and assistance rendered, Mrs. McCenley, an old lady of 80 years, and Mr. Carsen's little son, about five years of age, were burned to death or suffocated by the smoke. The rest of the family were away.

— The young lady who had a thousand acres of valuable land, which the young men said was sufficient grounds for attachment, did not marry as well as the young lady without a fortune, who had learned to discard all kinds of Saleratus or soda, save Herrick Allen's Gold Medal, which has no equal on this or the other Continent. Go, ye young ladies and, do likewise, and Dame Fortune will smile on you also. Everybody retails it, and most of the wholesale Grocers wholesale it. Depot 112 Liberty Street, New York. 3t

☞ By the breaking up of the ice in the Missouri River on Friday four large steamers and a ferry boat were sunk at St. Louis, and many other vessels injured. Loss $225,000.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— Rev. N. C. Mallory, of Morrisville, N. Y., is to be pastor of the 1st Baptist Church in Manchester, on and after February 1st.

—— Albert Sprague of Newport was frozen to death last Thursday night, within a few rods of his dwelling, while on his return from the village.

—— George Wallace, Haverhill, recently passed greenbacks altered from twos to fifties, in Vermont, and has just been arrested and placed in the Suffolk County jail, at Chelsea, Mass.

—— Hon. Milan Harris, of Harrisville, went to Keene on Monday, Jan. 8, drew $1000 from a bank, and sent $870 back to H., by a man ten years in his employ. The team arrived safely, but the money and man are missing. The man left H. on Tuesday noon, and perhaps the money went with him.

—— Three boys, named James Fleming, Patrick Welsh and Geo. Wilbur, have been arrested in Manchester for pulling over an old French Canadian woman on the ice, whereby her head was so badly hurt that she will probably die. The woman was at a pump to get water, and the boys were amusing themselves by pulling her clothes to make her scold. It is another case like the fable of the Boys and the Frogs. Whatever wantonly causes pain to man or beast, though it it may be called Fun, is Cruelty and Folly—generally Sin.

☞ At Richmond, 12th, there was a rencontre at the Spottswood House, between Mr. Pollard, editor of the Examiner, and Mr. Brooks, correspondent of the New York Times, the former using a cowhide. Neither received serious injury. The provocation for the assault was a letter in the Times of the 8th ridiculing Pollard. Pollard attacked Brooks, who was unarmed. Pollard was armed with a pistol, knife and cowhide. Brooks took the cowhide from his assailant and threw it away, when Pollard drew his knife and the parties were separated.

"The very latest news I have from the Presidential mansion is to the effect that Senator Fessenden had an interview with the President yesterday, and that he is convinced that there will be no difficulty in managing the matter of restoration without any controversy with the President. The President has made the subjoined remarks recently to a prominent Senator. He said: 'I must look to the Republicans for support and not to the opposition. I am familiar with the history of John Tyler and Mi lard Fillmore, and do not intend to follow in their footsteps. We will wait for the report of the joint committee, and if it comes within the bounds of reason, I will be satisfied.' These remarks I am certain Mr. Johnson has made within two days. I could give you names, but it doesn't seem proper."

— A private letter from an army officer in Kentucky announces that the Legislature of that State will, within three days, elect John C. Breckinridge to the U. S. Senate in place of Garret Davis, whose term is about to expire.

— Congress will soon consider the proposition to have a Commission appointed by the President to control the police sanitary regulations, paving and cleaning the streets and other matters affecting the health and comfort of the metropolis.

— A little girl named Alice Parsons was so much prostrated by the cold at Waterbury, Conn., on Monday, that she died the next day; and a Mrs. Horne of Derby was found lying dead upon the track of the Naugatuck road on Tuesday, and a jury found that she froze to death.

— Gen. Joe Johnston is reported to have said recently that under the President's liberal, humane and truly democratic policy of reconstruction, the South would soon get over the visible effects of the war, and that in four years' time the United States would be the most prosperous and powerful of all nations and of all governments.

— Four lots in Red Bluff, Cal., have been enclosed with a neat board fence, and a dwelling worth $450, on the lots, will be completed this month. This will constitute the "John Brown Cottage," and will be the home of the widow and three children of "Old Ossawattimie."

— Brig. Gen. Mumford, late agent for the exchange of prisoners, has returned from Richmond. He has turned over to Gen. Hitchcock, formerly Commissioner of Exchange, all property forwarded to Union prisoners during their incarceration, including boxes and money amounting to $50,000. The money will be restored to the original forwarders, and the express boxes will be turned over to the Freedmen's Bureau.

— A number of women in Mississippi have formed themselves into a "Ladies' Southern Aid Association," a branch of which is to be established in each of the late rebel States, the principal object of which is to raise a fund that will place the wife and children of Jeff. Davis above the possibility of want or dependence upon the charity of friends. Mrs. Davis has written a letter expressing her willingness to receive the money.

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supercede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every troke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have their new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their excellence.

Lyon's Periodical Drops!

THE GREAT FEMALE REMEDY FOR IRREGULARITIES.

These Drops are a scientifically compounded fluid preparation, and better than any Pills, Powders or Potions. Being liquid, their action is direct and positive, rendering them a reliable, speedy and certain specific for the cure of all obstructions and suppressions of nature. The popularity is indicated by the fact that over 100,000 bottles are annually sold and consumed by the ladies of the United States, every one of whom speak in the strongest terms of praise of their great merits. They are rapidly taking the place of every other Female Remedy, and are considered by all who know aught of them, the surest, safest and most infallible preparation in the world for the cure of all female complaints, the removal of all obstructions of nature, and the promotion of health, regularity and strength. Explicit directions stating when they may be used, and explaining when and why they should not, nor could not be used without producing effects contrary to nature's chosen law, will be found carefully folded around each bottle, with the written signature of JOHN L. LYON, without which none are genuine. Price $1.50.

Prepared by Dr. JOHN L. LYON, 196 Chapel Street, New Haven, Conn., who can be consulted either personally, or by mail, (enclosing stamp,) concerning all private diseases and female weaknesses. Price $1.50 per bottle.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Colonna, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-spot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either, and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin is certainly a desideratum. DR. B. C. PERRY who has made diseases of the skin a specialty has discovered a remedy for those discolorations which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

Prepared by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists; price $2 per bottle. Call for PERRY'S MOTH & FRECKLE LOTION.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Farmville, Louisiana, March 8, 1850.

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s; but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours very truly,

☞ On Saturday evening at about half-past 8 o'clock, John Seaver successfully concluded his feat of walking one hundred miles in as many consecutive hours, without sleep. There was a large assemblage of spectators in Union Hall to witness the closing scene in this test of human endurance. Seaver shew evidence of the severe draft made upon his physical energies, but performed the last mile in about half an hour.

POLICE COURT, Jan. 13.—The business of the Court was light, consisting merely of a single case of drunkenness, in which the offender was mulcted $6.86—$3 fine and $3.86 costs—which he paid and went on his way, which we trust will hereafter be a little more carefully chosen.

[Communication.]

SKATING.—The South Pond presented an enlivening scene of beauty and amusement on Friday afternoon. We should judge that nearly 500 persons of both sexes were enjoying this healthy recreation between the hours of 3 and 5 o'clock. The skating, although perhaps not so good as on the North Pond, is still very fair, and with a little labor each day, could be made equal to any skating park in the country. The South Pond has some advantages over the North—being more central, better protected from the cold north winds, and withal having a more cosy appearance than a larger place. And here let me ask—Cannot some of the young men who are skaters spare an hour or so this afternoon, and clear off the light snow which has fallen? We think 25 or 30 smart boys could prepare the ice after every light snow so well that the skating could be kept good nearly all the winter. We are ready to do all in our power for the accomplishment of this purpose. P.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. T. M. Hones, for several years head-brewer for Messrs. Frank Jones & Co., of this city—and who we learn has accepted an advantageous offer of business in New York—presents a rare opportunity to procure an eligible residence at the Westerly part of the city. The horse he advertises is well-known as one of the best animals in the city.

"GRONDALLA" is the title of a poem of 300 pages, just published by Sheldon & Co., New York, and got up in pleasing style by the Claremont Mfg. Co. The late Park Benjamin, whose literary tastes and ability as a critic were well known, perused the poem in manuscript, and not only spoke in terms of warm commendation thereof, but prognosticated a great success for it upon publication. The author is a Portsmouth lady, and we presume the book will be on sale at our bookstores.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Traveling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the Rebellion; armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for nine months in seven different Rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, aims, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expense being paid from the net profit.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices

Mortgage negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

HOWARD BENEVOLENT SOCIETY.—The Secretary on Friday received a Five pound note on the Bank of England, from an unknown source. It is pleasant to find that while to the wants the Society here, there is little aid bestowed, except from regular subscribers, its friends in England are awake to the cause of the Poor, for which funds are needed.

VALUE OF RAISING HOGS.—In May last Mr. William Gordon of Kittery had a sow worth about $35. June 2d, had 14 pigs, of which 2 died. Sold 11 of them at $6—amounting to $66. Had one left, now worth $20. The old hog was killed Jan. 1, and weighed 430 lbs., worth $86 Is there not some profit in raising hogs?

FIRE IN YORK.—On Tuesday night, Jan. 9th, a barn belonging to Mr. Rufus Donnell, together with the contents, 14 cords of wood, were consumed. The fire was kindled by children at play in the barn.

Last year the Methodists, as a denomination, exceeded all others in the amount of money raised for missions,—contributing more than $600,000. This year they propose to raise a round million, and, as the work has begun, it will be done. No doubt the church in this city will do their part.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

FARRANT & CO

Gentlemen. I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabiala, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

I trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

VOL. XXVII. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. TUESDAY, JAN. 16, 1866. No. 14.

The Chronicle.

— The equine expenses of Mr. W. H. Crosby, the bankrupt Chicago merchant, were $15,000 a year.

— The planters of Louisiana are offering to lease and to sell their land in great quantities. The Courier of the Teche, for instance, is crowded with advertisements of "plantations" for sale.

— The President, as a means of cheapening fuel to the poor of Washington, during the cold weather, has ordered the large quantity of fire wood belonging to the Goverment to be sold in quantities less than ten cords, at $7.50 per cord.

— A lady named Cutler, residing in Brooklyn, N. Y., has lately been robbed of about $1000 worth of furniture, by, as she believed, spirits. It appears, however, that a graceless son was the thief, he confessing to the robbery while confined in the Penitentiary for another robbery.

— A fact is disclosed by a late report of of the New York Inspector of State Prisons, that while all other occupations are represented in their large number of convicts, there is not a single printer.

— Rev. John Kimball, Superintendent of Freedmen's Schools in the District of Columbia, reports 45 schools, with 100 teachers and 5191 scholars. There are besides 9 schools, with 540 scholars, not under his charge.

— The report of the Superintendent of Colored Schools in Missouri and Arkansas says that in the former State there are 19 freedmen's schools, 23 teachers and 1349 scholars. In Arkansas, 13 schools, 17 teachers and 1478 scholars.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street,
BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate.
The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakeable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART.
During eight months, the subscriber, in course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications VERY APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JANUARY 16, 1866.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The man who entered Senator Wade's room and threatened his life, turns out to be an insane person who says he was discharged from the Charlestown Navy Yard. He attempted a similar interview with Gen. Banks.

The prospect of the speedy admission of the Tennessee delegation to seats in Congress is more distant than ever. Protests from the South against the admission of most all the Southern members have been made.

It is reported that the Reconstruction Committee intend sending for many Southern leaders, both union and rebel, for the purpose of examining into the condition of the Southern States.

Private advices state that the Tennessee Legislature will immediately confer equal civil rights upon the freedmen.

The trial of the Alexandria rioters is progressing. Colored witnesses are admitted to the same privileges as the whites in taking the testimony.

The President declined to receive on Saturday the immense crowds who thronged the Executive mansion.

Washington correspondence speaks in a somewhat positive tone respecting the prospects of an early withdrawal of the French troops from Mexico. It is said the Government had a full understanding with Napoleon on this point before the close of the late war.

Senator Wilson's resolution of inquiry into the patronage given to opposition presses of Washington, has prompted the Secretary of War to order a discontinuance of the advertising of his department in the National Intelligencer and Constitutional Union.

A GREAT MISTAKE.—The San Antonio Herald of the 3d inst. says it was mistaken in reporting the arrival of Juarez from El Paso, and that it was Ortega who came.

FROM THE SOUTH.—The Alexandria (La.) Democrat publishes a letter from Gen. W. T. Sherman to a friend in the Rapides parish, in which he contradicts the general impression that his appointment as Superintendent of the Louisiana Military Academy at Alexandria before the war was due to Bragg or Beauregard. He also controverts the impression that when he left Louisiana he was pledged not to enter service against the South. He did say at Alexandria that war would be the inevitable result of secession, and at New Orleans, on the eve of his departure for St. Louis, he might have said to Bragg that he was not going North to seek military service, which was true. He refused to enter the volunteer force first called out by President Lincoln, because he considerd that the whole South would become involved in a war which could only be handled by vast armies of regular soldiers. Gen. Sherman concludes as follows: "I wish the South well, and if I have been a scourge, then how much better that it was I than Ben. Butler, or some other of that school."

Gen. Sheridan, in reply to a letter in the New York News from Gen. Early, contradicting the United States official reports of the Confederate forces and losses in the Shenandoah Valley, has published a letter in the Crescent City, showing that he captured as prisoners more men than Early states to have been his entire force.

The Adjutant General of Mississippi has revoked the order to disarm the negroes, the apprehended danger having passed over.

WHAT GEN. GRANT SAYS.—It may be stated with reference to the recent dispatch to the Mobile Advertiser touching the withdrawal of the troops from Alabama and Georgia, that in acting upon the application of Governor Parsons to withdraw them from the former State and to arm the local militia, Lieut. Gen. Grant has made the following reply:

For the present, and until there is full security for equitably maintaining the rights and safety of all classes of citizens in the States lately in rebellion, I would not recommend the withdrawal of the United States troops from them. The number of interior garrisons might be reduced, but a movable force sufficient to secure tranquility should be retained. While such a force is retained in the South, I doubt the propriety of putting arms in the hands of the militia.

AMERICAN FRENCH TRADE. — The Courrier des Havre says that the commercial relations between that port and the United States have recovered an extraordinary activity. From the 15th to the 17th of December five steamships had left, or were about to leave, for America, with over 5000 tons of goods. The terminus of the Havre railway is encumbered with merchandise brought every day from Paris. On the 17th, the eve of the departure of the Arago and Niagara, the scene was more active than any which had been witnessed for the last six years.

BRIG. GEN. WM. GATES,

Now commanding at this post, is, we believe, the oldest officer in the service, the date of his original entry being March 6, 1806, so that he has nearly completed a half century in the military employ of his country. He has the honor of being the first cadet ever at West Point, and during his long career has been an actor in many a scene of interest of which the public are not informed. Below we append a communication relative to one of these:

YANKEE ENTERPRISE, OR CIVIL ENGINEERING IN MEXICO.—The sciences and arts of military engineering in the field, are pretty well understood by many of the principal commanders of our armies, and on all ordinary occasions, those sciences and arts have been put into active exercise and the best results obtained. For instance; we learn that in the daring and extraordinary march of Gen. W. T. Sherman, through the long and perilous passes of Georgia, and more especially through the swamps, low grounds, and over the rapid and swollen streams of South Carolina, most difficult and almost impassable obstacles were encountered and overcome, and the army retarded in its onward movement but a short period of time, to the utter astonishment and dismay of the opposing rebel forces. But it remained for the commander of the American troops at Tampico, Mexico, in 1848—to display his tact in a novel enterprise, which has not been laid down in any of the volumes upon civil engineering at our military school—but which originated in the mind of the commander,—himself a graduate at West Point—who happened one day to take a row in a small boat, and pass up the river Panuco, into a shallow lagoon about four miles west of Tampico, which lagoon was about two miles long and a mile wide, with a narrow channel in the centre, of five or six feet of water at high tide, on the north side of which there was a flat, the depth of water there being, on an average, three and a half feet. Leading into this lagoon, there were four or five small inlets—like the famous Ganges, on a small scale. These inlets or outlets were then only sufficiently wide and deep to admit Canoes, and through it they were continually passing into the river Tamasee, a stream of 110 miles in length and a quarter of a mile broad, with a depth of water from 15 to 20 feet.

It was said that this river had never been opened at its mouth for the navigation of any craft but Canoes, and that at least fifty of them had been required for the transportation of merchandize of all sorts, whereupon, the said commander at once conceived a project, of opening. One of these mouths or channels, so that larger crafts might be introduced and the commerce and navigation greatly improved. On his return to his headquarters he sent for his quartermaster, and carefully instructed him to order a propeller prepared to commence the work. Forty men were detailed to assist—the propeller selected drew 5 1-2 feet of water and was ninety tons burthen. Her coal was thrown into a scow alongside—the ballast taken out, and all things removed that could be spared, so that her draft became 4 1-2 feet, while the depth of this lagoon at high tide was but 3 1-2 feet.

The operation was commenced by running the propeller stern foremost on the flat, half a mile from the outlets. Setting the flanges in motion, the steamer passed onward, digging out the mud as she proceeded. Again she returned, and again she passed inward through the trench made before. For twenty-five days and nights (only at high tides) this work was persevered in, until the flat was well excavated to the largest of the mouths of the inlets, after which the passage was entered by the same proceedings and the steamer, stern foremost, entered the river and passed up ten or twelve miles. Returning, she slided out into the lagoon, and triumphantly proceeded to Tampico—where her commander reported to the Commanding officer, the success of the tedious enterprise.

On the following day, the commanding officer with a large party of foreign merchants and other guests, resolved to take a trip up the Tamasee. They left Tampico, colors flying, with a charming band of music playing peaceful airs as the steamer plowed her way through the new channel and rapidly steamed up one of the most beautiful rivers to be seen in any country. One hundred and ten miles were passed without an obstacle be seen in the whole distance to stay her progress, until she reached the Mexican depot, or landing place, where the party were entertained by the Seniors of the Haciendas, in the kindest manner. The band contributing largely to repay them with cheering, appropriate airs.

The next day the party returned, rejoicing that they had enjoyed a most pleasing and noble trip up a beautiful river where no vessel had ever been seen before. The English Consul and other foreign gentlemen, expressed their high commendations of the experiment in digging passages for propellers through a channel of mud, nearly a mile in extent.

The result of this experiment was seen in the increase of the revenue at Tampico in the next quarter, which increase amounted to $240,000,—and which sum, went into the Treasury of the United States with appropriate remarks. A survey of the said river being nicely sketched, was enclosed to the Honorable Secretary of War, who became highly pleased with the report and particularly with that part of it touching the augmentation of the revenue—without any deduction to cover voluntary expenses.

NEW ENGLAND.

For the Chronicle.

OF-FISH-ALL.—I thought I would drop you a line, (said the fisherman to the fish) to let you know how glad we should all be to see you up here at our little cabin, that we may catch a sound of your tongue and get a nice tail from you. I offer you a small bet (bait), which I hope you will take, as your chances to win will be on the rise.

Your line reached me just as I was entering school; and I had no sooner accepted your bait, than I felt myself as it were irresistibly drawn towards you. For I can candidly say that my attachment to you is very strong, and I am following a straight line towards you; not, however, travelling on my own hook, for I expect my fare will will be paid on my arrival at the mountings. Some of my friends are apprehensive that I may be taken in, and others have hinted that I get into a stew or a broil, by forming acquaintances with those so far above me; but I have no fears of not meeting with a warm reception, and being kindly treated with the fat of the land.

☞ On Sunday, in the cold northwest gale, the bark Fredonia, Capt. Burke, from Fayal, Dec. 13, reached Boston with the crew and passengers of the emigrant ship Gratitude,—over three hundred in number. Capt. Burke reports that on the 1st of January, while in latitude 41.30, longitude 53, he fell in with the packet ship Gratitude, Capt. McStoker, from Liverpool, Nov. 19, for Norfolk, in distress, and leaking badly; that he laid by her three days before he could rescue the crew, 33 in number, and 273 steerage passengers. And further, that in order to accommodate them he was obliged to throw overboard all the cargo between the decks of the Fredonia, and that since that time until his arrival in port, his stock of provisions would only admit of an allowance of half a pint of water and a single biscuit, each day to a passenger. The captain of the bark did all he could for the poor creatures; but his vessel is small, and they suffered from cold and hunger. The Herald says, "Many of the passengers, we learn, have had a doubly stormy passage in reaching this country, a portion of them having started for America in September, experienced a wreck, and returned to land, whence they started in the Gratitude." The Boston merchants, citizens, and authorities are trying to make them comfortable.

☞ The Boston Herald states that "on Saturday evening one of our highly respected citizens was found lying in the street in a helpless state of intoxication, and when searched, there was found on his person $1780 in gold and $15 in bank bills." The paper don't say whether the man was a fanatic and pretended temperance man, or not. But probably he was not, but rather one of those moderate drinkers who can take care of themselves.

FROM MEXICO.—Official intelligence from Chihuahua up to Dec. 8 has been received. President Juarez, instead of being at San Antonio, Texas, as represented, is quiet at Chihuahua. He writes to a friend as follows:—

"The commanding officers of these States (the frontier States) and political leaders have all expressed their approval of the extension of my term, and I have reason to believe that the same will happen in the other States of the Republic."

The French, it seems, had sent another expedition to Chihuahua. Should this be in great force, the Mexican government will abandon that city and go to some other convenient point of the Republic.

THE BOSTON CULTIVATOR, inaugurated in 1839, by the present proprietor, is the oldest and most thoroughly established agricultural and family publication in New England or elsewhere, and one of the best among all the nice farmers' papers. Subscription price $3 per annum, payable within the year.

MISAPPREHENSION.—Common taters, said Mrs. Partington, after the preacher had ended his sermon—he having alluded to some commentators of the good book—common taters, she continued, well all sorts of taters this year are poor enough, but what has that to do with the gospel? Not half so much as the J. Monroe Taylor Gold Medal Soap has, for that will make the outside of the platter clean if not the inside, besides it keeps folks from scolding or complaining; it is the best soap and needs no revival. 38

— The Hartford Press says: "A ragged little fellow was seen skating on one of our ponds lately without shoes or stockings, his skates being strapped upon his bare feet, who said it was jolly good fun, and that his feet were warm enough if he kept on skating."

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,

No. 39 Congress St., Portsmouth, N. H.,

—DEALERS IN—

S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is so simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that, when not in motion, they allow all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

☞ Manufactured by S. VANCE & CO., No. 31 Liberty Street, Newburyport, and for sale in Portsmouth by the Sole Agents for N. H.,

ISRAEL MARDEN & CO.,
39 Congress Street.

☞ We are permitted to refer to Mr. MONROE HOLMES and to Mr. FRANK W. MILLER of the Daily Chronicle, who have these new Pumps in use on their premises,—for testimony their experience.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liverspot,) and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either and any preparation which will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. DR. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a specialty, has discovered a remedy for these discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible and harmless.

Prepared by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists; price $2 per bottle. Call for PERRY'S MOTH & FRECKLE LOTION.

☞ Monday morning the ball was raised at the Navy Yard, for the second time since the beginning of the rebellion. At the Rockingham Mills in this city the pipes in one of the rooms were burst by freezing, temporarily throwing nearly fifty hands out of employment.

☞ Portland and Boston papers are sparring with each other over "frozen harbors," but between them the noble Piscataqua rolls to sea through Portsmouth harbor, unobstructed by ice.

☞ The U. S. Service Magazine for January begins a new volume. It contains a fine portrait of Gen. Thomas, and is filled with interesting reading matter. Published by C. B. Richardson, New York, at $5 per year.

— It has been decided by the Court of Queen's Bench, in Dublin, that a clergyman of the Church of England can legally marry himself.

— On Saturday morning last, Mrs. Cobb, wife of Rev. Sylvanus Cobb, slipped and fell down a flight of stone steps, at her residence in East Boston. Her shoulder was dislocated and her face bruised.

— All volunteer officers in the Freedmen's Bureau in Virginia, have been ordered to join their commands for muster-out. Their places will be filled by details from the Veteran Reserves.

— An advocate of Colmar, France, lately left a legacy of $20,000 to the lunatic asylum of that town. "I earned this money," his will states, "by the patronage of those who go to law; my present gift is but a restitution."

— An exchange gives reasons for not publishing a poetical effusion as follows: "The rythm sounds like pumpkins rolling over a barn floor, while some lines appear to have been measured with a yard-stick and others with a ten-foot pole."

— An ice house at Lyons Falls, N. Y., built twenty years ago, has never been empty, and yet has never had a pound of ice put into it. To fill it a rose jet is placed on a water pipe and turned into the house, the water freezing as it falls, forming one mass of ice.

— The sons of Mr. William Johnson, brother of the President, have published a letter confirming the reports that their father, who was accidentally injured by the discharge of his own gun, died for want of surgical treatment, the rebel surgeons of the vicinity refusing to render any assistance on the ground that Mr. Johnson was a brother of the President.

— A Washington dispatch says Saturday night a box was left at the door of Senator Sumner's private room, addressed to him and containing a finger cut from the hand of a negro, wrapped in a note calling the Senator by an obscene name, and stating that the writer sends him a piece of one of his friends, and "if that bill of yours passes I will have a piece of you."

— The New Haven Journal says that on Thursday the man who tends the railroad draw at Cosceb bridge found, a short distance west of the bridge, a canvas bag containing $5000 in gold. The bag had fastened to it one of the Adams Express Company's tags, marked $5000. He also found the padlock that the thieves had wrenched off from the outside door of the car.

— The assertion of a Mobile paper that Gen. Thomas had assured the Governor of Alabama that all the troops would be withdrawn, and the State militia furnished with arms by the General Government, is not credited in military quarters. A few troops only have been discharged in Virginia, and this fact it is said gave rise to the report that the whole of them had been ordered to be mustered out.

— A private letter from a trustworthy source has been received from Paris stating that the legislative bodies of the French empire will assemble about the 18th inst., and that the Emperor in his opening address, will express most amicable and pacific sentiment toward the United States, and, unless in the meanwhile the relations of the two countries become hostile by menaces on the question of honor, will promise to evacuate Mexico as promptly as practicable.

GERMAN LABORERS IN LOUISIANA.—The New Orleans Picayune states that one hundred German immigrants, who lately arrived there from New York, have made engagements with a planter in Tensas parish. Their wages for the first year are to be $150, in addition to which they are to be supplied with food, medicines and medical assistance, comfortable quarters and blankets. Their clothing and other wants they are to supply themselves. For the second year, instead of specific wages, they are to have an interest in the crop, their shares being apportioned to them according to the ascertained value of their services. By the end of the second year it is expected they will be able to lease and carry on small freeholds on their own account.

CURIOUS LAW.—Law and justice do not always travel hand in hand. A man who was guilty of a great crime near Albany, N. Y., has been all the time at liberty on bail, and finally escaped altogether, while his victim was kept in prison from May until January—eight months—as a witness. The person wronged was a poor Irish girl, with no friends, while the scoundrel who was allowed to escape was rich and influential.

Wanted,

A middle-aged AMERICAN WOMAN of good habits and used to children, to do general housework in a small family. To any one desirous of having a good home and permanent employment at a fair compensation, a good opportunity is offered. Special Notice.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is a tell tale and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and final close. MAGOUN'S BLOOD DYSPEPTIC AND DIARRHŒA PILLS cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin, MAGOUN'S SALVE is infallible. Sold by J. MAGGIEL, 43 Fulton street, New York, and all Druggists, at 25 cents per box. decdeod& wly

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Traveling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies and fleets, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different rebel prisons; his escape, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning the war, in addition to those already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, derived from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, than does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

COTTON PLANTATIONS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. To raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where our purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men will ever presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the south under Northern auspices

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations, until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the country.

☞ Since ingenuity is almost exhausted for new announcements in marriage notices, we copy the following from a New Zealand paper, as a print to those desiring a new sensation:

On the 17th October, at Violet Grove, Royal Terrace, Dunedin, Violet Pollock, aged 17 years, eldest daughter of John Logan, Esq. The funeral will take place on Friday, the 20th of October, at one o'clock afternoon. Friends are invited to attend. No cards.

APPLES.—The Rutland Herald says the apple dealers' gains in Vermont, as everywhere else, prove much smaller than was anticipated earlier in the season. There is now a larger quantity of apples at Brattleboro' than was ever known before. Prices have come down to $5 per barrel, a decline of $2 50 from the highest price.

At an auction of apples at Springfield, Mass., on Saturday, the lots are reported to have sold well at prices ranging from $3.75 to $5.50 per barrel. Good baldwins and greenings brought about $5 per barrel.

TEXAS.—The Galveston Bulletin of the 29th ult. says Gen. Gregory has returned from his second tour among the freedmen. He reports them contented and disposed to make contracts for the ensuing year. All the apprehended difficulty about labor is rapidly vanishing.

— A child weigeing two pounds was recently born in California. Health excellent.

— A. Hen was recently sent to State Prison in California, and the San Francisco Flag wonders if the Governor is going into the poultry business.

— A young lady with a prayer book in her hand, was knocked down by a misguided sled. When she got up she swore, much to the horror of a passing editor.

— Some scoundrels have robbed the Dallas (Oregon) small pox hospital of all its bedding and conveniences, and the people entertain great dread that the thieves may sell the articles and thus spread the disease.

SUFFERERS

From Dyspepsia

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT as a remedy for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the treatment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Cabiallo, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She commenced to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,

I am very respectfully yours,

S. D. C. HENRIQUER,

Merchant, Curacoa, S. A.

Vol. XXVII. PORTSMOUTH, N. H. WEDNESDAY, JAN. 16, 1866. No. 15.

The Chronicle.

Those who have been applicants for the release of Jefferson Davis and Clement C. Clay have been taken aback by the positive declaration of the Secretary of War, in his report to the President of Jan. 4, that Jefferson Davis is charged with the crime of inciting the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, and that C. C. Clay is charged with complicity in the murder of Mr. Lincoln. This is a repetition of the positive charge of conspiracy against Davis, made in the proclamation offering a reward for him, and there is doubtless evidence to sustain it, which will be made public at the proper time.—Perley.

— The warehouses of Antonio Maicas, at Matamoras, were burned on the 5th.—Eight lives were lost, and several persons injured.

— The only duel ever fought in Illinois was in 1820, between Alfonso Stewart and Wm. Bennett. Stewart was killed and Bennett was hung, and this ended dueling in that State.

— The Russian Invalide and the Moscow Gazette have received interesting intelligence from the Dobrudja. According to their accounts, some 80,000 Old Believers, who in former times sought refuge in Turkey from the oppression of their Orthodox countrymen, have expressed a wish to return to Russia.

— The Commissioner of the Freedmen's Bureau in Georgia reports to Gen. Howard that the negroes in that State exhibit great willingness to make contracts for next year, and that within the last few days quite a number of contracts have been made at rates varying from $12 to $15 per month, including board and lodging, for male hands.

AMERICAN AND FOREIGN PATENTS.
R. H. EDDY,
Solicitor of Patents,
Late Agent of the U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837,
78 State Street, opposite Kilby Street, BOSTON.
After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Bonds, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
The Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing Patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The Testimonials below given prove that NEW YORK MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents.
These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full collection of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington, to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse."
CHARLES MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.
"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and worthy, and more capable of putting their applications in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents
Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability in his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
JOHN TAGGART

VINELAND
FARM AND FRUIT LANDS,
In a mild and healthful climate. Thirty miles south of Philadelphia by Railroad, in New Jersey; on the same line of latitude as Baltimore, Md.
The soil is rich and productive, varying from a clay to a sandy loam, suitable for Wheat, Grass Corn, Tobacco, Fruits and Vegetables. This is a great fruit country. Five hundred Vineyards and Orchards have been planted out by experienced fruit-growers. Grapes, Peaches, Pears, &c., produce immense profits. Vineland is already one of the most beautiful places in the United States. The entire territory, consisting of fifty square miles of land, is laid out upon a general system of improvements. The land is only sold to actual settlers with provision for public adornment. The place, on account of its great beauty, as well as other advantages, has become the resort of people of taste. It has increased five thousand people within the past three years. Churches, Stores, Schools, Academies, Societies of Art and Learning, and other elements of refinement and culture have been introduced. Hundreds of people are constantly settling. Hundreds of new houses are being constructed. Price of farm land, twenty acre lots and upward, $25 per acre. Five and ten acre and Village lots for sale.
Fruit and Vegetables ripen earlier in this district than in any other locality north of Norfolk, Va. Improved places for sale.
Opening for all kinds of business. Lumber Yards, Manufactories, Foundries, Stores and the like; and Steam Power, with room, can be rented.
For persons who desire mild winters, a beautiful climate, and a good soil, in a country beautifully improved, abounding in fruits, and possessing all the elements of refinement, in the heart of civilization, it is worthy of a visit.
Letters answered, and the Vineland Rural, a paper giving full information, and containing Reports of Solon Robinson, sent to applicants.
Address CHAS. K. LANDIS, Vineland P. O., Landis Township, New Jersey.

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD.
DR. MAGGIEL'S
PILLS AND SALVE.
These Life-giving remedies are now, for the first time, given publicly to the world. For over a quarter of a century of private practice the ingredients in these
Life-giving Pills!
Have been used with the greatest success. Their mission is not only to prevent disease, but to cure. They counteract the various maladies by which the patient is suffering, and re-invigorate the failing system. To the aged and infirm a few doses of these valuable PILLS will prove to be
A Very Fountain of Youth,
For in every case they add new life and vitality, and restore the system to its youthful vigor and primitive state. To the young and middle aged, they will prove most invaluable, as a ready, specific, and sterling medicine. Here is a dream realized, that Ponce-de-Leon sought for three hundred years ago, and never found. He looked for a fountain that would restore the old to youth and make youth ever
AN ETERNAL SPRING!
It was left for this day and hour to realize the dream, and show, in one glorious fact, the magic that made it fair.
These Famous Remedies
Cannot stay the flight of years, but they can force back and hold aloof, diseases that might triumph over the aged and the young. Let none hesitate then, but seize the favorable opportunity that offers. When taken as prescribed—
FOR BILIOUS DISORDERS
Nothing can be more productive of cure than these Pills. Their almost magic influence is felt at once; and the usual concomitants of this most distressing disease are removed. These remedies are made from the purest
VEGETABLE COMPOUNDS.
They will not harm the most delicate female, and can be given with good effect in prescribed doses to the youngest child.
For Cutaneous Disorders
And all eruptions of the skin, the SALVE is most invaluable. It does not heal externally alone, but penetrates with the most searching effects to the very root of the evil.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 17, 1866.

INTERESTING WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The Evening Star says that all rumors of Secretary Stanton's poor health or contemplated resignation are pure canards.

The Boston Herald's correspondent says, Senator Wade pronounces the story of the attempt to assassinate him as nearly all imaginary. The man who is so crazy as to create all this talk proves to be a discharged employee from the Charlestown Navy Yard, as telegraphed you on Saturday.

Information has been received that the four men arrested in Anderson District, South Carolina, for the murder of three soldiers of the 13th Maine regiment, on the night of Oct. 7 last, are to be tried in Charleston before a military commission of which Major-General Devens is president. They were shot while guarding government cotton, and their bodies were afterwards thrown into the river. Large numbers of so-called best citizens of the district were engaged in the matter, and it is believed that the evidence brought out in this trial will result in further arrests.

Among the cadets just appointed to the Naval Academy is a boy named Wheeler, who was in the rebel army during the whole of the war, and was once caught as a spy and released on account of his youth, though he immediately afterwards returned to the rebel service. He was appointed by Representative Ritter of Kentucky, who rejected the application of the son of a Union general killed at the battle of Perryville. Senator Sherman asks Congress to turn the boy out of the academy, and pass a law preventing the apointment of any more of his antecedents.

Senator Dixon, in a view of numerous reports, authorizes the statement that he is no applicant for a Cabinet position, and would not except one if tendered to him, as he prefers his place in the Senate.

Associate Justice Field of the Supreme Court was the recipient, on Saturday, of a torpedo-like character, charged with three balls. He had no suspicion of its character, but fortunately opened it in such a manner that the wall of the room received the balls, apparently intended for his body.

IN THE U. S. SENATE, Jan. 15th, Mr. Wilson's bill for the re-organization of the army, with amendments, was re-committed to the Military Committee, as amended. It provides that the army shall hereafter consist of five regiments of artillery, twelve of cavalry and fifty-five of infantry. Ten of the latter shall be colored troops and eight of veteran reserves.

The bill to regulate the elective franchise in the District of Columbia was taken up, and on motion of Mr. Davis, who proposed to debate it, postponed until the 16th.

IN THE HOUSE.—An amendment to the Constitution, providing that the basis of representation and taxation shall be the whole number of citizens of the United States; but where colored persons are denied suffrage, such race shall be excluded from the basis, was introduced.

A resolution was passed that the Committee on Public Lands inquire into the healthfulness, convenience and location of the Presidential mansion, as to its suitableness for the family of the President, and if not suitable to report estimates for a suitable mansion in a proper locality.

A resolution was adopted—82 against 77—instructing the Judiciary Committee to inquire into the expediency of so amending the act relating to the test oath as to allow attorneys to practice without taking said oath.

☞ Nobody in the world makes a better or handsomer pleasure Wagon—the distinctive National Carriage of America—than Messrs. Brewster & Co., of Broome Street, New York. This is well known by all sporting or horsemen, as well in one part of the country as another. It is really a wonder how such very light and fragile-looking, gossamer wagons, do stand up under the severest trials, which would knock a horse-cart all to pieces.

These famous builders now call the attention of the riding public to a new Wagon Spring, which they call the "Woburn" Spring, constructed wholly of Hickory, and for which they claim superiority over all other springs in use, either for "rough-riding" or "speeding." Compared with the Elliptic Spring, it reduces the weight of a wagon twenty-five per cent. It rides easier and with greater steadiness, relieving the wheels and other parts of the vibratory motion usual in all other wagons. It cannot be broken or affected by rest or change of temperature. It is absolutely noiseless in action, and combines marvelous strength with great beauty of form, and is the only Spring combining the qualities desirable for pleasure-riding and speeding. Having given these Springs a thoroughly practical trial during the past season, they are now prepared to introduce them to the public, confident that they will add to the reputation for general excellence so long maintained by the Brewster Road Wagons.

RYE, Jan. 13, 1866.

The Congregational Levees, Wednesday and Thursday evenings of last week, was one of the most quiet (?) and orderly gatherings of which that celebrated personage, "the oldest inhabitant," has any recollection. The tangling of tongues at Babel was nothing compared to it. For two hours the practiced ear could detect about two hundred and seventy-six distinct notes of variable volume—the crescendo and dimenuendo of tumultuous uproar. During the lulls in the noisy storm, it is barely possible that the explosion of a torpedo or the bursting of a 15-inch shell might have attracted attention; but these occasions were like angels' visits, "few and far between"—the exception and not the rule. A large number of visitors from adjoining towns were present, who were unanimous in their praise (?) of our excellent police arrangements, and the beautiful order and gentlemanly decorum maintained throughout the evening. It was probably the most healthy audience ever convened. Certainly there could be no wasting away of the lungs, (except their wear and tear during the evening,) no collapsing of the windpipes—nor, in fact, any disarrangement of the noisy apparatus. Financially, we should judge that the Levee was a tolerable success; but the catables were sold outrageously cheap. No decent person would have found fault with double the price charged for the excellent pies and cakes that were sold at the tables. The music was good, the tableaux (we can't appreciate such things) passable, the oysters rich, and the ladies lovely. Altogether it was a popular gathering; for everybody could do precisely as they wished, provided they wished to be a little noisy.

The number of deaths during the year just closed was 30 in number—equaled but eight times in 62 years. The writer of this paragraph has a record of the deaths in Rye since Jan. 1st, 1803—since which time 1256 persons have died, or an average of a fraction over 20 annually. The greatest number in one year was 42, in 1803—the year of the throat distemper. The least 8, in 1814. From 1810 to 1820 there were 168 deaths; from 1820 to 1830, 201; from 1830 to 1840, 161; from 1840 to 1850, 181; from 1850 to 1860, 243; from 1860 to 1866, 164,—the past six years exhibiting a greater mortality than at any previous period. The last six years have been remarkable for the death of aged people. Within that time 73 persons have died over 50, 53 over 60, 35 over 70, 21 over 80, and 2 over 90. There are also living on the South road, within a mile and a half of each other, 15 persons upwards of 70 years of age, who have seen considerably more than the present population of the town carried to their last long homes. Since 1816 (the year of the "spotted fever,") the town has been remarkably exempt from epidemics, and the deaths have been such as occur in the natural course of events, although perhaps a larger number have died of consumption than in many of the adjoining towns.

For a month or two past the agricultural papers have contained a large number of "obituary" notices of deceased porkers of extreme youth and remarkable weight. That old Rye is not easily beaten in manufacturing pork, is evident from the facts herewith presented. A few weeks since Mr. Richard L. Locke slaughtered a pig about nine months old, that weighed when dressed 385 pounds. Mr. John O. Foss immediately followed suit with one weighing 408 pounds; and last week Mr. J. Disco Jennes beat the crowd by killing one ten months old, weighing 420 pounds. When these figures are equaled, we shall be ready to present another list.

Another new Hotel of large dimensions is to be immediately erected by Mr. J. C. Philbrick, who has already contracted for the lumber, and is ready to commence operations. He intends to open the House the coming season, which promises to be one of great business activity at the Beach.

Yours, BUGGINS.

A large portion of the American people are wholly unaware of the deleterious effects incident to the use of common Saleratus, thereby producing disease and destroying health. The highest perfection of art has been attained in the manufacture of Herrick Allen's Gold Medal Saleratus. Use one paper, and you will never have any other. It is a great ways ahead of soda to use with cream tartar. Try it. For sale by most of the Grocers and Druggists, and at wholesale by the trade generally. 3t6

ACCIDENT TO A RAILROAD CONDUCTOR.—Charles Bachelder, a conductor on the Eastern Railroad freight train, which left East Boston at 5 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, accidentally slipped from the cars, near Wenham station. The train was stopped and he was found in a senseless condition, taken to Hampton Falls and placed under the charge of a physician. It is thought that he is injured internally.

☞ To friends in Europe, Oceanics, Central and British America, and in nearly every part of our Republic—from the frozen regions of Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico—we are indebted for their kindly remembrance in the shape of newspaper favors.

NASHUA, N. H., Jan. 15.

Ed. Chronicle:—A day's leisure allows us to spend the Sabbath in this pretty city of Nashua, whose industry and enterprise are proverbial, despite her deserted streets and comparatively few stores. But Nashua has a large manufacturing interesting that the merely temporary visitor here, would not become acquainted with, except by special enquiry. The Nashua Iron Works, whose huge castings are excelled by no other foundry; the Lock Company which supplies the country with those indispensable adjuncts to our doors; the Jackson Mills and Nashua Manufacturing Company, whose gristings and cloths rank among the prime goods of all markets; the shops of Gage, Warner & Whitney, and others, whose machinery is second to none in use,—these are but a small part of the industrial energies of this city. Indeed, we had forgotten the largest in its special line, of any in New England. We refer to the cigar manufactory of H. J. Chapman, Esq. This is not a puff, (as you know your correspondent to be a strictly anti-tobacco young man) but is worthy a mention from its manufacturing importance. Mr. Chapman devotes his entire time and capital to the production of first quality cigars, having care of the largest warehouses in this State, and keeping an average stock of 300,000 cigars on hand, in addition to heavy lots of tobacco in the camp. No sweet-fern, mullain, plantain or cabbage enters into the composition of his brands, of whose excellence one can get an idea, when we state that they are standard in all the first hotels and stores. Connecticut and western Massachusetts have of late years given much of their agricultural productive industry to the culture of tobacco, which for the wrapping purposes of the manufacturer, has preference over Southern or Cuban leaf. Mr. Chapman's agents are constantly in the field, purchasing from the farmers, and he is building up an industry, of which Nashua may feel proud, and the general business community be interested in.

The well known literary and musical taste of Nashua, finds full gratification this winter, in the numerous lectures, concerts and select entertainments, so generally in vogue elsewhere. No city can boast a purer devotion to the beautiful, and artistic, and none impresses us more than this. H. H. H.

NEW HAMPSHIRE ITEMS.

—— On Saturday, 6th inst., a fire broke out in the tannery of John Hunton, Esq., in the village of Newport, and soon communicated with the grist mill of C. C. Shedd, Esq., adjoining—and from thence extended to the dwelling-house and barn of Mr. Shedd,—all which were entirely consumed.

— We learn that Rev. Henry A. Coit, D. D., of St. Paul's School, Concord, N. H., has declined the presidency of Trinity College, Hartford, Conn.

"Great oaks from little acorns grow." The worst diseases known to the human race spring from causes so small as to almost defy detection. The volumes of scientific lore that fill the tables and shelves of the medical fraternity only go to prove and elaborate these facts. Then guard yourselves while you may. The smallest pimple on the skin is self-life and indicator of disease. It may fade and die away from the surface of the body, but it will reach the vitals, perhaps, at last, and death be the result and indicator of disease. MAGOIT'S BILIOUS, DYSPEPTIC and DIARRHEA PILLS cure where all others fail. While for Burns, Scalds, Chilblains, Cuts, and all abrasions of the skin, MAGOIEN'S SALVE is infallible. Sold by J. S. Vance's Submerged Well PUMP.

This unsurpassable invention, now being first introduced, will, it is believed, supersede all other Well Pumps now in use.

ITS ADVANTAGES.

FIRST, SIMPLICITY.—This Pump is composed of but three parts, and is simple in its construction that any one can easily put it together.

SECOND, DURABILITY.—Its peculiar construction, and the fact that it is always submerged combine to make it the most durable of all Pumps yet invented.

THIRD, NEVER FREEZES.—The valves are so constructed that when not in motion, they sink low all the water above to pass down into the well, and thus prevent freezing.

FOURTH, POWER.—For the amount of power applied, this Pump excels anything known. It throws one-third part more water than ordinary pumps, and works so easily that even a child can pump without fatigue. It is in this way the greatest labor-saving pump now offered to the public.

FIFTH, IT IS INVALUABLE.—For a well pump it is invaluable, as all the iron which is submerged consists of but three small pieces, and these galvanized. It can in no way corrode, consequently it brings up pure water at every stroke.

SIXTH, CHEAPNESS.—This Pump is so made that it costs but a trifle, and is warranted to keep in use for years. No repairs at all are needed. It is very light, and thus the cost of transportation is very small.

Perry's Moth and Freckle Lotion.

☞ Chloasma, or Mothpatch, (also called Liver-crops), and Lentigo, or Freckles, are often very annoying, particularly to ladies of light complexion, for the discolored spots show more plainly on the face of a blonde than of a brunette; but they greatly mar the beauty of either and any preparation that will effectually remove them, without injuring the texture or color of the skin, is certainly a desideratum. Dr. B. C. PERRY, who has made diseases of the skin a speciality, has discovered a remedy for those discolorations, which is at once prompt, infallible, and harmless.

Prepared by B. C. PERRY, Dermatologist, No. 49 Bond Street, New York, and for sale by all druggists; price $2 per bottle. Call for PERRY'S MOTH AND FRECKLE LOTION.

DR. I. T. HENDERSON'S LETTER.

Farmville, Louisiana, March 8, 1860

DR. T. ALLCOCK,—Sir: I have been suffering under a severe attack of neuralgic disease of my bowels for years, with hypertrophy of the heart and have tried everything known to the practice of medicine from the very best M. D.'s: but truth prompts me to say that your plasters have given me more permanent relief than anything else I have used, and I believe will produce a perfect cure.

The counter-irritant effect of your plasters is produced in such a mild and gradual way, they so invigorate the circulation around the parts to which they are applied, and exert upon all nervous diseases such a great sedative influence, that I place them confidently at the head of every plaster now in use. Yours, very truly

☞ The Musical Convention at Exeter, last week, we learn passed off very pleasantly and with good success—a Rockingham County Musical Society being organized at the close. [We hope nobody will ever be called upon to pay three or four hundred dollars deficit, as the Treasurer and Director of the old County Society in Portsmouth was, a few years ago; and judging from the names connected with the new Exeter Society, we don't think they will.]

We regret being unable to accept the invitation to take part in this Musical Festival; and have no doubt that had there been sleighing, many of our citizens would have attended, at least for a day. We think we can promise the managers a good delegation from this city and vicinity, at their session next year.

Messrs. Wilder and Davenport, from Bangor, are reported to us by everybody as excellent conductors of such gatherings, which are among the most pleasant and enjoyable meetings possible. It was unfortunate that the conventions at Exeter and Concord were appointed (entirely by accident) in the same week.

☞ A man named Daniel Sanborn, of Kittery, employed in the blacksmiths' department at the Navy Yard, on Monday was discovered by ex-detective J. Horace Kent in the act of smuggling off the Yard thirty-five pounds of copper, in value about twenty dollars. Mr. Kent took the thief to the executive officer of the Yard, who ordered him into the custody of a marine guard. He was imprisoned at the barracks on Monday night, and on Tuesday, at noon, he was visited by Kent, who, by shrewdly questioning Sanborn, succeeded in learning from him the names of the parties concerned with him, as also the manner in which the business of copper stealing has been carried on by them for the past few weeks.

He stated that two persons named Fenton and Zarah, who keep a sort of boarding house at Kittery Foreside, induced him to procure this copper, on a promise of liberal remuneration; and he accordingly had conveyed off at different times large quantities. A search-warrant was procured, and altho' in detail everything was as Sanborn stated, yet no copper could be found. On Tuesday evening, the prisoner was delivered by Mr. Kent to the U. S. Marshal of Portland.

THE SNOW STORM began Monday morning, about as far south as Richmond, Va., and traveled slowly to the northward, reaching Portsmouth, N. H., early on Tuesday morning. The storm had a wide sweep, and covered a large portion of the country. There was good sleighing in Washington Monday night.

[Communication.]

SKATING.—Seeing an item in Monday's paper in regard to skating, allow me to suggest through your paper something upon that point. Skating has become of late years a great source of amusement, for both sexes, and while our young ladies seek pleasant and healthful exercise after being confined in a school room nearly all of the day, they need such exercise out in the cool bracing air, as much as they need the practice of gymnastics in the school room. Why cannot our citizens make an effort to keep the South Mill pond in such a condition that we may enjoy skating throughout the winter? In other cities they have men appointed to keep the ice clear from snow, and occasionally flooded when it comes cold enough to freeze. Why cannot we do the same here? It isn't because we have not money enough in Portsmouth to go ahead in this work; but the people will not take hold and lend a helping hand. Our city is far behind other places, for amusements for its inhabitants. The only public recreation for our young men is loafing upon our principal streets and in the doorways. Why cannot a committee be appointed to see that the South Pond is kept clear from snow and flooded on a cold nights? I mention the South Pond in particular, because it has better facilities for gaining admission to the ice than the other pond, is situated near the heart of the city, and protected from the cold bleak winds to which the other pond is exposed. At but very little expense it could be made as fine a skating Park as one could desire. "P." suggests that 25 or 30 boys could keep that pond clear from snow, and keep the skating good nearly all winter. It would be much harder work to watch the boys than it would to do it himself. Three men could do more work in one hour than fifty boys would do. Will not some one of our young men draw up a paper, call among our citizens and see if we cannot have one place of amusement for both old and young? T.

☞ Auction Sales of Dry Goods, &c., at Mr. Wendell's Store, each day and evening this week. See advertisement.

☞ The alarm of fire last Friday evening, was caused by the very singular and foolish proceeding of some person living on Eliot Neck, who as we are informed, set fire on his own premises to an acre or two of coarse grass in the evening, with the effect if not the design, of creating disturbance and alarm;—and the flames run so as to endanger some valuable buildings belonging to neighbors.

☞ Mr. Joshua J. Rand,—whose death we chronicle elsewhere—fell dead while standing in his doorway on Monday night. He partook of very hearty meal a short time before his death, altho' his health had been bad for a month past.

☞ At the Republican Councillor Convention, at Newmarket, Tuesday Jan. 16th, Hon. Horton D. Walker of this city was unanimously re-nominated for Councillor in the First District.

☞ The Serpent's Eggs advertised by Mr. Foster, are a great curiosity, even to scientific men, and astonishing to everybody who first sees the great snake which rises from one of these diminutive shells.—There has been much discussion about their containing poison, but the Boston manufacturers stoutly deny that there is any danger from those of their make.

— Gen. Sweeney was called to Washington on Monday, by a dispatch from the Secretary of War, and is assured that he will be restored to his position in the army.

THE SECRET SERVICE, THE FIELD, THE DUNGEON, AND THE ESCAPE.

By ALBERT D. RICHARDSON,

N. Y. Tribune Correspondent.

1,000 COPIES SELLING PER DAY!

The most interesting and exciting book ever published, embracing Mr. Richardson's unparalleled experience for four years. Travelling through the South in the secret service of The Tribune at the outbreak of the war, with our armies in front, both East and West, during the first two years of the Rebellion; his thrilling capture; his confinement for twenty months in seven different Rebel prisons; his daring, and almost miraculous journey by night of nearly 400 miles. It abounds in stirring events, and contains more of the fact, incident and romance of the war than any other work yet published.—Horace Greeley says of it:

"A great many books will yet be written concerning this war, in addition to the many already in print; but not one of them will give, within a similar compass, a clearer, fuller, more readable account, entirely from personal observation, of the nature, animus, purposes, tendencies, and instrumentalities of the Slaveholders' Rebellion, has does the unpretending narrative of Mr. Richardson."

Teachers, ladies, energetic young men, and especially returned and disabled officers and soldiers, in want of profitable employment, will find it particularly adapted to their condition.—Send for Circulars. Address

COTTON PLANTATIONS
FOR SALE.

We have for sale and ready for immediate occupancy some of the best cotton plantations in the very best cotton growing region of the south, with beautiful dwellings and all the buildings and machinery for cotton cultivation complete, and many with the laborers ready for work.—They will be sold with perfect titles for less than it cost to clear the land or erect the buildings.

Any of these plantations will pay for themselves and all expenses by a single crop, and must double in value within a year. For raise a crop the coming year, operations must be begun in January. To facilitate investments at once the company are prepared to purchase, manage and cultivate plantations for Northern owners without any charge to the purchaser, the expenses being paid from the net profits.

We also are prepared to negotiate for advances for growing cotton, giving a bottom mortgage with perfect title upon the entire plantation to secure the principal, and giving one-third net crop for the use of the money—the plantations being run under the supervision of our own agents, and cotton shipped to our order. These advances can be deposited with our agency in New York or Boston, and will be paid at maturity at the same place without expense.

Cotton at present prices will pay from 2 to 300 per cent on these investments, amply secured and perfectly safe.

We assure Northern men of perfect security in their persons and property in any locality where such purchases and investments may be made by us.

We believe no more favorable opportunity for investment for Northern men can be presented itself, and at the same time it will supply the necessities of the freedmen by furnishing them with remunerative employment, and will help inaugurate the experiment of free labor in the cotton fields of the South under Northern auspices.

Mortgages negotiated upon plantations for which 20 per cent. interest per annum will be paid absolutely, or one-third the net crop of cotton raised.

An agent of the Company will leave for the South on the 15th of January to make investments and attend to the selection and purchase of plantations; until which time he can be seen at the office of the New England Agency, No. 46 Washington St., Boston, Mass.

Send for lists of plantations and prices, in any desired locality. Send for circulars. Call for letters of introduction to our agents in all parts of the South.

BUILDING ON THE SAND.

'Tis well to work, 'Tis well to wed,
For so the world hath done,
Since myrtles grew, and roses blew,
And morning brought the sun.
But have a care, ye young and fair,
Be sure you pledge with truth;
Be certain that your love will wear
Beyond the days of youth!
For if you give not heart for heart,
As well as hand for hand,
You'll find you've played the silly part,
And built "upon the sand."

'Tis well to save. 'Tis well to have
A goodly store of gold,
And hoard enough of shining stuff,
For charity is cold.
But place not all your hope and trust
In what the deep mine brings;
We cannot live on yellow dust
Unmixed with purer things;
And he who piles up wealth alone
Will often have to stand
Beside his coffer chest, and own
'Tis "built upon the sand."

'Tis good to speak in kindly guise,
And soothe where we can;
Fair speech should bind the human mind,
And love link man to man.
But stay not at the golden words;
Let deeds with language dwell;
The one who pities starving birds,
Should scatter crumbs as well.
The mercy that is warm and true
Must lend a helping hand,
For those who talk, yet fail to do,
Not "build upon the sand."

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.—Mr. Wilson of Iowa, in his speech in Congress last Wednesday, said that 2549 black men marched from the District of Columbia in defense of the country. According to the census of 1860 there were 14,316 persons of color in the District, since which time the number has been increased. They owned $1,250,000 worth of real estate. Their church property is valued at $125,000. The twenty one churches are supported at a cost of $21,000. There are 4300 communicants, and the average church is 9000 persons. He also referred to the number of schools for colored persons, saying 4000 in the District could read and write; and he also alluded to their literary and charitable institutions.

— The Bishops of Cape Town, Graham's Town, and the Free State, had publicly pronounced that to join the communion of Dr. Colenso would be to separate from the communion of the Church of England, and recommend that the clergy should elect another bishop, the choice to be approved by the faithful laity.

READ! REFLECT!! ACT!!!

TARRANT & CO.

Gentlemen, I am a resident of Curacoa, and have often been disposed to write to you concerning the real value of your SELTZER APERIENT for indigestion and dyspepsia. I desire to express to you my sincere gratitude for the great benefit the SELTZER has done my wife.

For four or five years my wife has been sadly afflicted with Dyspepsia, and after being under the tre tment of several Doctors for two or three years, she was finally induced to seek the advice of a learned Physician, Doctor Calisalis, of Venezuela, who immediately treated her with your EFFERVESCENT SELTZER APERIENT. She began to improve at once and is now PERFECTLY WELL.

I feel it to be my duty for the good of humanity to make this statement, feeling that a medicine so valuable should be widely known.

Trusting that you will give this publicity, and repeating my earnest gratitude and thanks,
